

Plan to attend the Four Seasons' Bazaar which will be held at St. Matthew's United Church November 13 from 2-5 pm.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ross, Centre Street West, spent Sunday in Shelburne where they attended the 87th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Ross' aunt and uncle.

The Rosses were accompanied by Mrs. David Free of Jefferson and Mrs. James E. Paddison of Stayner.

A congregational buffet supper was held Wednesday night at 8 pm in St. Matthew's United Church, Crosby Avenue. Promotion of fellowship within the congregation and discussion of the church's program for the next three years were the main purposes of this get-together.

Gary Scudds, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scudds, Bluegrass Blvd., returned home on Saturday having spent four days as a patient in the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Gary, who will be in an arm cast for the next six weeks, will resume his studies at Beverley Acres Public School following a short convalescence.

"Life in the Hill" is comprised of local news items—anniversaries, shows, vacations and out of town visitors. Contributions will be received until 5 pm on Tuesday prior to publication. Call the Social Editor Margot Crack at 884-1105, drop a line to 63 Yonge Street South, or come in personally, we'll be pleased to hear from you.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church Women met at the church on October 20 with 19 members and guests present.

Mrs. Nelly Williamson had charge of the program "Life in Malaysia". Mrs. Helen Albright and Mrs. Naomi Myers, presented a TV skit about the work of missionary Sister Gladys Reid-enouer, director of a day care program for under-privileged children in Malaysia, and Mrs. Mabel Percival gave an informative geographical sketch of the country and read excerpts from a letter she received from a personal friend in Singapore. Mrs. Sylvia Limpert told about and showed pictures from the book "Borneo People". Mrs. Williamson read a letter from a student studying at the University of Toronto who lived in Malaysia, which told something of the area, government, clothing and food. Miss Myrna Dave made paper flowers for each woman to wear in her hair, and modelled the Malaysian clothing that was on display. The film "In Face of Jeopardy", photographed in Malaysia, was shown at the close of the program, and Mrs. Ellen Bellaach and Mrs. Liaselotte Blaschke served native dishes.

Mrs. Limpert and Mrs. Percival gave a report on the women's retreat held at Port Credit. The annual stewardship dinner will be held October 31, with Dr. Henry Endress as guest speaker. Mrs. Margot Wirt and committee are in charge of arrangements. A work night will be scheduled soon to make bandages for leprosy colonies. The next meeting will be held at the church November 17. Mrs. Beryl Radke will give a book report on "Cry The Beloved Country".

The CGIT of Richmond Hill United Church met on Wednesday night for a Hallowe'en party and initiation of new members.

The 5th Richmond Hill Cub and Scout Mothers' Auxiliary will meet November 10 in the Richmond Hill United Church. All members are urged to attend.

Miss Edna Izzard, having recently returned from an IFUW conference in Brisbane, will give an informal talk, with slides, on her tour of Japan and the South Pacific on November 2 at 2:30 pm. in Wrixon Hall.

This meeting is sponsored by the education group of the Women of St. Mary's, and will be followed on successive Tuesdays by other themes of current interest, among them the conference theme "The Population Explosion".

Visitors welcome. Keith Watson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crowe, 331 Osiris Drive; Lisa Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Dunford, 338 Neal Drive, and Dennis Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Spraggett, of 24 Gentry Crescent received the rite of Infant Baptism at last Sunday's service in St. Matthew's United Church. Appropriate music was sung by the church's junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Tom Beattie.

At the same service three new members were received by transfer: Mr. and Mrs. David Bush, 266 Axminster Drive, from Downsview United Church; and Mrs. James Purvis, 455 Alper Street, from WoodGreen United Church in Toronto.

Richmond Hill had a bank break-in this week, and the police were on hand to see that everything went smoothly.

The illegal entry occurred at Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, 57 Yonge Street South, about 9 am.

A faulty lock on the front door prevented employees from going in the conventional way, so, while a couple of policemen from the town police department stood by, one of the male employees in a borrowed suit of overalls removed the bars from a basement window and slid inside.

After opening the front door, he put in a quick call to a locksmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Meikle and Larry just returned from a most enjoyable trip that took them through Virginia via the Sky-line Drive, to Lynchburg, then down to Asheville, North Carolina, and across the "Great Smoky Mountains" to Nashville, Tennessee. They then drove straight north to Louisville, Kentucky, on up to Indianapolis, Indiana. From there they travelled east through Columbus, Ohio, Wheeling, West Virginia, to Pittsburgh, then on up to Buffalo and home.

The highlight of their trip was the beauty they saw from a little town called Mocksville in North Carolina, through Asheville, Cherokee and the Great Smokies and a place called "Maggie's Valley", and of course something they will not forget are the pictures they took of Arthur Godfrey's horse "Goldie" in pasture, at the Godfrey home in Leesburg, Virginia, and visiting the property of Billy Graham in North Carolina, where they took a picture of Billy's son, and brought home a tree root from his property as a souvenir.

When the Meikles left Richmond Hill, their bird bath was frozen over, and by the time they hit Tennessee it was 86 degrees.

