Church News
The first of a series of teacher training for Sunday school teachers was held in Brown's Corner's Church School Sunday evening October 3.

Dr. A. F. Binnington spoke of the background of the Gospel of Mark and explained that the gospels were compiled rather than written. Because Mark does not mention the destruction of Jerusalem it is assumed that his book was put together just before 70 A.D. It was a period of persecution under Nero and Mark's gospel is often referred to as the Book of Courage for Fainting Hearts. By synoptic comparisons students agree that the gospels are a collection from oral tradition of the sayings and acts of Jesus. Seeking the source of the writings is a fascinating pursuit but authorship is very minor to the content of the gospels.

Following the open session the meeting divided into groups to study class problems from nursery to adult.

There was a good attendance at this first venture and it was unanimously agreed to continue and meet again the first Sunday in November in Headford Church. Headford teachers attending were Mrs. C. Lee, Mrs. D. Calder, Mrs. L. Guild and Mr. Doug Young.

Neighborhood Notes
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McMillan, New Brunswick are visiting with Mrs. McMillan's parents Mr. and Mrs. G. Barker.

Mrs. N. Brodie and Donald were guests at the Glassford-Meek wedding held October 2 in Burn's Presbyterian Church, Erin.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burton, during the weekend were Mrs. Burton's brother, Philip Lecouve and Mrs. Lecouve, Montreal. Mr. Lecouve was on business for his firm and his visit was necessarily interrupted but a family gathering was arranged at the home of another sister, Mrs. Harold Ross, Alliston.

Congratulations to Mrs. G. Barker who received seven firsts in flower arrangements at the Markham Fair and to Larry Burton whose work was part of a mural from grade 7, Area 3 Number 4 School, first prize.

A community supper will be held in Headford S.S. room October 8. This is the autumn Pot Luck Supper held for community fellowship. Come and bring your family and your supper and share in a family gathering. Time 7 - 7:30.

Toronto City Hall is 'fabulous' according to the Calder girls and in the opinion of the boys it is 'pretty neat' a vast understatement. The approach is beautiful and lifts one's heart in pride of engineering accomplishment. On Sunday tours were hourly but we decided to wait until the interior was completed. A view through the windows offered an enticing invitation to the comfortable library but the door was locked. It is indeed impressive and has an inviting warmth that is missed in pictures.

Neighborhood Notes
Markham Fair is over for another year, and a good one it was. Mrs. George Barker won her usual laurels in the horticultural classes, with at least four firsts in floral arrangement one of which was judged the best in show. The Buttonville WI took a third place in the Women's Institute exhibits, with their display on the York County Hosts the International Plowing Match theme. The Buttonville Branch of the YCHA manned the auxiliary's home baking booth in the main building on Friday afternoon; and the junior farmers were active also.

Mrs. George Kelly, Miss Cora Brodie and Mrs. James Rodick were all involved with planning the event, display, judging, etc. The one lack for this correspondent was the absence of vegetables and flowers. This year Mr. and Mrs. Pralet were holding in Great Britain during the summer, and last Friday when they were at the fair they were enjoying it from a spectator's viewpoint only.

Friends in the community were sorry to learn of the death of Jack Ash, at York County Hospital, Newmarket, last weekend. Mr. Ash was Marguerite Brown's husband, and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Douglas Hood and Mrs. Norman Reid. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Ash and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Gray returned from a western trip last weekend, and visited Mrs. S. J. English last Sunday.

Among other travellers returned from an autumn vacation to the west are Mr. and Mrs. John Wilkins and Mr. and Mrs. James Wolfe.

It was World Wide Communion day at Brown's Corners United last Sunday morning, and a good congregation was in attendance.

Rev. Dr. A. F. Binnington was in the pulpit, and welcomed two new members - Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hewitt, of John Street.

The youngest of the church attenders was Glen Edward Brown, sixteen-day old son of Harvey and Nancy Brown, who slept blissfully through the hour with nary a word out of him.

The magic words home baking usually make people perk to attention, so mark the date: October 15, the Brown's Corners Sunday school staff is sponsoring a bake sale at the church - out on the lawn, weather permitting.

The A. W. Millers are looking forward to the arrival this weekend of their daughter Velma, her husband Dr. Donald Otis, and daughter Rebecca of Colorado.

After years of debate, it now seems definite that Buttonville will have a watermain in the near future.

Pipe is being laid along Don Mills Road north of John Street at present, and will run to the northern limits of Lot 14 in Buttonville. The portion from John Street to the Rodick Lane will have a 12" main, and a six-inch main will serve the area further north.

Buttonville Post Office will be opened October 18, at Knob Hill Farm Market.

Local residents received official notice of this move last week, with the announcement that E. C. Wasitis will be the postmaster. Hours will be 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Monday to Saturday.

The district has been served by rural delivery from Gormley for many years, and a post office in the area will be a distinct advantage. However, the announcement states that all rural route service will be discontinued within a half-mile of the office. This, in a place where two very busy highways cross and there are no sidewalks, would seem to invite disaster. In many cases the man of the family is away with the family car from well before 9:00 a.m. until after the post-office closes at 6 p.m. The need for continuance of all rural route delivery along Don Mills Road, and Highway 7, seems imperative.

Euchres Begin October 8
The summer is over, and the euchre season is beginning at Buttonville Hall. The first game of the autumn series will be held this Friday evening at 8 p.m. Women's Institute members are hostesses, and for a nominal fee those attending are assured a good game, a friendly atmosphere, and a good cup of coffee. Come early; there is always a crowd.

Buttonville YCHA
Mrs. Russell Burr will be hostess on Friday morning, October 8, at 10:00 a.m. when members of the Buttonville Branch of YCHA hold their meeting. New members are welcome. The Burr home is on the west side of Don Mills Road, immediately north of the Buttonville Bridge.
