

OK 3rd Drive-In Theatre For Vaughan

All things going well, Vaughan Township residents may shortly expect to have a choice of three drive-in theatres when they feel like an evening's entertainment.

At its October 19 meeting, Vaughan Township Planning Board agreed to recommend to the township council that permission be given to Philip Ulster to operate a drive-in theatre at a site on Lot 11, Concession 8, a mile and a quarter north of Highway 7 on the east side of Highway 27.

Application for the 1,200 car theatre was first made to the planning board in July, 1964. Residents of a wide area surrounding the proposed site were notified and a public hearing was held this past summer. Mr. Ulster's legal representative George Pal reminded the board that at that time, only one resident had voiced any opposition to the project and that the objection was not to the theatre itself but to a possible dust problem. Mr. Pal noted too that with the CPR track in the vicinity and the confluence of the two tracks near Highways 7 and 27, the logical future development of the area would be industrial and that this use would not be interfered with in any way by the theatre.

Mr. Pal also reported that the Department of Highways had given its approval to the theatre and that the Metro Toronto Conservation Authority also approved providing that there was no direct discharge of sewage into the adjacent creek. A letter from the York County Health Unit dated October 15 indicated that the unit was satisfied that satisfactory septic tank and disposal system could be built on the property.

It was pointed out that the site plan indicated a wide lane leading up to the ticket booth. This was large enough to accommodate 100 cars, Mr. Pal said, and would prevent any congestion of the sidewalk where the entrance is located. Although there was no requirements for this, the plan also showed a sixteen foot landscaped strip at the front of the property.

Reeve A. H. Rutherford who was also in attendance at the meeting, suggested that a 10 foot strip should be dedicated to the township now to provide for future road widening. Mr. Pal stated that his client would be happy to do this and that the landscaped strip could be moved back.

The reeve also queried whether the entrance was enough to permit cars to enter from both east and west of the entrance. Mr. Pal felt that it was and stressed that his client would be just as much interested in preventing traffic tie-ups as would the township.

Mr. Pal also agreed that his client would undertake to direct traffic at the theatre and agreed that it would not be fair to dump the problem into the lap of Vaughan Township the usual practice was to hire off-duty policemen for peak times, he said.

Mr. Pal stressed that the drive-in would be of benefit to the township. It would bring business to local firms he said and would increase tax revenue for the property from the present approximate $400 per year to something like $5,000, while

UNICEF Canvass Here Hallowe'en

Knocking at your door Saturday evening will be fantastic figures wearing costumes, false faces, funny noses and carrying a treat basket. Occupying a prominent place in many of these baskets will be UNICEF collection boxes.

Children from grades 4 in Richmond Hill Public Schools will make the collection this year, the numbers being limited so that householders will be prepared to give generously to these young helpers in the fight against the enemies of helpless children throughout the world — hunger, disease and ignorance.

The children will be taught the role of UNICEF this week so they will be familiar with what they are doing. In previous years this fact has been commented upon favorably by people throughout the town.

On Hallowe'en these young children give residents of Richmond Hill the opportunity to help the countless thousands of children throughout the world who lack the bare necessities of life.

Last year the local children raised more than $300 for this purpose.

Mr. Diefenbaker said: "They said we were wrong in selling wheat to China. The government condemned in opposition the policies it is now following. "After fooling the country for two and a half years, they (The Liberals) decided to go to the country because they thought we were divided. "We're building Canada and making possible developments that none of our ancestors thought probable . . . Today, we're united! "Mr. Diefenbaker touched briefly again on his plan to divert northern rivers south, "making them available for generations to come". "He described the water as "far more valuable than uranium" and condemned the government for "tinkering with the idea" of selling it to the U.S. Diverting the water would restore eroded areas and make an "effective power grid across the nation". "What kind of Canada do you want?" Mr. Diefenbaker asked the audience. "Liberal", came a voice. "Well, my friends," said Mr. Diefenbaker, "that's a single voice crying out in the wilderness . . . Keep it up, I love audience participation!" Mr. Diefenbaker also listed several other policies which he said his party would implement. The hospital insurance plan would be amended to include coverage of tuberculosis and mental illness. "They (The Liberals) have consistently ignored this". It would also provide for pre-paid medical services, without regimentation to bring about a National Health Plan. Municipal taxes on homes to the extent of $500 would be deductible for income tax purposes. Mr. Diefenbaker closed his address by firing off a few more charges at the Liberal government, which he said had "brought about wrong doing in high places", and criticized Prime Minister Pearson for what he described as a lack of toughness in dealing with these matters. "You dare not as a leader of a nation allow yourself the luxury of passing by on the other side", Mr. Diefenbaker said. "Do you want Canada's name cleared? What will happen if two weeks from tonight the Liberals are returned? They concealed, they hid, they denied, they failed to reveal — I ask you when you vote not only to take into consideration their policies, but consider the effect of your vote on great and abiding moral principles. "I never thought it would happen in my Canada . . . Vote Liberal and you will be covering up".

A NEED FOR CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING? OR SHOULD — Ministers and Priests Teachers Policemen Traffic Lights Or Should

Ministers and Priests preach only one sermon or so a year? (People are against sin anyway, so why harp on it?)

Teachers eliminate review lessons? (Children will never forget what they have been taught.)

Policemen Stop patrolling streets and highways (People know the laws and will obey them anyway.)

Traffic Lights be turned off to save electricity? (Everybody knows where the danger spots are and will be cautious without extra warning.)

Or Should a lesson be taken from the Notre Dame Cathedral, which although it has been offering the same services at the same location for more than six centuries, still rings the bell every day to let people know it is there?