Miss Jean Hampson of Richmond Street was honored last week by the Canadian Association of Occupational Therapy at their annual convention, when she was awarded a life membership in the association for outstanding contribution to the occupational therapy profession. The presentation was made at a banquet held at the Inn on the Park last Saturday.

Miss Hampson's long and outstanding service in occupational therapy has extended from just after the first world war, through the years of work with cerebral palsy children to 1939, when she went to Edinburgh with a group of occupational therapists to work with war disabilities. Here she remained at the Astley-Ainslie Convalescent Hospital, playing the double role of a working therapist with the convalescent soldiers, and teacher in the occupational course, which was being carried out at the hospital, until the end of the war.

Jean Hampson's cheerful and buoyant personality has made her a host of friends who are happy to see this recognition made of her very real contribution to the field of occupational therapy.

Building Inspector Jack Hollowell attended the Ontario Building Officials Convention held last Thursday and Friday at the Hotel London, London.

Representing York County in the Inter-County Plowing Competition at the International Plowing Match in Milliken last week were Jim Ferguson of Markham, Ken Diceman of Woodbridge, with their coach Norm Robson of Richmond Street, Richmond Hill.

The boys placed 7th and won a total of $60.

If you plan on doing some shopping, attending a bazaar or just wish to enjoy a relaxed hour by yourself, why not send the children to see "The Coral King" being presented at Legion Court, November 6 and 7 at 1:30 and 3:30 pm?

It is a delightful play, set on a coral island, and will appeal to all children between the ages of 3 to 12 years.

One performance is already "sold out" but tickets are still available for Saturday and the 3:30 pm show on Sunday, and may be obtained by calling 884-2528.

St. Matthew's United Church congregation will celebrate its eighth anniversary October 31, with the guest minister at the 11 am service being Rev. Harold Bailey, BA, BD, assistant secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada. St. Matthew's senior choir will present special music.

Visitors will be commissioned to visit the homes of every family affiliated with the congregation in connection with the stewardship campaign which has been directed by Alan Barron of the capital funds service committee.

Senior Citizens The regular monthly meeting of the local senior citizens was held October 13 in the education building of the Richmond Hill United Church, with 95 members in attendance.

President E. Lomax was in the chair, annual reports were given and J. C. Hillman, chairman of the nominating committee, gave the new slate of officers. The slate was accepted as read, with Mrs. E. Burnie as president.

On Wednesday last members of the Richmond Hill IODE entertained the citizens in the club room and presented them with a bulletin board, after which refreshments were served.

Members are reminded of the next meeting — November 10 — in the usual place, and of the annual bazaar to be held November 13 in the club room opposite the municipal building on Yonge Street North.

The local Free Methodist Sunday School is using for its fall emphasis "Families For Christ", which is the official theme sponsored by the National Sunday School Association. Much attractive material for theme has been made available — banners, posters, leaflets, etc. Also a short skit in open session each Sunday from October 17 to November 21 is entitled "The Cunningham Family" which points out the importance of parents attending Sunday school with their children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Johnston play the parts of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham with Verne Archibald and Kathy Apperley in the roles of their teen-aged son and pre-teen daughter. Stephen Webster, Jackie Tunney and Linda Edwards are cast as the family's three younger children, and Gene Tunney appears as Steve. Other guest members appear from week to week.

The Free Methodist Sunday school is a Bible-centered Sunday school where the teachers believe the Bible is the inspired word of God and teach it as such with classes for all ages from nursery to adults.

YWCA Activities The YWCA is presenting a winter swim program at York Mills Collegiate Pool January through April.

In order to schedule the best possible program, interested persons are requested to phone in their wishes regarding the following suggestions:

(1) Mixed splash session for 12 weeks — no formal instruction but instructors on hand for individual or group teaching if desired. $6 single, $10 per couple.

(2) Formal instruction for ladies only — 12 weeks. Beginner, junior and senior instruction. $8 per person.

(3) Lifesaving and possible instructors course — price to be set when those interested apply.

(4) Childrens swim 8-12 years, 7:30-8 pm. $6 for 12 weeks.

Volunteers will be on hand to tabulate the information received and on the basis of demand, the most popular courses will be given. The interest shown will determine the nature of the course with the possibility of offering a variety of instruction. Please place your calls promptly to 864-4611.

The work of a former resident of Richmond Hill, Kashi Carter, will be a feature of the Christmas Shoppe on November 20 at Wrixon Hall, St. Mary's Anglican Church.

Kashi has handmade a fascinating set of Canadian historical character dolls and these will be on display, as a goodwill gesture from Office Overload.

The Couples Club of the Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church held their annual Hallowe'en party and dance last Saturday in the George Francis Memorial Hall.

After unmasking, all had an enjoyable time dancing to recorded music.

Harold and Marg Lemon were in charge of refreshments.

"The Gremlins" — a popular and talented musical group—all students or former students of Bayview Secondary School, now engaged in commercial life, provided the entertainment for the annual Hallowe'en Dance last Friday evening at Aurora High School.

