

An Independent Weekly: Established 1878

Published by Richmond Hill Liberal Publishing Co. Ltd. W. S. COOK, Publisher "Authorized as second class mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa"

Wrong Approach

A Fitting Tribute

journeys.

Big Dividends

Rain, as we can all appreciate by sweeper in Midland to keep the main now, is a wonderful element. This streets clear of litter and thus pre-week it has soaked our parched land- sent a better image to tourists and

Member Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association

Readers of the Toronto Star were treated recently to some shocking statements by Dick Taylor (Liberal, Temiskaming) regarding the position the Legislature plays in the life of our province. The statements by Mr. Taylor, a top advisor to Ontario Liberal Leader Andy Thompson, were reported in a feature series carried by that newspaper concerning the provincial party.

Mr. Taylor's remarks were frightening to anyone who believes in the democratic process and has studied and appreciates the historic struggle our forefathers waged to gain the measure of responsible government we all enjoy today.

"There's undue emphasis on what goes on in the House," he said in an interview. "The ordinary member finds everything revolves around what's being done in the House, but that's the last thing most people think of. The rank and file of the population really couldn't care less what's going on there.

"Unless something very serious happens nobody is concerned with what's being done in the Legislature."

It is surprising that Mr. Taylor, who can only be classed as a junior member of the Legislature (he wasn't elected until 1963), would feel that in three short years he is in a posi-

The name of Les Baker will live long in the hearts of his family, his fellow workers and all who knew this kindly man. For more than a quarter of a century he has looked after the waterworks system of Richmond Hill first as a peaceful village of less than 3,000 people and through its years of great expansion when as a town that population grew and Through these years the demands on Mr. Baker's time also grew and grew, but he carried out his duties with good humor and a concern for his home community that might well

The gift of his family to the town will be a constant reminder to all who knew him, and to future generations,

of a man who gave a good day's work scape with life-giving moisture. It is also a cleanser, and in this regard.

while we can be grateful, many of us

the biggest season for tourism this area has yet experienced. Our communities and places of business have been bustling with activity. Until the rains, the evidence was obvious.

Some of it will remain afterwards to offend the eye. We're speaking of

In a booming season such as this, litter can be expected. It is a necessary evil. But that doesn't mean it should be left to accumulate as has been the case in certain areas of vented the washing of main thoroughfares surely there could have been more use of the municipal

While a shortage of water has pre-almost every local community.

This summer has brought perhaps cannot be overly proud. .

grew to nearly 20,000 people.

be copied by all of us.

tion to make such shattering statements concerning the supreme lawmaking body in this province. His public utterances take on greater importance when one realizes that in his position as chief provincial organizer for Mr. Thompson he is among the few top Liberals who are deciding party strategy and policy in Ontario. One can only assume that he is echoing his leader's thoughts concerning the House.

The fact remains, whether Mr. Taylor likes the Legislature or not (he admits the thought of making a speech makes him sick), it and it alone passes and amends the numerous laws which so vitally affect the lives of the nearly seven million people who reside in Ontario. In the true democratic fashion the Legislature is composed of our elected representatives and is directly responsible to the electors.

It is the duty of Mr. Taylor and his associates on the Liberal benches to fully represent their constituents and to form an effective opposition to the government in power. They can do this only by taking an active part in the debates and work of the assembly. If the system is not working well, and the Legislature is not fulfilling the task that was intended for it, then we the electors are sending the wrong people to Queen's Park.

and more, every day, to his employers, the citizens of Richmond Hill.

What better memorial to a good citizen, whose interest had been in seeing that all residents had a dependable supply of water, than a drinking fountain. The memorial fountain provides an oasis on Yonge Street, where the thirsty passerby may quench his thirst and quietly pay tribute to a former citizen. The bench and pleasant surroundings will also prove a boon to the foot-weary where they may rest awhile in their would have heartily approved of this memorial which will commemorate his many years of public service by giving a resting place to the citizens of the town he served so long and Businessmen can assist by cleaning up their sidewalks and parking areas and, if we might make a suggestion, this could be done after, as well as at the beginning of each business day. Finally, pedestrians, shoppers and motorists, those on whom the blame for litter must fall, can do their bit by making use of trash cans or stuffing candy wrappers, etc., in their pockets until they

Saturday is usually the busiest day for shopping and other activities.

