Socially Speaking In Thornhill

The El Neighbour welcoming service, with Mrs. Edith Sutton as hostess manager, has been welcoming new residents to Thornhill and Richvale since September.

The welcoming service is extended to new residents in the area and presents them with introductory letters and gifts from various local merchants to assist them in becoming acquainted with shops and businesses in the Thornhill and Richvale location.

The engagement has been announced of Shaaron Ann Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Lewis of Thornhill, to David Charles Hay of Willowdale. The wedding will take place on November 26 at 7:30 pm in Thornhill United.

Miss Elizabeth MacLeod, Donna Mae Crescent, gave a birthday party on October 21 for a group of friends to celebrate her seventh birthday.

Thornhill Country Club held its opening curling luncheon on October 14. An excellent turnout of women curlers were on hand to renew acquaintances and enthusiasm for the coming curling season. Guest speaker was Wen C. Cunningham, chairman of the men's division.

The Ladies' curling committee for 1965-66 is President Mrs. Irene Dickson, Vice-President Mrs. Kay Ferguson, Secretary Mrs. Jean Dye, Treasurer Mrs. Audrey Sletter, Social Convenor Mrs. Angela Huff, Games Captain Mrs. Mae Midgley, Assistants Mrs. Peg Charlton and Mrs. Bess Bernal. Bospital Secretary Mrs. Violet Loree, Bospital Convenor Mrs. Eleanor Edwards, baby sitting Mrs. Marguerite Mote.

The curling club is very happy to have acquired the services of Mrs. Olive Harrington who has very ably taken over the nursery. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. 3-12 (and adults too) will be

K. K. Neely, of Arnold Avenue, French teacher at Thornhill Public School, on the recent death of her father in Luxembourg. Mrs. Neely flew over to Luxembourg and will be returning shortly.

John Young, John Street, had a hair raising trip to his office last week that he won't forget in a hurry. Mr. Young was going to work in a taxi driven by Fred Winston and was a few minutes later than usual on this particular morning.

A half mile east of Bayview Avenue, a CNR track intersects John Street and Mr. Young usually crosses the tracks before the train gets to the crossing. At 8:45 am the train usually speeds through the crossing. It was 8:55 when Mr. Young's taxi stopped at the tracks, looking north and south. The south side has good visibility but it is limited in the north by a curve in the track 500 yards from the intersection.

Signal standards were set up six months ago but there are no bells, flashers or wig wag signals to warn motorists. The train's whistle is the only warning.

Mr. Winston did not hear or see a train and drove across the track - seconds later the CNR roared through with whistle blaring.

Mr. Young said they missed death by seconds and just missed being hit by a train going 80 miles an hour.

Mrs. W. Berry, Donna Mae Crescent, gave a morning coffee party recently to welcome Mrs. A. H. Tuck, a new resident on the street and to give her an opportunity to meet her neighbors.

Children between the ages of 3-12 (and adults too) will be entranced with the presentation of "The Coral King" to be presented by the Storybook Players at 1:30 and 3:30 pm on November 6 and 7 in Legion Court, Richmond Hill.

Michael Matyas of Thornhill has designed the set - a coral island - for theatre in the round, and it will be staged this way in the Legion Court.

The appealing story of "The Coral King", whose magical powers effect the lives of all the inhabitants of the island, will enchant the audience from start to finish.

Tickets may be obtained by calling 889-5181 or 884-2528.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Perry, Arnold Avenue, recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. N. Roy Perry of Collingwood, who were on their way to Seabird Island, Florida, where they will be spending the winter months.

Mrs. E. Bean, John Street, gave a coffee party recently for neighbors in the area to meet their Liberal candidate Robert Stanbury. Mrs. Jack Pequegnat, sister-in-law of Mr. Stanbury, poured coffee at the party.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Miss Jacquelyn Duncan and Michael Harrington on their recent engagement.

Mrs. E. R. Dillane, John Street, spent an enjoyable weekend visiting relatives in Kempville.

Miss Sally Drake of Ottawa visited Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Cruise, 27 John Street, recently, on her return from Jamaica.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. D. Gray of Thornridge Drive, who was involved in a car accident last week.

New residents at 1 Raymond Drive are Mr. and Mrs. William Bunker who moved from Richmond Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kearns, 41 Kirk Drive, returned last week from a delightful holiday spent in New Orleans and New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearns stayed at the new Royal Orleans Hotel located in the French Quarter. The hotel built in keeping with the early French surroundings, has a swimming pool on the roof where Mrs. Kearns spent a lot of time basking in the 85 degree temperature.

During their nine day stay in New Orleans the Kearns toured the garden district, ate in many fascinating restaurants and were interested to see the artists at work. A highlight of their visit was when they rented an air conditioned 1966 car and drove to see the plantations up the River Road. Here they visited the San Francisco plantation where Frances Parkinson Keyes wrote her book "Steamboat Gothic".

There were signs of the recent hurricane damage in the area where metal signs were completely bent over, slates were off roofs and not one dock was still standing from New Orleans to Biloxi.

The premiere of "The Cincinnati Kid" took place there in true Hollywood style and the stars of the picture were guests at the 'Royal Orleans'. The Kearns saw much of the fanfare connected with the premiere.

On their return journey, Mr. and Mrs. Kearns stopped over and spent four days in New York. Here they visited the World's Fair and enjoyed seeing two Broadway shows, "Pickwick" and "The Subject Was Poses".

and it would cost only a few dollars to have them removed. On motion of Trustee Brian Leonard, seconded by Vice-Chairman John MacKay, it was agreed to remove the fountains.