This Friday evening, with their drums and guitars, the five Gremlins — Brian McGaffney, Ricky Wilson, Jim Hill, Rudy Nikolous and Gord Berta — will play for the Stouffville High School "Hop".

An afternoon of bridge is being sponsored by the Richmond Heights Branch of the YCHA on November 3 at the Richmond Hill Golf Club, and an invitation is extended to all enthusiasts in the Hill to go along and support the auxiliary with this project.

Refreshments will be served and there are many door prizes. Tickets at $1 per person may be obtained by calling Mrs. D. Paton at 884-5149.

The many patrons of Chez Pauline House of Beauty will be pleased to hear that Mrs. Pauline Bracey-Gibbon is once again taking appointments.

Pauline has been hairdressing in the Hill for the past 8 years, and has undertaken hairstyling for many local fashion shows, and through regularly attending conventions and courses, keeps herself and her staff right up to date with present hairstyling trends.

With an excellent number of members present, the regular meeting of the Engineers Wives was held October 20 at the home of Mrs. J. Turner.

The guest speaker, Mrs. G. B. Armstrong, Vice President of the Consumers Association of Canada, spoke on the association's tests and results.

The results obtained included reforms in correct presentation of consumer goods, labelling fully, and coloring of margarine, also suggestions to abolish horror items of toys.

Coffee and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sunday evening at St. Mary's Anglican will have special appeal to the young communicants of the parish. The 7 pm American Folk Song Mass will be sung to the accompaniment of Arlene King at the guitar.

This communion service will celebrate the Eve of All Saints Day when Christians give thanks for all God's good people through the ages who have made the world a better place. Young people will take part in the service, and the meaning of the service will be described by the assistant, the Rev. Don Bone.

Afterwards a Hallowe'en Hootenanny will be presented by folksinger, Arlene King, in the Fragments Coffee Club.

The Thornhill and District for the Mentally Retarded held its monthly business meeting October 19. Mrs. Isabel Webb, principal of Thornhaven School, reported that the swimming program for the children at the North York Memorial Pool would continue under the capable direction of Mrs. C. H. Cameron of Richmond Hill with the assistance of volunteers from the North York Fire Department.

Plans were made for a Hallowe'en party for the patients of the Ontario Hospital in Aurora and a request was made for volunteers.

A most enlightening new film entitled "Journey to a Job" was then shown by W. Berendsen who is co-ordinator of adult services for the OAMR.

This film showed adult retardates from workshops all over the province, engaged in contract work from their local industries and included members from ARC Industries on Enford Rd. It was most encouraging to see how efficiently these young people of various mental levels can work, and to see the obvious satisfaction they receive being gainfully employed.

Plans for the building of a permanent residence for the mentally retarded in this area were again discussed, and the meeting closed with refreshments served by Mrs. J. Dwyer.

Premiere For "The Coral King"

The play, which toured for eight months in England, will make its Canadian debut in the Legion Hall on November 6 and 7 at 1:30 and 3:30 pm. Tickets are still available for three performances, but the 1:30 show on Sunday is a complete sell-out. For reservations please call 889-5181 or 884-2528.

Two new members joined Richmond Hill Symphony Orchestra last Sunday, and the orchestra now have a large string section which includes 6 cellos, 21 violins and 4 violas, but they still need double bass and trombone players.

Rehearsals are well under way for the concert with Mezzo Soprano Joan Hall, accompanied by pianist, Rex Battle, to be held November 15 at Richmond Hill High School.

The ladies' auxiliary to Branch 375, Royal Canadian Legion, held their general meeting with President Lucy Rickard in the chair.

An executive meeting was held prior to the general meeting. Nancy Sutcliffe reported on a successful euchre. Next euchre to be held November 16.

The evening of entertainment presented by the Dennis Moore School of Dancing was very well received. The auxiliary would like to express their thanks to Dennis Moore for giving time and effort for the color guard of the local branch.

Miss Violet Murray, Tom Hamilton and Chuck Ford, TV personalities, for donating their time to this project. Audrie Apperley of the Sunnybrook Hospital reported on the monthly hospital visit. Plans for the Christmas visit, with gifts, are underway.

A dart team is being organized — members are asked to contact any executive officers if interested.

Members are reminded of the auxiliary birthday party November 4.

At the recent meeting of Convocation, Miss Edna Izzard was elected member of Corporation, the governing body of Trinity College, University of Toronto.

Get an early start on Christmas by making your own decorations and beautify your home for the festive season.

From November 10 through December 8 on Wednesday mornings from 9:30 -11:30 am a Christmas Decoration Course is being presented for five weeks at the Allencourt YWCA Centre.

Babysitting will be available so please call 884-4811 for information or registration.

The many friends of Joan Belbridge, Church Street South, will be pleased to know she is making satisfactory progress in York Central Hospital where she has been a patient for the past week.

Last Wednesday evening the Richmond Chapter of the IODE had a social evening with the Richmond Hill Senior Citizens. During the evening Mrs. W. Houston, regent of the chapter, presented Mrs. E. Burnie, president of the local club, with a large bulletin board, for use in their centre.

A lively sing-song was held and the evening ended with refreshments.