This Sunday morning as you make your way to church, what will your main street look like? Could you have done anything about it? Don't leave it all up to the rain. Let us all work to improve the image we have of our town. It pays big dividends.

permanent residents.

get home.

We are certain that Mr. Baker

School Bells Mean Television Watching for London 7th Graders

With arithmetic on the blackboard, 7th grade pupils in London, Ontario view "Elizabethan Theatre" on a Sparton of Canada, Ltd. set as part of their educational television programming.

It isn't all reading, writing and 'rithmetic when school bells ring this fall - at least not for the 7th graders in the London, Ontario public school system. These pupils also are watching television. The amount and type of programming are in proper perspective, of course, and thoroughly supervised by educational authorities.

The television watching for the 7th graders began last year as an experiment to measure the value of television's role in modern education.

It started in mid-year when the London Board of Education agreed to rent 60 television sets from Sparton of Canada, Ltd., so grade seven pupils could watch a special series on new math.

John Given, superintendent of the London Public Schools, reported that the Sparton sets were purchased for further programming when "very good reports" were received from school principals on the new math program.

Television programming has been expanded on a controlled basis, according to R. S. Mitchell, audio-visual supervisor, to include other programs such as "Your World", "Science Around Us" "Junior Bookshelf", "Faces of Freedom", and "Elizabethan Theatre".

Most important are the special broadcasts on current events, such as the "Opening of Parliament". These are observed with particularly keen interest because the students are seeing freedom and democratic processes in action "live" on the screen.

Home entertainment - type sets with 23-inch screens were purchased because they can be viewed readily in individual classrooms, thereby controlling the experiment with a specific group.

On the basis of first-year results, Mr. Mitchell stated, "It is our belief that the use of these sets have made a significant contribution to the education of the pupils in our

Sparton reported that it is designing television receivers specifically for this type of use due to the success of the program and the growing interest in the development of television as an educational

Company officials noted that the London Trade School also purchased 10 units for technical training of teenagers and adults, and that sets can be used in almost limitless ways, such as hospitals, factories - any place there is a need for audiovisual training.

Rambling Around

by Elizabeth Kelson Thornhill Area Recreation Committee

Looks To The Future Les Moore represents a new type of up and coming citizen you are apt to find manning the decks of ARC these days. Thornhill Area Recreation Committee is a sub-agent of the Vaughan Township Recreational Committee.

Mr. Moore, a tall, very personable mechanical engineer with Cooper-Bessemer, Toronto, has lived in Thornhill since 1957. He is past-president of the ratepayers association of the Uplands Subdivision and past-chairman of ARC.

Clare Moore, his wife, is a past-president of the York County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association. The Moore's have two sons, Bob 14 and Bill 12.

His main reason for plunging into community work, according to Les, was the hope of giving it the benefit of his considerable business experience. He is backed by the whole committee who are trying to come up with more efficient planning in order to do justice to a rapidly expanding Thornhill area.

The area under the supervision of ARC stretches from Bathurst to Bayview Ave. and from Carrville Sideroad to Steeles Ave.

ARC exists to bring to local inhabitants available recreational facilities. This may include churches, schools, playground areas and recreational activities like hockey, tennis, baseball and swimming. The Thornhill Tennis club supports itself on a membership basis but is aided financially on some occasions by ARC. The Thornhill Swimming Pool oversees the speed and synchronized swimming clubs and swimming lessons. Swimming lessons are given to local children coming from the area between Carrville Road and Steeles at the cost of $3 per child this summer. Bus loads of children were re-

(Continued on Page 14)

At Your Richmond Hill Public Library

ENGLAND'S PRIDE by Julian Symons

On January 26, 1885, General Gordon's heroic defence of Khartoum ended when the Mahdi's force took the town by storm and stabbed Gordon to death. Two days later, the advance guard of the relieving force found the town in the Mahdi's hands. Why did the relief fail? Mr. Symons tells the whole story, both political and military.

> MALTA by Walter Kummerly

In 40 glorious colour pictures this beautiful book shows every side of the unique islands of Malta; their sunshine, historic buildings, docks, rocky headlands, sandy beaches, busy streets, peaceful farm lands, and the people.

* * * * * HESKETH PEARSON BY HIMSELF by Hesketh Pearson

Hesketh Pearson was born in the 1870's. As a child and as a young man he was poor. Then suddenly in 1908 he inherited a thousand pounds and went on a joyous tour to Mexico and Canada. When his money gave out he went back to England and started to work in the Theatre.

