Help!!!

Coaches Needed

If you are interested in youngsters — if you have played and enjoyed softball — you can have an interesting summer coaching a team in the Richmond Hill Minor Ball Association.

Coaches are required for one midget team, five girls teams and two pee wee teams. Unless supervisors can be found for these teams they cannot possibly participate in this season's activities. This could mean close to 200 children will be deprived of the pleasure of playing ball this summer.

If you can help them, call Ralph Davis at 884-3796 for further information.

11,000 Pheasants To Be Released

11,000 pheasants, pouls and adults, will be released during the next three months for the benefit of pheasant hunters next fall, in various regulated townships in Lake Simcoe District, the Department of Lands and Forests announced this week.

Last year's open season provided hunters in the lower townships a fair bag throughout the season, it is reported. It is hoped that the introduction, this year, of a fair proportion of the total number released, as adult birds will again increase the hunters' bag. All released birds will be leg banded and the department is again asking that hunters take report their harvest to the local conservation officer or district office at Maple.

Lucky Fishermen Catching Trout

Brook trout were biting well last weekend in the Lake Simcoe district, conservation officers of the Department of Lands and Forests report. Good catches were recorded although the fish were a little slow in taking a bait.

Rainbow trout fishing was less successful, following subsidence of the spring run, but some fine specimens were captured in the Nottawasaga River and tributaries. One party of three fishermen reported taking 11 rainbow, averaging about six pounds, on opening day in the Boyne River.

Rain trout have been reported a lot closer to home. Numbers of them have been seen in the tributary of the Rouge River which cuts across Elgin Mills sideroad and the north-eastern section of Richmond Hill, before crossing Bayview and making its way through Markham Township.

May 8 was the opening date in the Lake Simcoe District for pike and pickerel fishermen and the majority of anglers could be found in the haunts of the larger lake varieties of fish. Port Severn and Cook's Bay areas produced limit catches of these species and similarly good success was reported in the vicinity of Washago, Sturgeon Bay and Wasaga.

For good family sport the perch are running well in Cook's Bay, Jersey River and Atherton Narrows where a full creel is pretty well assured.

Local Golf Champion For Ontario Tourney

BERT MACDONALD

The tournament is restricted to club champions from every member club of the Ontario Golf Association.

Organize New Power Squadron

By JIM IRVING

"You have the nucleus of a fine squadron and I can foresee where you can go places and do things," John Choppin, past chief commander of the Canadian Power Squadron, told the inaugural meeting of Richmond Hill Power Squadron held Wednesday evening of last week.

The squadron, which is the 91st to be formed in Canada, honored its 17 new members and their wives, with a banquet and dance at Richmond Inn.

In commending the Richmond Hill group for starting its own squadron, Commander Choppin traced the history of the national organization from its start in Windsor in 1936 to the granting of its charter in 1947 when it had 200 members.

The CPS now has 7,000 members and 91 squadrons all dedicated to the advancement of boating in Canada.

Members of Richmond Hill Power Squadron's first executive received their flags from their new commander, James Magee, in another brief ceremony at the inaugural dinner.

Also honored was Executive Officer Jim Richmond of North York and his wife, who were presented with gifts by Squadron Secretary Ronald W. May. Mr. May paid tribute to Mr. Richmond as the "man responsible for getting us underway."

Other members of the executive: training leader, Rex Brooks, Willowdale; treasurer, Donald Plaxton, Richmond Hill; first lieutenant, John W. S. Bonnell, Sidney Hunt, Fred Arent, Arthur W. Uren, Richmond Hill; Ross S. Jolliffe, Thornhill.

During the winter courses are conducted in piloting, seamanship, advanced piloting, junior navigation and navigation.

Throughout the courses, no matter how advanced they are, the importance of safety afloat, and the understanding of boats and their equipment is stressed. Piloting, which covers nautical terminology, safety and fire-fighting, is the first of the five courses, and is the one in which the Richmond Hill graduates received their certificates.

Besides increasing their knowledge about boats, the courses are designed to place the graduates in a position to obtain boating licenses, if and when they are required, a situation most boating men feel is not too far away.

Mr. Choppin told the new squadron that they were "morally obligated" to continue the courses each year.

"Your membership is not automatic on passing," the speaker said. "It is recommended through the governing board. It is always your duty to help officers of your squadron in any way called for.

"You have a great responsibility as well as an honor."

Mr. Choppin said that before the Richmond Hill squadron was formed, 10 men who were qualified in piloting, were needed. These were obtained from the North York squadron.

"It has been the unselfish work of men who wish to bring to their fellow boaters the benefits they've derived through membership in the Canadian Power Squadron," Mr. Choppin said.

In presenting the charter to James Magee of North York, who is the first commanding officer of the Richmond Hill group, Mr. Choppin told him that he came "well-equipped" to launch the new squadron and that he was "off to a good start."

Mr. Choppin also presented merit mark awards "for work and continuous work beyond the call of duty" to 12 members of CPS.

Topping the list was Harry Heptinstall, who received his sixth merit mark. These are awarded annually by the commander of CPS.

Others receiving the awards: Carol Brooks, Rex Brooks, Fred Arent, Jim Richmond, Herb Heptinstall, Tom Callaghan, third; J. Bruce Bickerton, third; George Davis, fifth; James Magee, fifth; Jim Pfaff, fifth; Sam Crump, fifth.

Bayview Secondary team came third in the 110-yards medley. Team members were: Norm Munroe, Chuck Joyce, Rick Bunston, Gary House and Downsview team set the pace at 2:10.3 in winning this one. Bayview boys had won the Frank Holbus race to qualify for this final.

17 Graduate Course

Handing out graduation certificates to the members of Richmond Hill Power Squadron presented a bit of a problem because the squadron was still unborn, stated District Commander Jack Phillips of Canadian Squadron.

Commander Phillips presented certificates to 17 graduates of the Richmond Hill group in piloting.

However, the group had its charter, he said and soon would be considered out of the embryo stage.

Receiving the certificates, gained from a winter course one night a week at Richmond Hill High School were 15 men and two women.

It was pointed out, however, that the certificates to the women were only to show their proficiency in the subject; they did not allow them membership in the squadron, or the right to vote.

Successful graduates were: Mrs. June May, Mrs. Elizabeth Skippon, John W. B. Bonnell, Donald Ian Forrester, Dixon Green, Alan A. Gresham, John D. Griffiths, Sidney J. Hunt, Kenneth H. Jennings, Ross S. Jolliffe, Donald McGee, Ronald W. May, Donald Plaxton, Richard B. F. Roehlitz, Ross H. Skippon, Arthur R. W. Uren, Jerry Waite.

Expect Radio Kids To Be Named N.Y. Champs

No word has been received by the CFGM Country Gentlemen yet about playoffs in the North York Hockey League. Since the local boys were unbeaten in this league and since the weather makes it very unlikely that further playoff games will be held, it appears that they may be declared this year's champions.

A banquet for these boys who won their zone championship is being planned for the near future to honor them for their good sportsmanship and winning ways.
