Wrangle Over Concord, Langstaff Problems

Members of Vaughan Township Council were met with a full house when they took their seats at the November 15 meeting. Two separate delegations of ratepayers filled council chambers and while they were welcomed graciously by Reeve A. H. Rutherford, before very long tempers flared and voices were raised.

The first delegation to be heard contained many familiar faces and the problem they raised was a hardy perennial—drainage in Elmwood Acres Subdivision at Concord.

R. W. Syme of 94 Rockview Gardens complained that there was four feet of water in the ditch in front of his house at that very moment and that he feared for the lives and health of his children as a result. Last year he had spent $1,400 repairing water damage to his basement, he said. "I have put up with it ever since I've been here," he stormed. "My taxes have done nothing but rise and nothing is done."

Mr. Syme also stated that he had put 150 loads of fill on his property to raise the level and prevent water lying on it and would be happy to raise it further if the township would take care of the ditches.

Reeve A. H. Rutherford noted that the township had sent machines and men in a month ago but that clearing out the ditches did not help as there was a low spot on Rockview Avenue and the water just poured back into it.

After almost an hour's wrangling, it was agreed that the ratepayers and council members, together with the township and county engineers should meet at the site on Saturday morning to survey the area and get the engineers' advice as to what could be done.

It was obvious that there was no consensus among the ratepayers as to what the solution was. J. C. Pepper of 87 Rockview Gardens noted that there were "violently disagreeing opinions now" and there no doubt still would be after Saturday's meeting.

Mr. Rutherford still felt that the Saturday morning meeting would be useful, although he reminded those present that council would have to depend on the engineers' levels and his decisions as to how the problem should be corrected.

Second delegation to assailed council was made up of residents of Garden Avenue, Langstaff and their problem is a more recent one, but one which they felt was worsening rapidly and would continue to worsen.

Spokesman for the group was R. R. Kendall of 102 Garden Avenue. Their concern, he said, was for the pedestrians, particularly young children, who must walk on Garden Avenue back and forth from school. Since the opening of Langstaff Secondary School, the only entrance to which is off Garden Avenue, traffic on this dead-end street had increased enormously.

Mr. Kendall pointed out that the pavement was only 20 feet wide, there are no sidewalks and in many places no shoulder to the road. When two vehicles, particularly large school buses, pass each other there is little or no clearance for pedestrians.

"We have to take to the ditches," interrupted one mother, who also stated that many of the mothers found it necessary to accompany their young children to Charles Howitt School.

Danger to pedestrians is much increased during winter months, it was noted, particularly when the grader has just been along and piled up snow on either side of the road. The residents noted that the school had 800 pupils now and was expected to be enlarged to accommodate 2,000 and that the problem would certainly get worse.

When asked by council members if they wished sidewalks, members of the delegation indicated they didn't wish to pay for sidewalks as they had not created the need for them. Instead they suggested that the township purchase land, north of Garden Avenue running west from Yonge Street to make only a private road to serve the high school.

Reeve Rutherford stated that council would investigate this possibility but stressed that the cost might well be prohibitive. He noted that the school board had had to expropriate the land for the high school originally, that buying frontage on Yonge Street would be very expensive and that if any further expropriation prevented the owner from using his land in the particular way he wished, or prevented him from selling it, he could claim damages which "could go as high as the moon".

Other suggestions were that an entrance be made to the school from Pearson Ave-due on the east of the school property, or that school buses be asked to discharge their passengers at the walk-through on Roosevelt Avenue, to the north of the school property. None of these suggestions were entirely acceptable to the delegation as they felt that they would only pass the problem on to other streets.

Complaints were also made that young people race their cars out of the school driveway onto Garden Avenue without stopping and that residents are continually disturbed by squealing brakes there, particularly after Friday night dances at the school.

A member of the delegation reported that they had attempted to voice their complaints at the high school board office "but we couldn't get beyond somebody's secretary" and that it had been denied that school buses even used Garden Avenue.

The reeve promised that council would have its staff look into the problem and that council would consult with the school board as to what could be done. He also suggested that drag racing on the school driveway and speeding should be reported to the police.

