Community Happenings In Thornhill

Thornhill residents welcome Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hofmann and their three sons Martin, Tony and Peter, who moved to Arnold Avenue recently from Don Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Roy Keffer, Idleswift Drive, returned recently from a holiday out to the west coast. The Keffers, with Mr. and Mrs. T. DeBoyce of Woodbridge, drove out to Vancouver, Kamloops, Gull Lake, Vemeer, and visited in Regina with Mrs. Keffer's brother. They visited many relatives out west and enjoyed the scenery and western hospitality.

Congratulations to Murray Henderson, Arnold Avenue, who was recently appointed as central Canadian sales manager of Joseph E. Seagram and Sons (Ontario) Limited. Born and educated in Toronto, he served as a flying officer with the RCAF and is a former member of the Boston Bruins NHL team.

The Scottish Country Dance classes held registration day on September 25 at the United Church and had a most successful turn out. The purpose of the program is to extend the activities of Christian education of the church by a happy participation in a traditional form of social folk dancing, enjoyed for generations by young and old.

Mrs. Jean Shelton is in charge of the program and teachers this year are Mrs. Lynn Jenkins, Mrs. Betty Thompson, Mrs. Lillias Deska and Mrs. Nat Hubbard.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs.

L. A. Hanson, Riverside Blvd., on the death of her husband Lawrence Hanson who died suddenly while on a business trip to Chicago September 23. Requiem mass was celebrated at St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church September 25.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Harley and their daughter, former residents of 27 John Street, have left for Chicago, Illinois where they will be residing for three years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker, Thornridge Drive, returned last week from a three week trip to Ireland. The Walkers were over last year and as they had enjoyed the trip so much decided to return again for their holidays this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker flew over via Air Canada and stayed at the Imperial Hotel, Cork. They visited Kinsale where the J. Arthur Rank Co. is building an immense hotel primarily for the sailing and fishing clientele. Mr. Walker again commented on the beauties of Ireland where the green fields and Irish flowers are a beautiful sight. Irish hospitality and the food served are marvellous, said Mr. Walker. He said he was amazed to see twelve cakes on the table one afternoon when they went out to tea. The Walkers found the Irish coffee delightful. This is served with hot milk and coarse brown sugar.

Get well greetings to Lynn Pate who was recently a patient in Sick Children's Hospital.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Wilson, Paul St. who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary September 25. Their daughter, Miss Dawn Wilson, gave an evening party in honor of her parents for friends and relatives.

Thornhill residents and many young people in the district were saddened to learn of the death of eighteen year old John Terence Townsend, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Townsend, John Street, and brother of Judith, who lost a battle with cancer on September 23 at the Princess Margaret Hospital.

John attended Thornhill Public School, Woodland Public School and was a student at Thornhill Secondary School. He first became ill in January and spent many months in and out of hospitals since that time. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. Evans at Thornhill Presbyterian Church on September 25. Interment was at Thornhill Cemetery.

Thornhill seniors chalked up their first victory of the season Wednesday by blanking Markham High School 7-0 at Markham. The seven points came as a result of a safety off the toe of Chris Graham in the first quarter and a six pointer off a plunge by Dave Reid in the fourth. Markham fumbled on its own 13 yard line in the dying seconds of the third quarter to set up the score. The entire Thornhill defensive squad was on the field for 70 percent of the game turned in strong efforts. Especially standing out in a two-way effort was Tom Minett.

INTERMEDIATE FOOTBALL

Markham jumped into an early 13-0 lead before Thornhill fought back on a 75-yard run by Keith Burton. The convert was made by Terry Moore. The two teams fought through a scoreless third quarter with Thornhill's Mike Stratton coming through in the final 15 minutes with a key interception. It set up an end sweep by Chris Zinkan from the three yard line for an unconverted six-pointer. Outstanding players for Thornhill were Chris Zinkan and Wally Stocking who played a strong defensive game.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

We said we'd first strengthen the economy and improve Canada's finances. Here's what we did:
1. Record 9% growth in Gross National Product in 1964. GNP forecast for 1965 is $51 billion, up another 9% over '64.
2. Canada's foreign exchange reserves of $2,648.7 millions highest in six years, up 30% since Tory days.
3. Bank of Canada now totally responsible only to parliament representing all Canadians.
4. Cut personal income taxes by 10% to stimulate retail trade and the economy generally.
5. Reduced the national budget deficit to only $37 million, lowest in 7 years. Deficits in Tory years hit $791 million high in '61/62.
6. Unemployment Insurance Fund in the black after a decade of deficits.

7. Established $400 million Municipal Development Loan Fund.
8. Set up $100 million Atlantic Development Board.
9. Established the Canada Economic Council.

We said we'd improve labour's lot. Here's what we did:
1. Established Canada's first Federal Labour Code: $1.25 minimum wage level, 40 hour week, 8 paid holidays.
2. Increased employment by creating 548,000 new jobs (we promised 250,000 per year).

Unemployment now at record low of 2.8% versus 7.2% under Tories.
3. Settled the Great Lakes dispute.

We said we'd develop new industries. Here's what we did:
1. Provided tax incentives resulting in establishment of new businesses, particularly in underdeveloped areas.
2. Established new Department of Industry.
3. Secured agreement leading to free trade in automobiles.

4. Establishing the Canada Development Corporation.

We said we'd honour our defence and foreign affairs commitments. Here's what we did:
1. Accepted commitments on defence, made by a Tory government but not honoured, and acquired defensive nuclear weapons even though the Liberal Party opposed these arrangements at the time they were made.
2. Integrated Canada's defence forces, improving both economy and efficiency.

3. Initiated a U.N. peace-keeping force in Cyprus.
4. Concluded terms permitting development of the Columbia River.
5. Restored Canada's standing and influence in NATO and in the United Nations.

We said we'd give the farm family a square deal. Here's what we did:
1. Improved farm credit, larger amounts and extended to machinery partnerships.
2. Negotiated record export sales of 594.5 million bushels of grain in '63/64, 700 million bushels this year.

3. A Federal Dairy Policy will provide an average $3.50 per cwt. for manufactured milk, equivalent to cream producers.

We said we'd provide opportunities for youth. Here's what we did:
1. Provided youth allowances of $10 a month to students 16 to 18.
2. Provided interest free loans to university students.
3. Expanded technical and vocational training. Federal government provided $215.8 million grants for education.

4. Established the Company of Young Canadians.

We said we'd encourage positive Canadianism. Here's what we did:
1. Gave Canada a distinctive flag recognizable the world over;
2. Secured national agreement on a formula for repatriating Canada's constitution, the first step toward Canadian parliamentary amendments to safeguard Confederation.

3. Established B & B Commission to find ways of strengthening Confederation.

We said we'd introduce policies of social progress. Here's what we did:
1. Established the Canada Pension Plan, portable across Canada.
2. Raised Old Age Security pensions to $75, to be available from age 65.
