St. Paul's Assessed $1,500 Extension Fund

St. Paul's United Church's share of York Presbytery extension fund will be $1,500 over a period of three years, its official board learned recently from Robert M. Cunningham of the projects campaign.

A Little, Cedar Grove, outlined requirements of the United Church for the three years, which total $93,750. Of this $30,000 has been pledged by York Presbytery as its share in the Cedar Glen Camp and Conference Centre near Bolton. Other extension work will require $4,500 towards hospital chaplaincy and fresh air camps, $5,500 contingencies and $3,750 expenses and fees.

Members of the official board who attended the meeting were Rev. Raymond Fenn, Mrs. Carol Barton, Mrs. Sheila Irwin, Ross Farquharson, Frank Hawken, Mrs. Betty Farquharson, Mrs. Iris Joyce, Mrs. Helen Laing, Donald Rennie and Vern Plante. Lawson Mumberson of Victoria Square, capital staff member, also attended.

Frank Hawken, chairman of stewards, expressed grave doubts about the congregation's ability to raise this amount and suggested a sum of $500 could be contributed if spread over five years. Other board members agreed this amount would be nearer the mark and it received full support of those present.

Oak Ridges - Lake Wilcox Branch Exceeds 1965 Objective By $69

Four members of the Oak Ridges - Lake Wilcox Branch of the Canadian Cancer Society attended the annual meeting of the Aurora and District Unit on November 15.

Mrs. Isobel Rubin reported that all branches had increased their campaign objectives this year. Oak Ridges-Lake Wilcox exceeded its $1,000 objective, raising $1,069. She took pride, she told the meeting, in the fact the Aurora unit stood at the top in the district, fourth in Ontario Division, and high on the Canadian list.

Mrs. Rubin has been campaign chairman for three years and will continue in this position next year. The unit's objective next year will be $14,500, which challenges all workers to work a little harder and dig a little deeper.

Guest speaker Lyman Henderson, president of Ontario Division, used as his subject "The man who lives by himself and for himself is liable to be corrupted by the company he keeps". He also spoke on the international Conference of Volunteers in Toronto in October, attended by delegates from 30 countries.

Mrs. Dorothy Findlay presented the slate of officers for 1966: Past President Mrs. Isobel Rubin, President A. J. H. Leek, Vice-President L. J. Pinkerton, Treasurer W. J. S. Reid, Secretary Mrs. Jean LaFond, Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Dorothy Findlay. Group chairmen are: education, Norman Bernard; campaign, Mrs. Rubin; publicity, Mrs. E. L. Owrang; women's services, Mrs. Elsie Deller; maintenance and nominating, Mrs. Dorothy Findlay; medical advisors, Dr. Betty Knowles and Dr. Clayton Rose.

Christi Hanson

Young Dressage Expert Competed At Olympics

start. Again in 1964 she travelled to Germany and studied with renowned dressage expert Von Neindorff at Karlsruhe. It was during her stay in Karlsruhe that she was asked to represent Canada in the 1964 Olympics and with Bonheur was flown to Tokyo by the Canadian Olympic committee.

There was still one more barrier to the competition: Christi was only 17 years old and Olympic standards maintain an 18-or-over stipulation. But permission was obtained from Brussels headquarters and she competed against riders two or three times her age.

"We didn't place in competition," says Christi, "but I certainly wasn't disappointed in Bonheur's performance. I hope we'll have another chance in three years at Mexico."

Judging by the attention she attracted in Tokyo, the young performer has a great future. After the Olympics she turned down an offer to train in Russia and returned home where she maintains a hectic schedule.

Depending on competitions at hand, she trains up to four or five hours a day in Oak Ridges under the watchful eye of expert horseman Lou Mikucki. She then makes the trip to downtown Toronto where she helps her mother with the schooling of some 200 gymnastic pupils.

With all this she has found the time to write a book, "Canadian Entry" which will be published by Clarke-Irwin in the spring. "It's a biography of Bonheur," she says "I get a mention here and there but he's really the important one."

By MARSHALL-TAYLOR

A few years ago Christlott Hanson faced a dilemma. Her parents wanted her to follow in the footsteps of her mother, the noted choreographer Willy Blok Hanson — and become a dancer. But she was more interested in horses and riding.