People And Events In Maple

Mr. and Mrs. Jim James of Naylor Street returned November 20 from a four week business and pleasure trip to South America. In the four weeks Jim and Pat flew to large cities in at least eight different countries. Their first stop was Jamaica, then Venezuela followed by visits to Peru, Trinidad, Uruguay, Argentina, Brazil and British West Indies. They spent six days with friends in Saint Lucas, and while in Rio visited Paul and Marilyn Richards, former Maple residents who have been in Rio for two and a half years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. James Sr. of Richmond Hill stayed with Shelly and Gail while their parents were away.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Sinclair and family of Goodman Crescent for their recent bereavement in the death of Dave's father, James L. A. Sinclair of Toronto. The funeral service was Friday last. Staying with the Sinclairs have been Dave's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robin Sinclair of Fort Francis.

Also visiting on Sunday was an old friend of Mrs. Sinclair's from Port Arthur, Mrs. James Wilson who has been staying with her brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Bill Weir who works with the Department of Lands and Forests.

John Perry has been a patient in Toronto General Hospital and is reported to be much improved since last weekend. Everyone in Maple sends him their very best wishes and hopes for a speedy recovery.

Marg Amos of Keele St. S. was a patient in York Central Hospital for five days last week where she underwent an operation on her hand. It will be in a cast for a few weeks.

Another York Central patient has been E. P. McQuarrie of RR 1 Maple. He has been in hospital for over two weeks and everyone wishes him well.

Lois McIntyre of Lancer Dr., was also in York Central for three days last week. She came home last Friday and is reported to be fine now.

James Wardrope of Keele St. is also a patient at York Central. He has been there since November 16 and best wishes for his recovery are extended from everyone.

Pioneer Bowling League
On November 18, the regular bowling night for the Pioneer League, Pete Craib's team took two points, making a total of 26 points for the season so far; Milt Palmer's team took seven points, giving them 26 points also; Clarence Brown's team took five, for a total of 23 and E. Borrett's team remained the same with nine.

High single for the night was bowled by Pete Craib with 233 and he also took the high triple with 656.

Due to a shortage of bowlers this league is going to redistribute its members, making four teams of four bowlers each. They will start a new series next week.

Anyone interested in bowling with his group of men over 65, is invited to call C. Brown at 832-2633.

"The Coral King"
The Maple Home and School Association is sponsoring a presentation of "The Coral King" by the Storybook Players of Richmond Hill. This very delightful play for children was presented in Richmond Hill for six sell-out performances recently and is now going to be put on in Maple. The date for the Maple presentation is 3:30 Saturday afternoon, December 4 at the Maple Community Centre.

The play is suitable for children from the age of three to 13 and a lot of adults thoroughly enjoyed it as well. It has been some years since a live play has been performed in Maple and this affords the children in town a wonderful opportunity to enjoy a new medium other than television and movies.

The tickets are very reasonable at 50 cents for children and 75 cents for adults.

All home and school members are selling tickets to the play and anyone who is not approach to buy tickets by a member, can get them by telephoning 832-1540, 832-1423 or 832-1116.

A good response is expected so the association is advising all interested parents to place their order early, as it would be a shame to have your children miss this delightful play.

Ladies Bowling Notes
The regular Monday night for the ladies league on November 15 saw the following points won: Turnips 7; Parsnips 0; Onions 5; Cabbages 2; Squash 5; Cauliflowers 2; Radishes 5; Pumpkins 2.

This leaves the standings as follows: Turnips 11, Squash 10, Cauliflower 9, Pumpkins 9, Radishes 8, Onions 7, Cabbages 2, Parsnips 0.

A new high triple was set this night with Betty Fraser getting 669. High game for the night went to Lynn Jellison with 294. This leaves Elva Moore high for the year with 310.

St. Andrew's WMS & WA
The WMS and WA of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met November 17 at the home of Mrs. J. McDonald, Keele St.

Vice-president Mrs. J. Cooper presided. Mrs. D. Sinclair was in charge of the program which was entitled "Called To Proclaim". She read a very stirring paper and was assisted in the rest of the program by Mrs. G. Jarrett, Mrs. A. Sutherland, Mrs. G. Pust, Mrs. J. Hynd and Mrs. J. Cooper. The committee then served lunch.

The next meeting will be December 15 at the home of Mrs. B. F. Andrew.