From the stage he went on to write literary criticism and biographies - all of them immensely successful. This is his autobiography, an autobiography that includes not only his own life but the lives of his friends - and he had many: Shaw, Lloyd George, Chesterton, H. G. Wells, Malcolm Muggeridge. * * * * *

> THE UNREPENTANT PILGRIM by Percey J. Smith

A rather new, sometimes startling, picture of the great G.B.S. emerges from these pages. Serious students of Shaw will find much interest. * * * *

> THE PRINCE IN THE HEATHER by Eric Linklater

Eric Linklater tells in his elegant and unsentimental prose this extraordinary story of the young pretender's wanderings during the five months between the defeat at Culloden and his departure to France and safety from Lochnan Uamh.

THE INVISIBLE SCAR

* * * * *

by Caroline Bird A comprehensive examination of the great depression and its far-reaching effects upon the government, politics, education and people - even to-day.

George Mayes On —

The Flip Side

The U.S. released last weekend pictures of the Earth taken from 850 miles in space by astronauts Conrad and Gordon . . . and sure enough, just as predicted by Orson Bean, somebody moved!

This is again the week of the great Niagara Park and Ward I Ratepayers Grape And Wine Festival. . . You'll notice they say "grape AND wine" - which supports our suspicions about the ingredients in that Catawba.

Toronto school authorities estimate that 10%, or forty thousand, of the city's school children are now "emotionally disturbed" . . . One peculiar thing about this sudden rise in emotionally disturbed children is the almost complete disappearance of the types who used to be described as spoiled brats.

And the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police says the term "juvenile delinquents" should be changed to "young offenders". . . C'mon now! What do they REALLY call them when they get them in the back room?

As a result of last week's strike, the Brewers' Warehousing Company has raised to 45 the age limit for its employees . . . but will graciously continue to sell its wares to anyone over this age who has the money to pay.

Russia has introduced to the world a line of Russian-made perfumes. . . So THAT'S what they've been doing with the odours they take out of their Vodka!

And Japan is introducing into North America an inexpensive line of rifles and shotguns. Darn (Continued on Page 14)

Window On The Past

by Doris M. Fitzgerald * * * * *

THE FORGOTTEN HUNTER

In the eighteen forties farm-|Clairville, a village on the ers from around Thornhill and southwest edge of Vaughan Clairville shared two great en- Township, the owners of fast thusiasms - horse racing and horses arranged semi-annual Like many rural communities Tavern, and the other half a Thornhill had its own half mile mile north at Eyton, "where oval race track where skilled Joseph Champlain kept an host-riders could compete on the elry in good old Yorkshire stretch, or at the jumps. In style" Fox hunting, however was a nore uncommon diversion and required the co-operation of both groups. Some of the English and Irish settlers near Clairville kept hounds but they could not have come out with a full pack at their meet in Eyton without the assistance of William Chapman, and other sporting farmers with dogs, from William Porter, who was only a boy at the time, remembered seeing the hounds fed on moistened oatmeal balls and coupled During this year he work- in pairs, all in one room until ed on the 20 year develop- the fox was let off. Then they were away in full cry, followed lof them wearing scarlet coats schemes, community and at night was also exciting, the lion of the occasion being the rider who carried "the brush" In his reminiscences Mr. Porter said that these things happened principally between 1840-45, and he was very much of the opinion that this pack of hounds was the first brought together planner for the Township of | Checking this statement we North York and the following found that fox hunting was in-

Flashback

In Years Gone By

Richmond Hill was not without industry, even in its earliest days. A partial list of early mills includes:

The first industrial establish-where steam power had to be ment recorded was a distillery used.

built on Lot 43 Vaughan Town- A saw mill built on Lot 45 ship by James Lymburner in and 46, by James Playter in 1811. William Harrison describes 1848 was still in use in 1885. the distillery fires as blazing This was run by water power night and day to keep up the from Boyle's Pond on Vaughan supply of stimulating beverages. Road east of York Central Hos-Another distillery was built on pital. In the same location was Lot 47 Vaughan by James Mc- an iron works where Washington

