tion. It was suggested that a fee of $2.00 be charged per family. This amount would eliminate the request for further funds to cover school activity expenses throughout the year. The amount to be charged was carefully discussed before final vote, with a 3-1 margin, was in favour of forming an independent associa-

it was passed unanimously. Principal R. Urquart gave a report on the progress of the proposed crossing guard project and told the parents that Constable J. Nugent of Vaughan Township was in the process of getting the neces. sary funds to pay for the raincoats etc for the patrols.

Mr. Urquart also spoke on the postponement for this year of the annual Christmas concert. The consensus of the staff was that, owing to the lack of a school auditorium, too much time has been taken up in the past with rehearsals at another location. Necessary school work is neglected because of the extra hours spent on the concert. The subject was carefully discussed and explained before the final decision was made.

Mr. Seath gave a resume of programs he is lining up for future meetings. His main objective is to have programs where parents can learn the aims and objectives of the educational system of today. Mr. Seath, a well-known teacher himself, understands fully the need for parents to know and understand the school curriculum. He plans on a meeting where small groups will go to various classrooms with leaders from the school board, hall committee etc. to lead a discussion period where parents can ask questions, air grievances and learn about work being taught to their children. This is a subject every parent should learn about and the meeting Mr. Seath has lined up will certainly enlighten many parents who don't understand the new school programs.

Topic of the next meeting, to be held on November 16, will be the experimental program being tried out in Etobicoke. This is a project discovery experiment where films and tapes, with projectors set up in the library, are made available for the students to investigate for themselves the many interesting subjects. Learning by discovery is the whole theory behind the project and each classroom is also equipped with audio visual aids. A film has been made of this experiment and will be shown with a speaker present to answer questions and discuss the advantages of the program.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meet-