It is time for the Conservatives in Canada to take a stand for its ideals and principles, which cover both French and English Canada, Don Martyn, Progressive Conservative candidate for York North, told the rally at Richmond Hill High School for John Diefenbaker Monday night.

"For this belief, I wish to fight a weak government which has been frittering away our heritage and frittering away its power", Mr. Martyn said.

He said that Canada was passing through a period of crisis. Extremists in both French and English Canada had asked for separation, but the great majority of people did not want separation, and also recognized that separation was impossible.

"Let us, as we approach 1967, turn our minds, once again, to those things which unite, not divide our country", Mr. Martyn said. "I believe in a Canadian nationalism, which combines the uniqueness of the French Canadian culture with that of the English Canadian culture".

Mr. Martyn asked his listeners to fight against the government fashioning a nation, "which can speak only with 10 discordant voices". He said every French and English speaking Canadian should "reap the benefits of a shared adventure".

He said that it should be recognized that French speaking Canadians had a special status in terms of language and culture, but that did not mean that the fisherman in Prince George, or the farmer in Aurora had to learn to speak French. It did mean, however, that "we should be prepared to make the French speaking Canadian feel at home, not only in Quebec, but in English Canada as well".

At the same time, he said he rejected the proposition made by Premier Lesage in western Canada that the Quebec government in any way represented the interests of French speaking Canadians throughout the rest of Canada. He said he also rejected the idea that the federal government should become a "mere diplomatic agency designed to maintain harmony among the 10 provincial governments.

"In the last analysis, the external independence of Canada will depend upon her internal unity, independence, like charity begins at home".

Milk Price Up 1¢ Qt. Some Local Outlets

The price of milk in Richmond Hill grocery stores and by some house-to-house delivery firms went up one cent a quart this week, conforming to last week's increase in price in Met-wick. The increased price is still a cent below that being charged in the city, according to local distributors.

Mac's Milk, Becker Milk Co. and Uplands Dairy Shops all report no increase in the retail price of milk.

Don Glass General Manager of Cousin's Dairy Ltd. reports that his company has made no decision as yet regarding a price increase. All drivers of this company are independent dealers and no change in price can or will be made until the company has met and discussed the matter thoroughly with them.

BUTTONVILLE NEWS

CORRESPONDENT: MRS. F. H. LEAF
R.R. 2, Gormley Phone 297-1741

New Address — We have a Buttonville Post Office as of October 18. But only a few have a Buttonville address. You say you live at Buttonville? Between those little signs on Don Mills Road that say "Buttonville" and "Speed Limit 35 mph"? Well then your address is RR 2, Gormley, same as always! — Sure I mean it — of course, the municipal officers and the police department are at RR 2, Gormley. The RR means rural route, and they get their mail delivered in little boxes on the roadsides.

Where is Buttonville? It's at the corner of Don Mills Road and Highway 7; they found a little magic 1/2 mile circle around the corner at Don Mills Road and Highway 7, they found a little corner at Knob Hill Farms Market, where the telephone box used to be, and they put up a sign which says BUTTONVILLE POST OFFICE. And people who live in the 1/2 mile circle may get their mail there from 9 in the morning until 6 at night, with an hour off between 1 and 2, on Saturdays its from 9 to 1.

You say you leave for work at 7:30 am and don't get home until 6:30? You say you have two small children, and your wife is afraid to walk along the roadside with them? There are gravel trucks, and tractor trailers travelling at high speeds? You say your former mailman passes right by your door?

Well, if you can't get to the post office within the time it is open, you can always let the bills pile up. And cheer up! Mr. Fultz at the postal department says he is sure that within ten years we will have house-to-house delivery here!

Anniversary Services

Victoria Square anniversary services will be held this Sunday and Headford will be withdrawn. At 11 am (please note the time) the speaker will be Rev. George McMullen, of Emmanuel College, and the Victoria Square Choir will sing.

Rev. Albion Wright, chairman of York Presbytery, will be the guest at the evening service with music by the York Men of Music under the direction of Roy Keys.

We'll get that new Resorb baby's name right — it is Alan, with an 'a'.

At Brown's Corners United Church last Sunday morning, the speaker was Graham Scott, a second year student at Emmanuel, who will take Jerry Hobbs' place on the circuit. Mr. Hobbs is in his final year, and the work on the charge was a little more than his health could stand.

Mrs. Clayton Jones was organist last Sunday, and the junior choir sang under the direction of Mrs. George Hooper.

Lawson Mumberson, as minute man for York Presbytery, made a plea for funds for church extension.

WI

Mrs. Loren Guld gave an interesting talk on health, when the Buttonville WI met last Wednesday afternoon. Further programme was a skit, presented by Mrs. Aubrey Stephenson, Mrs. John Wilkins, Mrs. Charles Hooper and Mrs. Richard Allen, on women and their foibles — "A headache is a good way of getting out of what you don't want to do".

Mrs. George Kelly conducted the meeting, and delegates to the Area convention.

Broad Support For Kleinburg Sewer Area

In very prompt response to the township's request for a "show of hands" on the question of a sewer area in the Kleinburg Estates Subdivision, the local ratepayers association on Monday night presented council with a petition signed by 83 property owners in the subdivision.

The petition asked the council to designate the subdivision as a sewer area and signatories agreed to assume a proportionate share of costs through a sewer rate and/or tax levy.

The petition was said to contain signatures of well over 90% of property owners in the area. Only two people refused to sign it, two houses are up for sale and the owners didn't sign, and three property owners were out of town.

Before proceeding with the involved series of procedures necessary before a sewer system can be constructed, council wanted to be sure that the project had the support of local residents, hence the request for the petition.

For the complete story of all the steps necessary before the sewer system can be put in operation, see Pages 13 and 14 of this issue of "The Liberal".
