Easter In The Churches

All the Maple churches celebrated Easter with special services.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian there was a 10 a.m. service on Good Friday. Special Easter music included the anthem "Oh Sacred Head Now Wounded" sung by Mrs. Helen Cooper. "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord", The sermon, by Rev. B. F. Andrew was "The Cross According to St. John".

A Good Friday service was held at Maple United Church at 11 a.m.

The Easter Sunday service at 11 a.m. had special Easter music. The choir sang "The Day Is Done".

and Mrs. V. Cavanagh sang a solo "Oh Those That Tellest" from Handel's "Messiah".

Rev. R. Williams spoke to the congregation on the topic "The Good News".

Concord News

Brownie Camp

While we usually think of Richildaca as a summer day camp the Concord Brownies are going to make use of it for a weekend. May 14 to 16 will see all golden hand and golden ladder girls and the leaders deep in the activities which make a Brownie week holiday so interesting. Since Richildaca is not equipped with the kitchen facilities that some other camps have, girls are reminded to bring those utensils listed on the folders provided by Brown Own. Sleeping facilities also require a little extra equipment this time.

Neighbourhood Notes

Since I have been "living" at the hospital these days I can tell you more about what is going on up there than what's doing in Concord. I do know however that measles are still along well and I hope they continue to do so.

Zion Lutheran Church

On Palm Sunday, April 11, the congregation enjoyed the choir under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Peter, King City, singing the anthem "Good Christian Men Rejoice."

The regular monthly meeting of the church council took place April 13 at the church with ten members present. As is the usual procedure, the different committees of the council met at 7.45 p.m. until approximately 9.00 p.m. after which the council meeting got underway.

President of council, Earl Boechner, opened the meeting with scripture reading and prayer. This was followed by the secretary Harry Medensky reading the minutes of the March meeting. He also read current correspondence, one item of which was a notice of a meeting for the central district of the Eastern Canada Synod, to be held April 26 at Augsburg Lutheran Church, Brampton.

Reports from the various committees were then submitted as follows: property and finance report made by Roy Keffer, chairman; evangelism committee report made by Harry Medensky, chairman; stewardship report made by Bert Pabst; building survey committee report made by Earl Boechner. General church business was then discussed at length after which the meeting came to a close.

On Easter Sunday, the lovely white floral arrangement on the church altar was placed there by Barbara and Geoffrey Orr in memory of their father. The two traditional Easter lilies by the altar were placed there by Mrs. Thelma Guest, Concord and Mrs. Verna Keffer, Thornhill.

Congratulations on behalf of the congregation at Zion are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Grahman of Maple, on the birth of their second son at York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill April 16.

In approximately eight weeks, the 29th season of fun, learning and Christian fellowship will be here at Camp Edgewood, youth camp of the Lutheran Church in America, the realization of the dreams of those who wanted a fine summer camp for our church youth.

This year Edgewood will be presenting co-educational unit camping as set out by the board of parish education of the Lutheran Church in America. There will be three sep-

Mrs. C. A. Peeler of Woodbridge was re-elected recently as the Edgeley WI representative to the Maple Branch of the Cancer Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Summerfeldt are among those who are celebrating their wedding anniversaries this week.

Easter Weekend

In spite of the white, wintry-looking Easter Sunday, the condition of the elements did not seem to deter the annual display of spring finery. And the urge to visit friends was fulfilled as many folk, weary of the long winter, ventured forth through the snow on their rounds of "springtime" visits at the homes of friends and relatives. But one thing is certain: it will not be long before many will be coming to grips with spring fever, sulphur and molasses, the need to get out and rake up the winter's debris and enjoy the sounds of children at play.

A certain reminder that summer is close at hand in spite of the unseasonable weather, is the annual little chore that must be attended to on the last Sunday in April of each year—that of setting the clocks ahead one hour.

The Blue Painter Strikes Again

Jean Barnden of Maple, who last year had one of Richmond Hill Public Library's most successful art showings, will exhibit her work there again May 1 and 2.

One of the most distinctive features of Jean's show last year was the unusual shade of blue which she used in many of her paintings. This blue, which incidentally is called "Richmond Blue", was noticed and admired by many who viewed her show last year. Jean has again used this color in much of her new work which she will be displaying this year.

There will be approximately 40 paintings in the show, about 14 of them new. Some large works are included, the largest measuring five feet by two. Among last year's favorites on display again this year will be the study of four balloons tied to a piece of driftwood and her snowflakes.

Jean reports that she has been painting frantically and feels that she has achieved a greater depth and feeling in her new work.
