Vaughan Council Briefs

Vaughan Council last week dealt with the following business:

Since the Maple Library will not be constructed within the term of the present council, council gave two readings to a by-law to authorize construction of that library at an estimated cost of $42,904. A portion of the cost, $12,904 will be raised in 1967 taxes. The by-law will not be submitted to the Ontario Municipal Board for approval prior to the final reading.

The balance of the $44,000 will be met by federal and provincial centennial grants and a grant of $10,000 from the Department of Education.

A by-law was passed approving the subdivision of lots 71, 72 and 73, plan 1999, the property of Beverley R. Hook at the corner of Bathurst and Oxford Streets was given three readings and passed.

It was noted that this application does not increase the number of lots now owned by Mr. Hook, but creates new lots of a more desirable proportion of length to width, which should prove beneficial to development of the area. The Committee of Adjustment's consent will permit Mr. Hook to sell parcels A and B with payment to the municipality of $600.

Relocation of a large cut stone structure at the entrance of M. Kaplansky's property on the White Schoolhouse Side-road, was approved at a cost of $1,191.

Council accepted a recommendation of its road committee that a driveway be constructed for E. Faehman, owner of property on the south side of Elder Mills Sideroad, where road construction is underway, with one point of access west of the gate giving the best possible grade, but without bringing point of access closer to the bridge than 100 feet.

Council passed a by-law requiring the same requirements on Highway 7 as on Keele Street for the Witney property at that corner purchased recently by the township for industrial development. The planning and building committee had recommended the by-law after noting the requirements for construction of industrial buildings along Keele Street, as set by Area By-Law 2961 are more stringent as to setbacks, limited access, architectural treatment, etc., than for interior roads in the industrial subdivision.

On the recommendation of Acting Chief Constable James Davidson, Police Cadets William Hill, Douglas Davies and Gerald Moth were appointed probationary constables effective September 6.

NEWMARKET: North York Humane Society informed council they will no longer be able to operate services in the municipality as their income does not meet their financial needs.

The appointment of Frederick J. Reynolds, B.A., M.Ed., as administrator of schools for retarded children has been announced by the special schools and services branch of the Ontario Department of Education. Mr. Reynolds will be responsible for the educational programs in the 90 day-schools operated by the local retarded children's education authorities, as well as planning and administering educational programs for retarded children in Ontario Hospital Schools at Cedar Springs, Orillia, Palmerston, Smiths Falls and the Children's Psychiatric Research Institute in London. The Department of Education has recently assumed responsibility for these programs from the Department of Health.

Mr. Reynolds has a wide experience in the field of education. He has been a teacher of retarded children, an itinerant auxiliary education teacher, a school principal, a summer school lecturer to teachers, and an inspector of special education for the department. He holds a B.A. from the University of Western Ontario, a Master of Education degree from the University of Toronto and a supervisor's certificate in auxiliary education.

Thornhaven School for Retarded Children in Richmond Hill is one of the day schools which will be Mr. Reynolds' responsibility. Under an amendment to the Schools Administration Act passed in 1964, an authority of six members was set up to administer the school, assuming its duties on January 1, 1965.

Two members were appointed by the local association and four by the council of Richmond Hill after consultation with the Councils of Vaughan and Markham Townships. They are: Chairman John O. Graham, 53 Vaughan Road and Westworth A. Dowell, 15 Vaughan Road, Richmond Hill's appointees; Edward Jennings, 396 Alencourt Crescent, Richmond Hill and Charles Herbner, 6 Michigan Drive, Willowdale, who are appointees of the York Central District Association; and Dr. Charles W. Birkett, 8 Welton Street, Maple. The sixth member, Pat Smith, appointee of town council, resigned early this summer because he was ed, and lost his licence for six months.

O'Reilly, who took the test at his own request, was involved in an accident in Woodbridge at Eighth Avenue and Pine Street, August 14.

Ugo Gentilini, Toronto, who was found having a beer with his picnic in Boyd Conservation Area, August 15, was fined $40 and costs of $7.50.

Magistrate Hollinrake said he was not acting as advocate for the accused, who was without counsel, but felt he had to go into several points about the case "because they trouble me."

Weatherbee was charged after Calvin Cook, 16, of 300 Skopit Road, Richmond Hill, was picked up by police for consuming liquor under age, and named Weatherbee as the one who had purchased the liquor — six beers and a bottle of rye. Cook was subsequently convicted.

In his defence, Weatherbee said he understood the liquor was to be for Cook's employer. He did not know Cook's age, nor did he even know him very well. He had responded to his call while passing the filling station where Cook worked.

Magistrate Hollinrake said it was sometimes the tendency of one charged with a liquor offence, such as Cook's, to feel he could get off lighter if he testified against the other person involved.

"I hope the time is fast approaching when legal aid is available to accused persons in quasi-criminal actions," said Mr. Hollinrake. "... A great responsibility is placed on the magistrate.

He said it was "dangerous" to convict on the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice.

Cook had counselled Weatherbee to commit an offence and the latter had explained it with a reason that could be consistent with the evidence of Cook, but not inconsistent with the explanation of buying it for the owner.

"It seems inconsistent that Cook, who barely knew him, would be able to ask him to do it," the magistrate said.

Eugene O'Reilly, Woodbridge, whose breathalyzer test showed 1.7 parts of alcohol per 1,000, was fined $150 on a charge of driving with his ability impaired.

EQUITY IN YOUR HOME CAN MEAN CASH IN YOUR HAND

That investment you have in your home is an asset in more ways than one. You qualify for the Associates' Home Owner's Loan Plan. Under this plan, you may borrow from $2,000 to $20,000 on the equity you've built up. The interest rate is reasonable. There are no hidden charges or obscure clauses. You completely repay the loan in equal monthly installments over a period of up to ten years. There are no "balance" or "balloon" payments. Interest is computed monthly on the unpaid balance. This means that each payment you make reduces the amount of interest you pay.

There are 101 reasons why you might need cash — financing a university education, buying a second car, remodeling your home. Keep the Associates' Home Owner's Plan in mind.
