250 Local Young People Enjoy Hallowe'en Party

About 250 children from two years up attended the Hallowe'en party held at Lake Wilcox Public School, sponsored by the Lake Wilcox Recreation Committee and the Youth Centre Board.

For the most part, the children were in costume. Parades were held in age groups with prizes awarded for prettiest, most original costumes etc. and choosing from among the bewildering variety was no easy task for the judges.

Games were played with prizes being awarded here too and each youngster was sent home with a bag of candy and other goodies, generously contributed by members of the community.

The younger children were entertained from 7 to 9 pm and after a cleaning up session, the dance began for those 12 years and up. Although the children were all admitted free of charge, they danced to the music of a paid band, "Danny and His Whompus's" from Oshawa.

2 Vacancies On King Council

Interest is expected to be high in King Township elections this year with the possibility of a township ward system the key issue.

Nominations will take place November 23 at All Saints' Anglican Church but already three members of the five-man council have indicated they will run for re-election.

Reeve Ray Jennings, RR 3, King City, advised "The Liberal" that he would seek a third term as reeve. A retired farmer, Mr. Jennings lives just north of Temperanceville. He has served a one-year and a two-year term as reeve and prior to that served eight years as councillor.

Councillor Jack Rouble, first elected to council in 1960 has announced that he will make a bid for the deputy reeve-ship. Mr. Rouble operates a gasoline service station in the Holland Marsh area.

Councillor Kenneth Mactaggart of RR 1 Kleinburg has also announced that he will run for deputy-reeve after having been twice elected to the township council. Mr. Mactaggart is a part-time farmer and also operates a school bus. He lives on Highway 27 south of Nobleton.

The two who have not yet announced their plans for the election are the present Deputy-reeve Gordon Cook and Councillor William Curran, although rumour has it that Mr. Cook will contest the reeve-ship. A farmer on Concession 6, Mr. Cook has served as deputy-reeve for three years and before that served three years as councillor.

Mr. Curran, a chartered accountant, lives in the Kingscross Estates, King

City. He has served as councillor for four years.

With two former councillors running for deputy-reeve, this will leave two gaps on council, but as yet no-one has indicated their intention of trying to fill them.

The last council was split three to two on the question of wards, with Reeve Jennings and Councillors Rouble and Curran supporting the township's proposal of a five ward system which would cause the dissolution of the township's three police villages. While not necessarily opposing a ward system, Mr. Cook and Mr. Mactaggart were opposed to the dissolution of the police villages.

Council's application to the OMB for the five ward system was adjourned at the recent hearing when the OMB heard and denied King City's application for elevation to full village status.
