If your Dad is typical, he is grained, waxy and brushed usually in need of another pair of shoes — or two — in his wardrobe. Supple lightweight leather casuals that fit and feel like a second skin will surely be welcome.

Casual shoes in a variety of smart styles are hitting their fashion stride this year for wear during the leisure hours Dad enjoys, reports Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries of America.

Cameras To Delight Dad

Coming right in the midst of the travel and vacation season, Father's Day offers a built-in opportunity to gift Dad with something — or several things — that will help make that season more enjoyable for him.

Apparel, grooming aids, luggage, auto accessories — these and other ideas will undoubtedly be welcomed. There's still another gift category, however, that adds enjoyment to vacation time and goes on giving pleasure all year.

Consider photographic equipment for Dad. Cameras and their attendant accessories make great vacation companions, especially since they help to keep a lasting record of happy memories.

What's more, a new camera might be the first step to an absorbing hobby for Dad. Or, if he's already a camera fan, new photographic accessories and gadgets that he can try out this summer, when the family is vacationing or week-ending, will get his hearty approval on his day.

Dad need not be an advanced amateur photographer to enjoy the pleasures of picture-making. Automation is an important feature of many of the new cameras. Movie or still models in all price ranges now set exposures automatically.

Great for golfing Dads or any Dad on the move are jackets like this one. Washable, water-repellent, it has deep-cut pivot armholes for freedom of movement, trim-fitting elasticized hipline.

Little gift gives pride in presenting the family's gift to Dad, which might be, as suggested here, a fine watch. Jewelers have a wide selection to match Dad's tastes, needs.

These watches are the last word in styling and scientific ingenuity—they not only wind themselves, resist wind, water, dust, shock and magnetic fields, but some are powered electrically and electronically and have no winding mechanism.

To add elegance to his present watch, your jeweler has a wide selection of watch bands.

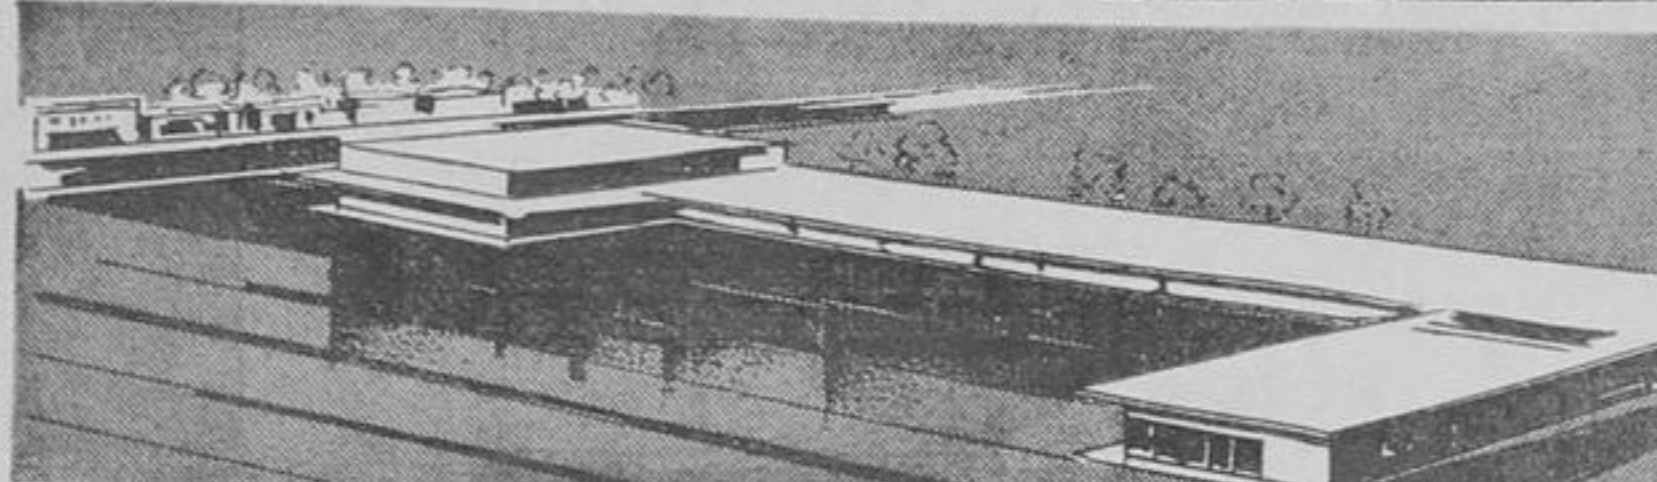

Rings have been growing in popularity among men to such an extent that jewelry stores carry wide assortment of rings, those marking schools, colleges and fraternal groups as well as signet rings. A birthstone ring will delight him as a meaningful gift.

Desk or pocket lighters, wallets, belt buckles, identification bracelets, pocket knives, cigarette holders, key chains and money clips are other top favorites.

For Dad's office a table lighter, a silver cigarette box or an impressive ash tray will strike a welcome note. For his personal use, desk clocks, picture frames, military brushes or silver handled clothes brushes are other lasting gifts.

Two gifts are better than one: a lightweight blazer, plus a camera for his picture-taking pleasure.