Mr. Sand read to the board a letter from the Unionville

An interesting note on their New York trip was meeting Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Moore of Vista View, who were also visiting the city, for dinner one evening.

Keith Corkill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Corkill, 27 Idleswift Drive, sailed from New York on September 17 aboard an Italian liner and docked at Southampton, England.

There were many expatriates aboard the ship who gave rowdy demonstrations on the Vietnam situation during the journey. The passengers were very happy to see them disembark and they continued in peace for the remainder of their trip to England.

Keith has visited friends and relatives in London and spent some time in Northumberland in a charming little village called Robert Village. He has visited Holland, France and Ireland and now should be in Spain.

He expects to be travelling around Europe and England for about a year.

Dr. John D. Simpson, well known dentist in Thornhill and formerly of 7725 Yonge St., has moved to his new office in the village plaza, Arnold and Yonge Streets.

Vandalism Continues

$260,000 Public School Approved

Continued damage by vandals has caused the board of TSA 1 Markham to discontinue operation of outside drinking fountains at area schools.

"Outside fountains appear to be a lost cause," said Supervising Principal Eilert Sand at the October 13 meeting of the board. "We could keep a plumber full time repairing the three we have."

Minor Hockey Association inviting boys at Bayview Glen School to take part. Mr. MacKay advised however that this was in error as Thornhill boys were not eligible to play in the Unionville Association. There had evidently been some misunderstanding he said, as Bayview Glen boys are included in the Thornhill Association. Mr. MacKay advised that he would write to the Unionville association in his capacity as secretary of the Thornhill Minor Hockey Association.

Mr. Sand reported that the board's part-time librarian was making good progress. All library books budgeted for have been ordered and cataloguing has been completed at Woodland School, where the library is in full operation.

Home instruction is being given to two area school children. A boy at Bayview Glen School with a broken hip is being visited by a teacher. A telephone unit is in operation for a student at Woodland School who will be confined to home for some months. The child can hear lessons and answer questions. An older child in the family delivers completed assignments to the school and the teacher visits the child periodically.

TSA 1's brief to the York County Consultative Committee was presented on October 21 and discussed fully with the committee.

The health, safety and public relations committee presented to the board a revised schedule of regulations respecting use of school property by outside organizations.

For children's groups using the schools, such as Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts and other approved groups, no charge will be made for use of the schools on weekdays or on Saturdays up until noon.

Use of the schools for home and school association fund raising activities will cost $1.00 per hour, although there will be no charge for regular association meetings. Fee for all activities after noon on Saturdays will be $2.00 per hour.

Mr. Crutcher, director of the Albion Hills Conservation School and a resident of John Street, Thornhill, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Thornhill and District Horticultural Society held on October 19.

Mr. Crutcher is eminently suited to be director of such a school since he has been interested in conservation from his first days at the University of Toronto when he attended the School of Forestry for a year before entering the teaching profession. He defined conservation as "the wise use of renewable resources". The school which is open during July and August, can accommodate 40 students at a time in the beautiful residence built by Metro Conservation Authority on a height of land overlooking the undulating countryside of the Albion Hills. Here children are taught about the out of doors and how to care for the trees and wildlife. They also have access to a fully equipped farm.

The City of Toronto took the lead in providing a nature school on the islands and now other municipalities are beginning to discover the benefits to be derived from such schools.

Etobicoke has bought 50 acres adjoining the Clairville Conservation Area and intends to build a nature school there. The board of education appreciate such efforts and many other townships could participate in this.

Mr. Crutcher showed colored slides to illustrate his talk. He showed children cleaning a stream to make the flow swifter, some were collecting fish and marshland wildlife, some showed children measuring trees and others digging up Indian artifacts.

Recreational activities, archery and rifle shooting interested the boys while the girls enjoyed staying overnight in a log cabin and finding out how the pioneers lived. Children had various studies of nature and for some this experience could lead to new hobbies; others perhaps

Aid In Church Work

The Ophelia Group of Holy Trinity Parish Guild was more than pleased with the turnout at its annual rummage sale, held in the church auditorium October 16.

The ladies attribute the success of the sale, which raised over $500 for church work, to the fact that they were discriminating in the material they accepted for sale and every article was laundered, pressed and repaired. They also appreciate the warm support they received from all sections of the community.

will find their vocation through some branch of natural science. Mr. Crutcher reminded his audience that the key to good instruction was involvement. Children involved in nature study are not likely to destroy their natural heritage, thus these schools can help the battle against vandalism.

Mr. Whaley thanked Mr. Crutcher for his informative talk and remarked that it was wonderful for youngsters, giving them an anchor to hold on to.

Where do you stand on the Canada Pension Plan?

Mr. Richard
To be honest, I haven't really given it much thought.

Interviewer
Well, it is going to affect nearly everybody in Canada, one way or another, whether you are self-employed, or are working for someone else. Of course, each case can vary as to benefits and amount of pension.

Mr. Richard
I know I'll get a pension at 65. I'm not sure it will be enough.

Interviewer
You can make sure. For example - the addition of a retirement Income Plan from The Mutual Life could well make the difference between just "getting by" - or really enjoying your retirement years.

Mr. Richard
Where can I find out how these things fit together? Sounds pretty complicated.

Interviewer
Call your nearest Mutual Life of Canada Representative. He's qualified to show you exactly what benefits you can expect....