Davids in 1844. Major manufactured plowshares. On Lot 43, just south of the He also had a cider mill nearby. present town limits, Mr. Lym- A saw mill was built by James burner also erected a grist mill Langstaff on Lot 48 Vaughan in in the same year and replaced 1847. He also erected a foundry it in 1840 by another. Still an- and edge tool factory. Both were other grist mill was built on this located at the end of Richmond lot by John Atkinson in 1885. Street and were sold to L. Innis The earlier mills, those built & Son in 1889. The old mill in 1811 and 1840, were water burned down shortly after the powered, but by 1885 the flow transfer and was replaced by a of water in the branch of the combination saw and planing Don had diminished to the point (Continued on Page 14)

Local Folk Group Reaches Goal Engagements In Yorkville

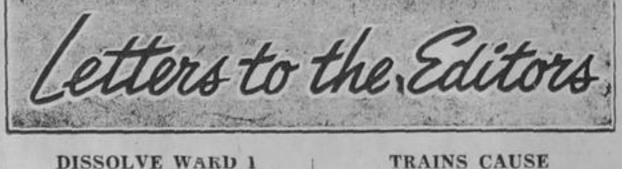

A group of Maple folk sing- | She, in this case, is Margaret ers, who a few months ago were Queen, 18, of 182 Romac Court looking for church halls to sing Richmond Hill, who had been in, have reached the mecca of all singing on her own before joinfolk artists with several recent ing "The Kinfolk", which also engagements in Toronto's inter-features Bill's sister, Nancy, 17, nationally-known Yorkville Vil- and the Good Twins, Brian and Bruce, 20.

In fact things have moved along so swiftly for Bill Kerrigan and "The Kinfolk" that they're now thinking seriously of getting a manager to handle their engagement of the some some singing previously with Bill in other group, so he came to the quartet recommended.

Right now "The Kinfolk" their engagements, the most re-cent of which have been repeat stands at "The Mouse Hole" and stands at "The Mouse Hole" and nis Club this week in Markham "The Riverboat" in Yorkville. Village.

"We've even got another Anyone wishing to contact the singer." said leader Kerrigan, group for performances can and "she's added a lot to the reach them at 832-2643 in Maple and 889-2995 in Toronto.

DISSOLVE WARD 1 ASSOCIATION Dear Mr. Editor:

up or shut up"?

TRAFFIC JAMS

Is it not time that the Elgin Dear Mr. Editor: I know we had just gotten Association was asked to "Put over a rail strike and there was a lot of freight to be moved I contend that they do not but to be held up for twenty nor ever have represented maj- minutes September 9 at 8.30 am while a north-bound freight ority opinion in Ward I. Whenever any subject is be-train waited for a south-bound ing discussed on which they one to pass was a bit too much, feel there may be some differ- Isn't it time the level crossings ences of opinion in the ward, at Markham Rd. and Crosby they climb on their high horses Ave. were eliminated with so and gallop off wildly in every much traffic passing through direction, screaming "Injustice" these streets now. at the top of their voices. Would it not be better if they retired gracefully and dissolved their organization, giving way to more level-headed group, if indeed there is any real need for one at all?

Yours truly, P. A. SALE, 223 Beechy Drive, Beverley Acres.

Yours truly. G. STEVENS 145 Essex Ave., Richmond Hill.

FOR BIG BARGAINS LATE MODEL CARS CONSULT THE LIBERAL CLASSIFIEDS

. Watkins Glen & Finger

JOIN ONE OF OUR ALL EXPENSE TOURS . New York Basic Tour

. New York All Expense

Muskoka Colorama Tour

e Foothills of the Allegheny Mts. & Kinzua Dam

. Kolor Kavalkade to the Kawartha Lakes ASK FOR OUR FREE BROCHURE

GOOD COMPANION TOURS BY OXLEY AGENT: MRS. R. S. BAIN 53 Edgar Avenue - Richvale Phone: 889-4165

Lakes

Eighth Season 1966-1967 TUESDAYS - Bayview Secondary School

7.30 p.m. (one showing)

OCTOBER 4 - THE SHAPE OF THINGS TO TO COME

H. G. WELL'S SCIENCE FICTION FILM ABOUT THE AFTERMATH OF WAR, with Sir Ralph Richardson

NOVEMBER 1 - THE HORSE'S MOUTH JOYCE CARY'S NOVEL, IN COLOUR. A COMEDY ABOUT AN UNSCRUPULOUS

ARTIST, with Sir Alec Cuiness DECEMBER 6 - THE LONELINESS OF THE

LONG DISTANCE RUNNER COMPASSIONATE STUDY OF A TEEN-AGE FAILURE, with Tom Courtenay

Clip this list for reference Each showing will be followed by discussion in small groups, with refreshments, under selected chairmen

SEASON TICKETS, $2.00. Remit (including exchange) to LOIS PERKINS, 110 CHURCH STREET SOUTH, RICHMOND HILL.

