Last Warning For 17-Yr. Old Youth Car Theft Charges

A 17-year old youth was saved from a jail sentence, but given his "last warning," when he appeared in Magistrate's Court last week for sentencing on three different charges.

Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake told Walter Dowell, of the House of Concord, that he didn't think he was a criminal, "just a very unwise young man." As a result he was going to suspend sentence for one year on two charges of car theft and one of wilful damage. He said a presentence report had spoken favourably of the youth.

"I don't think anything can be gained by sending you to jail," said Mr. Hollinrake. "I think you've now realized that it's time to stop being foolish." As terms of his probation, Dowell, whose mother testified at an earlier hearing that she had "no control over him", must continue to live at the House of Concord, unless the court gives him permission to move; he must report to a probation officer at least once a month; must not leave the area without permission; stay out of liquor stores and abstain from any alcoholic beverages; keep the peace and be of good behaviour.

"I don't want to send you to jail if I can help it, is what I'm trying to put across to you," said Mr. Hollinrake.

A Woodbridge man, who was fined $100 and costs, or 10 days in jail when he was convicted on a charge of driving while under suspension, was advised to take the jail sentence by Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake when he appeared last week in magistrate's court.

Robert Robinson, 24, pleaded guilty to the charge, which arose out of an accident in Vaughan Township, October 18. According to Police Constable James Mabley, Robinson was driving along a back road when he was hit by a car, driving without any lights. The wayward car then sped off.

Robinson said he and a friend were taking the car back to Woodbridge, where he intended to fix it up and sell it.

When Magistrate Hollinrake asked why the passenger hadn't driven it instead, he was informed that the latter was impaired.

The accused lost his licence in April, 1963 when he failed to satisfy a judgment of $400. It was because he still owed this money that Mr. Hollinrake suggested he take the jail term and apply the money he'd be spending on his fine on the judgment.

Robinson, however, asked for time to pay and was given two weeks.

Addison Receives 169 Service Votes

Results of the service vote in York North in the November 8 general election have been released by returning Officer Warren Ballie.

John Addison, Liberal candidate, who was re-elected to the House of Commons received 169 votes; Donald Martyn, Conservative, received 46 and James Norton, NDP, received 41. The service vote in York North followed the trend across Canada which in most ridings favored the Liberals.

The service vote had no effect on the outcome of the election in this riding, since Mr. Addison had a 1,372 majority over Mr. Martyn, without it.

Thomas Gleason

The sudden death of Mr. Thomas Gleason on November 5 was a shock to his many friends in Richmond Hill.

Born and raised in Depot Harbour, Parry Sound District, in 1901, he attended schools in that village and in Ottawa. Later he went to Detroit where he was employed in the automobile industry. Returning to Canada, he began a career in railroading as agent and telegrapher. He started this work at Foley, then was moved to many places in Northern Ontario. During World War II he was stationed at Camp Borden, then was moved to Collingwood, where he was employed for some years before coming to Richmond Hill.

On May 14, 1960, he married Marjorie Murphy and took up residence at 36 Church Street South.

Mr. Gleason was well known in the district, a faithful member of St. Mary Immaculate Catholic Church, of the Holy Name Society, and the Augustinian Order at Mary Lake, King.

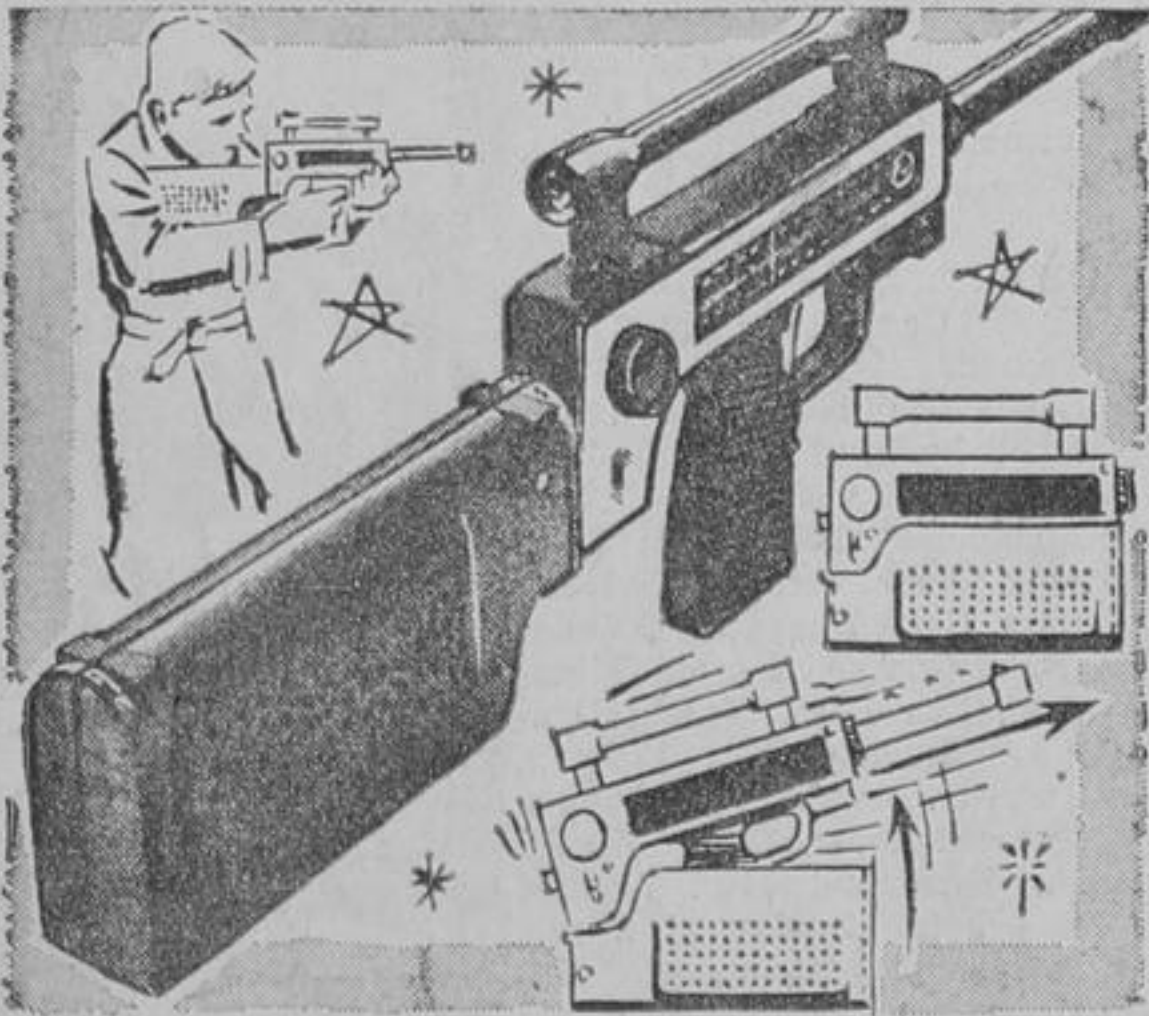

He rested at the Pipher Funeral Home. Requiem High Mass was sung in St. Mary Immaculate Church November 9. Interment followed in Holy Cross Cemetery.
