

York North Election Machinery Ready — Enumerating Starts Monday

York North's Federal Returning Officer Warren Bailie is already in high gear organizing his work force for the third national election since he took office in 1962. He estimates there will be 58,016 residents of the riding, which includes all of York County except the portion of Markham and Vaughan Townships south of Highway 7 and the Village of Woodbridge, who will be eligible to vote in the November 8 election. There were 56,201 eligible voters in 1963, of whom 45,382 voted (including 298 service voters) or 80.74%.

Of the total, 43,088 are designated urban (41,673 in 1963) and 14,928 are designated rural (14,528 in 1963). There will be 245 polling divisions compared to 226 (eight of which were double polls) in 1963. The total is made up of 176 urban and 69 rural compared to 160 and 66 in 1963. There will be 10 advance polls this election, the same number as in 1963. In the 1963 election John Addison, Liberal, won the riding with 21,668 votes. Charles Hooper, Progressive Conservative, polled 14,488 votes; Stan Hall, New Democrat, polled 8,591 and John O'Brien, Social Credit, polled 330.

Enumeration of the estimated 58,016 eligible voters will start on September 20. In polling divisions designated rural one enumerator will be appointed by the returning officer to call at every home and list the names of every person eligible to vote in the election. These enumerators are selected from lists of suggested names presented to the returning officer.

In the urban polling divisions, the party whose candidate stood first in the immediately preceding election appoints one enumerator and a second is appointed by the party whose candidate received the second largest number of votes. Both enumerators call, together at every home and list the eligible voters, leaving a copy of the enumerating slip.

In rural areas when the complete list is prepared, a copy will be posted in a prominent place within the polling division, so that all persons may check it to be certain their names are included. Provision is made for a Court of Revision at which names which have been omitted may be added. In a rural polling division, persons whose names have been omitted may be vouched for and sworn in on election day.

In urban areas, after the enumerating is completed, the lists are sent to the printers and when printed one copy is mailed to each voter listed thereon, and an opportunity is given to have missed names added at a Court of Revision.

Mr. Bailie warns that these are completely new lists every election, so no person should take it for granted that his or her name will be included. A check should be made. Even the fact that you know you have been enumerated does not guarantee that your name will appear on the final list, as enumerators and printers can make errors and omissions.

The mailing of these lists is a job of major proportions — envelopes must be addressed and the list folded and stuffed into the envelopes in readiness for mailing. In the last election the U.C.W. of Maple United Church undertook this task and handled it very capably. Mr. Bailie is hopeful that they will be willing to tackle it again this time.

In addition Mr. Bailie will employ up to a maximum of eight persons in his office in his new home on Denham Drive in Richvale.

Mr. Bailie also appoints the deputy returning officers and poll clerks for each of the 245 polls which will be open on November 8. These he selects from lists of suggested persons submitted by the parties, in the same way as rural enumerators are selected. He will also be holding several meetings in various sections of the riding to instruct these officials in the proper method of performing their duties.

The returning officer also points out that an advance poll will be held in 10 locations in the riding on October 30 and November 1. Any eligible voter who has reason to believe that he or she will be absent from their normal voting place on election day, and election officials who will be serving in other than the poll at which they should vote, may take advantage of this advance poll. In fact, Mr. Bailie urges them to do so.

work a staff well trained in their duties and with an honest desire to serve the citizens of North York. He said the years in office (43 of them) had presented many problems and made great demands but as well they had brought many rewards, many friends and an appreciation of the splendid men and women who staff the department.

Dr. Hill gave many interesting statistics to show the remarkable growth of the area. In 1923 the school pupils numbered 1142 and in May 1965 the total was 83,843. The dental staff has grown from 1939 when the service was started with a staff comprising one dentist three mornings weekly serving five schools to the present time when the dental staff complement is 10 full time dentists and 28 part time dentists, 2 dental hygienists, 38 dental assistants and 3 dental clerks for a total of 81. In North York there are 90 schools with dental clinics (twice the number Toronto has) and more than any other municipality in North America. The department gave dental service in 1964 to 30,081 school dental pupils at a township per capita cost of .76c and since the institution of the service has over 1 million dental procedures, including 358,946 fillings. In the past twelve years 69,019 births have necessitated 30,000 home visits by public health nurses.

During his 43 years as MOH Dr. Hill has been active in many fields of public service. To list just a few he served as president of the Canadian Legion, first president of the Suburban Yonge Businessmen's Association, president of York County Medical Society, president of the Ontario Health Officers Association in 1936, president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario in 1952, honorary treasurer Ontario Medical Association 1941-1955, a life member of the Ontario Medical Association since 1964 and an honorary member Ontario Public Health Association in 1965. Recently he was honored by being made a Fellow of the Royal Society of Health.

"The Liberal" joins with his host of friends in York County in extending to Dr. Hill, one of Richmond Hill's most distinguished sons, sincere best wishes for many years of happy and healthful retirement.

OWRC Survey Indicates Vaughan Water Trouble

At Monday night's meeting of Vaughan Township Council the report of the waterworks committee included a brief resume of a lengthy water pollution survey of the township issued by the supervisor of sewage works of the Ontario Water Resources Commission.

The summary included eight recommendations of the OWRC arising out of the survey but the report of the waterworks committee made no recommendations about their implementation.

Included among the recommendations was that the township should locate and eliminate all discharges of polluting water to municipal storm sewers in Maple; that owners of malfunctioning septic tank and tile beds in Maple should contact York County Health Unit and take the necessary corrective action; that discharge of contaminating wastes from the tailrace formerly serving Hayhoe Pine Grove should be discontinued; that R. Burbridge should take steps to prevent discharge of polluting material from his piggery into a tributary of the east branch of the Humber River.

Also included in the summary was a recommendation that the township consider the development of a sanitary sewage works from Kleinburg Estates. (At the previous week's meeting sections of the survey were read by Township Clerk J. M. McDonald and the complete recommendation on this point was for a joint sewage disposal plant to serve Kleinburg, Pine Grove and Maple, all of which municipalities have been troubled with malfunctioning septic tanks.)

Chairman of the water committee Dalton McArthur seemed to feel there was nothing the township could do about sewage going into Maple storm sewers. Mr. McDonald stated that most of the storm sewers were on county roads and not under the control of the township.

Cost of a joint sewage treatment plant was said prohibitive at the September 7 meeting of council. For a report of this discussion see Page 14 of this issue of "The Liberal."

A recommendation that no liquid industrial wastes should be disposed of in the municipal or privately-owned dumps in the township was also included. This recommendation had been submitted to council earlier this summer and acted on by them.

Final recommendation was that the township should "continue to expand its water pollution control program."

Councillor S. D. Kaiser was perturbed that the waterworks committee report made no recommendations.

York North had 56,201 voters in the April 1963 federal election. The boundaries of the present riding were established prior to the 1953 federal election. York North extends from Highway 7 on the south to Lake Simcoe on the north and serves 13 municipalities. Once the long-awaited redistribution comes into effect the present riding will be split three ways. The major part of York North will go into the new rural riding of York Simcoe.