The size of the auditorium will limit the audience to 150 persons, so it is expected that the number of tickets available at the door will be restricted.

Former Markham Planner Key Man Waterloo County Project

The Waterloo County Area Planning Board must be Municipal Affairs Minister Spooner's pride and joy. If you listen to his recent speeches you'll hear a plea for urban and rural people to rural municipalities to achleve more co-operation and understanding. where this has been accom-get back together.

in Waterloo County. the Waterloo County Area director in Markham Town-Planning Board, which this ship, was hired as planning month celebrates its first director. birthday.

its kind in Ontario when es- Board to act as tablished by Mr. Spooner planner, after years of talks by county officials.

one in Ontario County and ing moves to a local govern- thing from zoning and deanother in Elgin County. The board's chairman is County. Donald Snider, a former Waterloo alderman, who has ed the parent," Mr. Snider other impressive list of ters were mailed. handled the reins of the contends. difficult organization with quiet diplomacy.

In its first year of operation, the board has achieved an almost unbelievable degree of co-operation. But Mr. Snider agrees that the real test will come in the next six to 12 months when board members get He will urge urban and their taste of a proposed of-scratch, most of the board's together to discuss mutual in the next year. One area he can point to work so far has been in organizing its professional staff plished to a large degree is and administration. Early this year, Ronald For-

The main reason for this is rest, formerly the planning

Frederick Losee was hired It was the first board of from the Oakville Planning Oddly enough, the key quickly. achievement of the board was for another year. The local government review could be the most important study since the county was established more than 100 years

-Midland Free Press

The stage for the government review was set at the area planning board level. It was the first time both city Because it started from and farm people could get and become involved in a lot more things than we ever thought we would," said Mr. Snider. "The board has far exceeded the expectations of

He said he was particularly pleased that the 36 board members and alternates got to know each other so by the interest shown in the

During the year, speakers planning branch of the muni-Now, there are two more- not in planning but in spark- were invited to talk on every- cipal affairs department. ment review of Waterloo velopment to water problems, use of an extensive public "The child has overshadow- months the board has an- month close to 1,000 newslet> guest speakers. And it's likely to continue "I think it broadened the pamphlets went to people overshadowing the parent horizons of all members of outside the county. And there ope. He became town plan-the board," said Mr. Snider. One of the problems in getting the board on its feet is the lack of planning staff. Most municipalities in the province have been looking for more help, but there just

The area board will likely hire a planning assistant, a draftsman and a clerk-typist It is already well on the "We've done a lot more way to producing an official plan, making use of much of the information gathered

> Mr. Forrest points out that the province is using the Waterloo County area as a guide for other counties in Ontario. His idea can be supported board by the community over the years by other

The board has also made And in the next three relations program. Last

Many of these information Professor J. S. Allen, one of are more requests for them every day. Members of all boards and commissions in the county receive the news-Mr. Snider feels the next 12 months will "test the mettle" of the board. Up until now, there hasn't been any major divergence of opinion among board members, but when the official plan is being discussed, this could change. The official plan or statement on development policy will likely be decided on in the next six months. In drafting will coincide with work on the local government study.

increase in work, Mr. Forrest more than one meeting of the board a month. - Kitchener -Waterloo Record * * * *

And to handle the expected

A native of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, Mr. Forrest developed his interest in town planning in that city under the leading planners in Eur-ner for Gateshead and in 1948 enrolled in the School of Town Planning at the University of Durham. From 1950 to 1953 he worked as town planning assistant with County Borough of South Shields, England.

program. He was in charge of planning and controlling central areas re-development neighborhood designs, slum clearance and bombed area re-development schemes.

In 1953 he came to Canada, fishing boat.

Waterloo area.

working his way as a merchant seaman on a 95-ton

In 1954 he became town in Canada.

year became planning direc- troduced in Canada as early as tor for Markham Township, 1759, by military men and Brita position he held until May, ish settlers. The Montreal 1964, when he left to take Hunt Club was established in over similar duties in York 1826, and the Toronto Hunt in Township. This year he ac- 1826. Both are still active but cepted a position as planning the Toronto Hunt is now called director of the Kitchener- the Toronto and North York (Continued on Page 14)