Maple IGA this weekend is offering a gift to readers of "The Liberal". Cut out the coupon which appears in their advertisement this week and the store will give you five pounds of granulated sugar free Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

Cancer Society
The Maple Branch of the cancer society met in the afternoon of November 18 at the home of Mrs. R. E. Smart. President Mrs. G. Hamilton presided. It was reported that two executive members attended the Central Counties District Annual Workshop in Streetsville.

The local society is in desperate need of volunteer drivers to transport cancer patients to the Princess Margaret Hospital for regular daily treatments. If there are lots of people willing to have their names on the list, it means that each driver is not required to be very often, and this is a wonderful help to the society and also to the patients. Anyone who has a car at their disposal and is willing to take their turn in doing the driving is asked to call Miss P. MacLachlan at 832-1560. This volunteer driving is very necessary to the work of the cancer society and fills a very real service to the community.

Concord News

Socials
Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bone, King High Drive were Mr. Bone's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Aitken and daughter Doreen from Moose Jaw. It has been 11 years since the Aitkens last visited here.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McLean, King High Drive, attended a pre-theatre cocktail party Saturday evening, then took a cheering section of nine people to applaud for son Robin who appeared in the New College Drama Guild's production of "Little Me" at Hart House Theatre. The play was a riotous musical comedy which was warmly applauded by the appreciative audience. It also won favorable reviews in the Toronto press.

Last Friday night appeared to be Concord Ladies Night at the Curtin Club's current attraction, "The Shop at Sly Corner". Enjoying the mystery play were Mrs. F. Voight, Mrs. George Edgar and Mrs. R. M. McLean.

Mrs. Ross Knight was unable to be present in her capacity as sound effects manager, as she has been ill in bed for a week, but Mr. Knight was on hand to fill in for her — which he did very well.

Anniversary
To celebrate their 26th (not 27th) wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Mills of Vaughan Blvd. went on a second honeymoon last week. They motored through Detroit, Louisville, Kenucky, Churchill Downs, where it was 70 degrees; the mountains of West Virginia where they passed through an ice storm and there were four inches of snow on the ground and the children were tobogganing. In Boston they visited friends and in all, drove 2,500 miles during the week they were away. The week was rounded off when they took sons David and Jimmy out for dinner for their favorite Chinese food.

Sick List
Mrs. William Lacey, Lawrie Road had a busy time last week when she had Billy, Michael and Kevin all home sick with colds.

Your correspondent was also on the sick list last week and spent four days in York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill.

Church News
Something different is planned for Friday night, November 26 at the Church of Christ at Concord Road and King High Drive.

It is not a religious service but a fund-raising program — but a family night to which all are invited.

Main feature of the evening — which starts at 7:30 pm will be a science movie "Our Mr. Sun" which will be of special interest to teens and up; and a "Woody Woodpecker" film for the younger set.

Refreshments will be provided. All in the community are invited to get together for this time of good friendship.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS HAILS SIGN REGISTER Honeymoon In Bermuda

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hails are shown signing the register after their marriage September 25 at St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Maple. Dr. Ramsay Armitage officiated at the ceremony. The church was tastefully decorated with standards of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. The bride is the former Mary-Ellen Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Hamilton, Maple, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reford Hails of Grimsby.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white silk gown with lace bodice and front panel. Her headpiece was a coronet of pearls with elbow-length bouffant veil. She carried pink and white roses with white stephanotis. Bride's attendants were Miss Lynda Rose, maid of honour, and Miss Wendy Jewkes, bridesmaid, cousin of the bride. They were gowned alike in sapphire blue satin, empire style, with matching bow and tulle headpieces. They carried colonial bouquets of tinted chrysanthemums.

Robert Moss was best man and ushers were Darrell Hails and William Hamilton, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parish hall where the bride's mother received wearing a sleeveless cream linen sheath dress with matching face coat, azure blue marabou hat and carried a purse corsage of blue gladioli and pink roses. The groom's mother assisted in a powder blue lace suit with matching feather hat and wore a corsage of pink and blue roses.

Out of town guests were from Ottawa, Toronto, Galt, Grimsby and Hamilton.

Following the reception the young couple left for a honeymoon in Bermuda. The bride chose a black and white checked dress, coachman style, with black patent accessories for travelling. They are now residing on Markham Road in Richmond Hill.
