

Police Charge Youths Lake Wilcox Trouble

Two Lake Wilcox residents and a Richmond Hill youth have been charged by Whitechurch Township Police with offences under the Liquor Control Act following two separate alterations at Lake Wilcox Saturday night.

Charged with having liquor in a place other than a residence were Raymond Robson, 18, of Markham Road; and Steven Emoff, 19, of Lake Wilcox.

Gordon Sutton, Lake Wilcox, faces a separate charge.

Sutton was apprehended by police about 10.30 pm, in a store in Lake Wilcox by Constables Ross Seeley and Don Hillock, who had a bench warrant for him.

After leaving the store, however, police said Sutton broke away and after a short chase was picked up by Hillock on Bayview Avenue, with the assistance of a resident of the area.

Earlier in the day a car owned by Sutton, sped away as the constables approached it to check it.

Several youths fled from the car and in the chase that followed, police picked up Robson and Emoff. A fight followed, in which Constable Hillock was knocked to the ground and then kicked.

Emoff was grabbed by Constable Seeley, while attempting to flee from the scene, police body welcome.

Markham Approves $50,000 Debentures On Centennial Park

Councillor Charles Hoover, who has protested Markham Township's Centennial Park project from the beginning, continued to show his disapproval Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of council when he voted against a by-law to provide for a $50,000 debenture toward the purchase price of the park site.

However, despite his stand, the by-law was given a third reading and passed by the rest of council.

The by-law called for debentures to be sold at not less than $50, with an interest of 5 3/4 per cent per annum.

Reeve Charles Hooper suggested the amount be changed to read not less than $100, but Mr. Hoover objected.

"I took the stand that I wasn't in favor of the park and I see no reason to change my mind," he said.

Councillor Allan Sumner said that that wasn't the point, it was merely to change the amount of the debenture shares.

The reeve's suggestion was put into a motion and was carried by council, along with the by-law, with only Mr. Hoover voting against it.

Council also was informed by Engineer Dusan Miklas that an underpass for pedestrians and a walkway between lots was being considered for a proposed subdivision on the Heintzman Farm property south of the Holy Cross Cemetery on Yonge Street in Langstaff.

Mr. Miklas outlined the plan after council had received a request from John Honsberger, chairman of the York Central and District High School Board for an overhead to assist children who might be attending schools on either side of the railroad.

Agreed to a request from Canadian Steelcase Company to name a proposed service road just north of its property on Don Mills Road, "Steelcase Drive."

The company recently started construction on its new office furniture manufacturing plant in Don Mills Industrial Park, and is expected to complete it by January of next year.

Agreed to increase the salary of P. Boles, engineering assistant, by $400 to $6,195 per annum on the recommendation of Mr. Miklas.

Convention Report

Stress The Importance Of Community Colleges

The importance of community colleges as post-secondary school centres was stressed by Dr. Harold Braun, principal of Lakehead University, in an address to the 46th annual convention of the Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees' Association at Fort William last month.

A report of the convention was presented by Richmond Hill Public School Board Vice-Chairman Deena Simpson at its meeting Thursday of last week. Mrs. Simpson and Trustees Andrew Hutcheson and David Stephenson were delegates to the four-day meeting.

The Lakehead College, which has courses in the arts, science and technology, is the closest thing to a community college in the Province of Ontario, Mrs. Simpson said.

It is independent of the Department of Education and now extends to more than 300 acres, and has offered university courses to elementary school teachers leading to a BA, and to graduate nurses working for a Master of Nursing degree.

However, according to Dr. Braun, the primary function of a community college should not be to give university courses, but to complete secondary education and fill the gap in catering to the increasing number of students going on to higher education, where there is an increasing pressure to provide accommodation.

"It is estimated that there will be places of only 30 per cent of the population in the university age group by 1957," Dr. Braun said in his address. "Therefore, it would seem that the establishment of a community college is the ideal solution to this problem."

The question of salaries for teachers also came up for discussion in an address by Rev. R. D. MacDonald, chairman of the secondary and public school salary committees, Ontario School Trustees' Council.

Mr. MacDonald stressed that teachers should be paid the salaries "they deserve," and decried the system of "simmicks" such as fringe benefits, paid courses and retirement bonuses, as getting out of hand, Mrs. Simpson said.

He also predicted the salary MARKHAM: Four juveniles broke $435 worth of windows at Robinson School in a recent evening. Parents will be required to pay for the damages.

NORTH YORK: The board of education will investigate to see if any money spent on school buses can be saved by staggering of school hours.

KETTLEBY: Elected national president of the Jaycees, David Bachly will represent the Canadian organization at Sydney, Australia in November. He has been a Jaycee for nine years.

STOUFFVILLE: George Morden, 49, a native of Stouffville and resident on Tenth Street died suddenly at his home July 24. A rural mail carrier for many years, he is survived by his wife, the former Ella Slack, a son and a daughter.

AURORA: W. Stuart Mills, chairman of Aurora Planning Board died suddenly July 22, in his 71st year. A retired engineer, Mr. Mills had been chairman of the planning board for several years. He is survived by his wife and two sons.

inevitably upwards, and cautioned trustees to "beware of distortion" during salary negotiations with teachers. In an address on the "Change of Pattern of School Design," J. B. Wimbs, assistant director of the division of school planning and building research, Department of Education, said that school construction costs use within the community, so that such things as school libraries, pools, gyms and auditoriums would be available for year-round use, Mrs. Simpson said. Also addressing the convention were: Murray W. Babe, president of the association; Syl Apps, former NHL star, and chairman of the Ontario Government Select Committee on Youth; Douglas Fisher, NDP federal member for Port Arthur; Education Minister William Davis.