The compromise was dressage, sometimes described as ballet on horseback, a pursuit that led her to the Olympic games in Tokyo last year. It sounds like something from a story book but it is just another logical event in Christi Hanson's unusual life.

At the age of eighteen, she has studied at Toronto Branksome Hall, spent two dressage training periods in Germany, written a book and taught dancing and gymnastics in her mother's Toronto school.

PROMISED HORSE

When she was ten years old her father promised to buy her a horse if she passed the grade nine Royal Conservatory of Music piano exams with first class honors.

When the promise was made it looked as though father would never be required to pay off, but Christi studied, wrote the exams and came out on top. This was just the beginning.

CHRISTI UNDER AGE

In 1961 she spent nine months with her horse Bonheur, training in Hanover, Germany where the tradition of dressage had its

90 Teenagers Enjoy Dance After Bazaar

Members of the Lake Wilcox Youth Centre Board and Area Recreation Committee were highly gratified at the community support for their sale of handcrafts, baked goods and tea held November 13 at Lake Wilcox Public School. Although all committee members had a very busy day, approximately $150 was realized.

There are still some Christmas wreaths, ornaments, centre pieces and other articles for sale and these may be purchased on either Tuesday or Thursday evenings by visiting the handcraft classes held in the garage at the home of Mrs. M. Kirst on the North Road.

After the bazaar was cleared away, close to 90 teenagers enjoyed a dance with music provided by Danny and the Whompus's from Oshawa.

Another dance is being planned for the young people of the area. Music for this one is to be provided by "The New Sounds", a rhythm and blues group directed by Jim Bradley, a former resident of the area. It is hoped to hold this dance at Lake Wilcox Public School too, but details have not yet been clarified.

More details are also to be worked out for the Santa Claus parade, slated for December 11. Members of the committee would like to thank all those who helped with the bazaar. They are also grateful to those who helped make the bake table look so appetizing. The only unfortunate incident that marred the day was the experience of one generous lady who baked a cake for the table, then bought it back herself. Unfortunately, while she was enjoying her tea and cookies, the cake disappeared. It is hoped that whoever took the cake enjoyed it, but there was really no need to break the plate!

Augustinian Order At Marylake Has Opening

Major Superiors of the various religious orders and congregations in Metropolitan Toronto were present at a reception and luncheon at Marylake Monastery, King Township, November 15, marking the official opening of headquarters of the Augustinians vice-province.

The opening moves the headquarters from New York, creating a definite step toward a full-fledged Canadian Province of the world-wide Augustinian Order.

Marylake Monastery, located 20 miles north of Toronto, was established in 1942, and since then has witnessed a steady growth as one of the retreat and shrine centres of Ontario. The new shrine church dedicated last year by Cardinal McGuigan of Toronto, won wide praise for its architectural beauty.

The Augustinian Order in Canada was first established in 1938 when an intrepid little band of members took over a dilapidated monastery in Tracadie, Nova Scotia, which had been abandoned by the Trappists some 20 years before. Eventually, their work carried them to diocese houses in Toronto, Vancouver and Ottawa.

Newly-appointed Commissary Provincial, The Very Rev. Stanislaus K. Treu, was introduced by the Prior of Marylake, Rev. Cyril L. Smetana.

For the past 21 years, Father Treu, a sociologist, has been a professor at Marymount College, Tarrytown, New York.

Rev. Smetana was formerly associate professor of English language and literature at St. Francis Xavier University in Antigonish, and rector of Villanova Hall, a residence for college students preparing to enter the Order.

Mishap Is Fatal To King Twp. Man

An old water heater lying in the back of a station wagon was blamed for causing the death of a Schomberg man in an accident on Highway 27 near Bradford, Saturday night.

Killed was Thomas Kitchen, 48, who died in Toronto General Hospital, after being brought there from York County Hospital.

Police said the Kitchen vehicle had crashed into a drainage ditch after first going out of control and travelling some 240 feet along the ditch. The car had crossed the northbound lane and gone into the ditch on the east side of the highway.

The water heater, lying loose in the back of the car, then apparently moved forward, crushing Mr. Kitchen against the dashboard of his car and fracturing his skull.
