

Zion Lutheran Church

On Friday evening last at the parsonage, a delightful get acquainted social evening was enjoyed very much by some of our young couples in the congregation. Among those who were present enjoying the fun of the evening were, Jim and Diane Woodhouse, Geoffrey Orr and Valerie Kirykeus, Harry and Alma Bell, Phyllis Julien and Brian Peter, and Don Day and Karen Wood.

On April 21, the LCW met at the Thornhill home of Mrs. Verna Keffer for their regular meeting and twelve members along with Pastor Lange were present. Doing things a little differently this time, the business portion came first and this was opened with a prayer led by the LCW president Mrs. Verna Keffer, who after which accepted the previous meeting's minutes as read by the acting secretary Mrs. Elfreda Medenky.

The following reports were also made: faith and life report made by chairman Ruth Auger and outreach and fellowship report made by chairman Mrs. June Davidson. One item of business discussed was the coming third assembly meeting of the central district (Eastern Canada Synod) LCW to be held May 8 at Transfiguration Lutheran Church, Hamilton.

The business part then adjourned and the meeting turned over to Mrs. Ruth Auger. The members sang the hymn "Father of Mercies" after which everyone read together the hymn "Father In Thy Gracious Keeping". Pastor Lange then commenced the continuation of last month's topic "What Is A Christian's View Of Death?" He began by reading the scriptures Matthew 8, verses 18-22 and 1st Corinthians 15, verses 51-58. Some of the interesting points covered were: embalming, cremation, flowers at a funeral, gravestones, should you visit the grave.

At this time, colorful slides of Camp Edgewood Lutheran Summer Camp were shown to the ladies and proved very interesting and informative.

Tournaments Mark End Of Season For Maple Area Bowling Leagues

Vellore Ladies' Bowling League held its year end banquet April 23 at the Rivalda Restaurant in Weston. A cup and saucer was presented to each of the ladies. The winning team got extra gifts. They were Captain Frances Diceman, Nora Stephenson, Elsie Diceman, Jean Walsh, Phyllis Burbidge and Audrey Naylor.

The flowers gracing the church altar April 25 were placed there by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keffer of Thornhill. On behalf of the congregation, birthday greetings are extended to them both.

On behalf of her Sunday school teacher Mrs. Reta Moore and classmates, best wishes for a happy birthday are sent along to Debbie Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold K. Hansen, Concord. Debbie celebrated her sixth birthday April 26.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery from the congregation to Milton Berger, Willowdale, who was recently confined to Bethesda General Hospital, North York.

House Of Concord Reports On Its 6th Successful Year Of Operation

By RUTH KEFFER
A brief report on the sixth successful year of operation of the House of Concord was given by Major A. MacCorquodale at the recent annual dinner meeting of the house.

Major MacCorquodale paid tribute to the many professional and lay people who have given freely of their time and talents to the home. A. S. Elson retiring principal of Thornhill Secondary School was thanked for his interest in the boys and later in the evening was presented with a special award in appreciation of his efforts.

Special thanks were given also to N. G. "Jack" Bean of Concord whose firm Bemac Protective Coatings Limited played a major part in the construction of both the automobile service centre and the new building enclosing the swimming pool.

Dollar Goes Far In Court Matter

A dollar still goes a long way, a resident of River Drive Park in East Gwillimbury found out last week in magistrate's court.

For that was all that Alex Moffat was assessed by Magistrate Russell Pearce after he had been convicted of drinking liquor in a place other than a residence.

Mr. Moffat said he had been drinking, but on Bayview Avenue, not on Newkirk, and although the arresting officer, constable Robert Deighton had not observed him in the act, he admitted to him that he had.

Mr. Rogers was fined $15, plus costs of $7.50. Costs in Mr. Moffat's case amounted to $3.50.

Concord Socials

It may have been Easter vacation for most of us but the Brownies just kept on going. Brown Owl met at the church on Wednesday morning with the Golden Bar girls who played some games, passed tests, made a scrapbook and ate lunch.

The mother's group committee met at the home of Mrs. A. Scott, Highway 7, last Thursday evening. A grand total of five mothers were present, including two Guiders, the president of the mothers group, a prospective Guider and the hostess. Come now, ladies, there weren't THAT many children sick last week.

The banquet is to be held on May 26 at the House of Concord. Price is $1.50 per person. This includes a draw for a door prize. I know I'm kicking a dead horse in some cases, but it's most discouraging for those who have planned a meeting to see such a poor turnout.

Also on the sick list during Easter vacation was Ian McLean who waited until school was over down when practically no one shows up. Many of course did have other plans, but for others we can only assume that Guides and Brownies is just a glorified baby-sitting service, somewhere to send the girls to keep them out of mother's hair. I hope I'm wrong.

Garth and June Bowes took a short holiday recently and with children Ross and Judy drove to Lachine, Quebec, visiting June's sister Mrs. Tom Walker.

Bonnie and Ed Nuttall, Concord Avenue have a new addition to their family. On April 17 a 10½ pound boy arrived at York Central Hospital, a brother for Leslie. Bonnie and baby are now both home and well. Congratulations to the family. This is the first grandson for Ruth and Dick Nuttall and first great-grandson for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clarke.

Lisa Boron spent a couple of days during Easter vacation with her cousin Barbie Boron at Port Credit.

Two gals who were under the weather during vacation were Joyce Wade and Kathy Burlington. We hope whatever was bothering them has decided to go somewhere else, and that they are feeling a little better this week.

Also on the sick list during Easter vacation was Ian McLean who waited until school was over
