Village Library Not Owned By King City

Who owns King City Public Library?
At the four-day OMB hearing on the incorporation of King City held in the auditorium of All Saints' Church last week, no one seemed to be quite sure.
In his testimony, delivered on the first day of the hearing, Donald Findlay QC claimed the library as one of the services provided by the police village.
A former member of the library board, K. J. Chesney testified that the library board had abandoned a proposed Centennial library project because the trustees were opposed to it and Mr. Findlay, also a member of the board, had advised them that the trustees would not agree to hand the library over to an outside authority (the township) as would be necessary to receive Centennial grants for the project. The library board had assumed that the trustees would be required to sign any deed transferring the property and in the face of determined opposition by the trustees, had given up the idea.

Mr. Chesney said the board had "assumed" that title to the property was in the name of the village. However, County Solicitor J. D. Lucas QC read from the Public Libraries Act a section which indicated that it was not possible for a police village to own a library.
Mr. Chesney indicated that neither he nor other members of the board were aware of this point of law. "We used Mr. Findlay as our legal authority," he said, "and had hoped he was using his legal knowledge to assist us. We thought it couldn't be transferred without the trustees' permission."
No one came forward with any information as to who actually does own the library.

School Hours Regulated To Speed Bus Transport

Public school hours in King Township will be standardized in order to facilitate the movement of buses and minimize delays.
The decision was made at the regular meeting of the King Township School Area Board on Tuesday evening of last week.
The hours will be from 9 am to 12 noon and from 1 pm to 3.30. Hours have varied as much as 15 minutes in the afternoon depending upon the schools.
Noon hours, in some instances, will be shorter.
Board member Wilbert Jennings explained the move will be made "to help out buses which are presently forced to wait at some schools. This means children are required to spend longer times on buses than is really necessary."
The board felt that approaching winter would add transportation problems if hours varied at the school.
The "official stamp of approval" was given to lunch hours in

DO YOUR WINTER PLANNING NOW
Plan now to get all those jobs done this winter. Things like having the lawnmower fixed, and the screens mended; having the car tuned up and outdoor motor checked; having the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired; having all those repair and renovation jobs done which can call for a long wait come Spring, but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily during the winter season. Ask your bank about a low-interest NHA Home Improvement Loan. Plan ahead. Be a Winter-planner now.
Everybody benefits when winter work is increased
