Alita Wise And Eric Battey-Pratt Wed At Thornhill United April 3

A wedding of interest took place at Thornhill United Church April 3 when Alita Frances Wise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wise, Clarkehaven St., Thornhill, became the bride of Eric Peter Battey-Pratt, son of Mrs. H. McElwee of Polmero, Cornwall, England and the late Frank Peter Battey-Pratt.
The church was decorated for the occasion with pink and white spring flowers. Rev. A. I. Higgins performed the ceremony.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie overlaid with lace. The skirt fell in a modified bustle at the back and a lace bolero covered the strapless bodice. Her fingertip, tiered veil was of white tulle and was held by a large white rose.
The bride designed and made the bridal gown herself. She carried a cascade of white carnations and baby pink roses.
Her attendant was Miss Janet Alcock who wore a short, jacketed frock of rose peau de soie fashioned on simple lines. A single pink tulle rose formed her headpiece and she carried a nosegay of pink roses and white carnations.
Attending the groom was Michael McClew as best man. David Bare of Thornhill was the usher.
Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Four Winds. The bride's mother received wearing a gown of royal blue peau de soie with a tulle covered matching hat.
Out of town guests came from Sarnia, New York, Australia, England and Toronto.
For a wedding trip which is to include an extensive tour of the British Isles and the continent, the bride left wearing a navy blue boucle suit with white accessories. Upon their return, the young couple will reside in Kingston where the groom is on the staff of Queen's University.
Alita is a graduate of Thornhill Secondary School and attended Queen's University and the University of Toronto. Mr. Battey-Pratt is an archeologist and professor of mathematics. He is a graduate of the University of Toronto and also attended Oxford University.
