War On High Cost Of Food Is Speaker's Subject

St. Luke's Roman Catholic
Mrs. W. Lynch, Almond Avenue, was hostess at a very successful CWL Membership Tea held October 16. Receiving with Mrs. Lynch were Father T. H. Chidlow, pastor of St. Luke's, Mrs. C. Enright, convenor, and M. Martyniuk, president of the CWL.

News, archdiocesan president of The CWL.
Mrs. J. P. Loughran, assisted by Mrs. H. Stott and Miss Sandra Cyr, convened the bake table. Mrs. A. Mallon, assisted by Mrs. E. Friz and Mrs. T. Coughlin, was in charge of bazaar items for sale suitable for Christmas gifts. The proceeds will be forwarded as the CWL contribution to the Vanier Institute of the Family, 1967 Centennial project.

convened by Mrs. L. Jamieson.
Mrs. A. Jackson read an article "There Shall Be Education!" The text emphasized that reading books and parents interest was a great factor in a child's education. Mrs. T. Empringham read "Story Of The Flag".
Several lovely layettes and baby articles knitted by members were on display. The articles will be delivered to the York County Children's Aid Society in Newmarket for needy babies.

in the church. The program has been arranged by the music committee and will include choral offerings. Everyone is invited to attend this very special musical evening.
The session is called to meet November 14 at 8 pm. Remembrance Day will be observed November 6 with a Scout and Cub Parade. The Sacrament of Baptism will take place at the service.
Young people willing to participate in the Christmas pageant either acting or singing please meet in the church sanctuary at the close of the service November 13 to meet the committee. This is for young people ages 12-25.

GEORGE MCKELVEY, BA.

Receives Degree

A grade 6 teacher at Henderson Avenue Public School, Thornhill, George McKelvey recently completed his Bachelor of Arts degree extramurally from the University of Western Ontario, majoring in history.
Mr. McKelvey is a graduate of Banting Memorial Secondary School in Alliston and of Lakeshore Teachers' College. He came to the teaching profession from industry having been with BA Oil Company. He taught formerly in the Toronto school system. His current interest is in developmental reading.
Married and with one child, Mr. McKelvey lives in Markham Village. He will be the delegate of TSA 1 Markham to the Ontario Curriculum Development conference to be held in Toronto in November.

Special guest at the tea was
Mrs. J. Bryon, regional chairman of the CWL, and the Misses Jane and Minnie Seager, long time Thornhill residents, attended with the Misses Vi and Irene Mahon.
The regular monthly meeting was held October 17 in the separate school. Mrs. Gordon B. Armstrong, president of the Toronto Association of Consumers, was guest speaker.
Mrs. Armstrong's talk was very much in keeping with the present war on the high cost of food. The mother of five teenagers, she is a graduate of the University of Toronto in economics and has had several years of experience in making surveys by watching customers shopping in supermarkets. She warned members not to be influenced by attractive colorful packaging of goods that are strategically placed to catch the eye. Mrs. Armstrong stated that customers should take trading stamps and gimmicks offered by the store because they had already paid for them with their purchases. Stores don't give away anything for nothing she said.

Horticultural Society
K. Svanefelt of Weall and Cullen Nurseries, Scarborough addressed the October meeting of the local societies on "Trees and Shrubs". Mr. Svanefelt spoke on the culture and pruning and answered many questions from the audience.
There were 94 entries in the flower and vegetable show and Mrs. Wilson who judged the show remarked on the high quality of the flowers exhibited and especially commended N. Lightfoot, of Concord on his collection of vegetables.
The next meeting of the society will take place November 15 at 8 pm in the lower auditorium of the United Church. Guest speaker for the evening will be Gordon Longworth of Richmond Hill who will speak on "Garden Lighting". Newcomers are invited to attend the meeting and learn how to make their garden beautiful by both day and night.

Scouts & Cubs
Scott Tremaine was presented with the Queen's Scout Badge by Rover Leader Harry Baker at the annual parents night of 3rd Thornhill Scouts and Cubs held October 25 in Holy Trinity Hall. Scott, an honor student in grade 13 at Thornhill Secondary, will be officially invested by the chief Scout of Canada at a ceremony to be held next May.
A large number of parents turned out for the event and were on hand to see Cubs invested to Scouts at a special candlelight ceremony. Rev. H. R. Howden was present and gave the opening prayer.
Group Committee Chairman Al Haworth introduced committee members and Scout Leaders David Moore and Bob Shearer and Cub Leaders Adrian Dickson, Jim Haworth, Charles Pearce and Doug Jones to the parents.
Outstanding Cubs and Scouts were given awards for extra effort in Scouting and were presented with medallions by Mr. Haworth. Award winning Scouts were Ed Graves, David Shearer and Wayne, Carswell and Cubs Peter Hicks, Neil Burden, Randy Iris, Stephen Haworth, Trevor Dixon, Stuart Krausevic, Scott Haworth and Stephen Pritchard.
Mrs. Haworth, president of the ladies auxiliary, presented prizes of money pouches and pocket comb cases to six Cubs for their best decorated baskets on apple day.
The ladies auxiliary served refreshments following the ceremony.

Socially Speaking

Library
The Thornhill Public Library, Colborne Street, has received several new and outstanding books recently. Among the group is "The Honey Badger", Robert Ruark; "Bay of Traitors", Garland Roak; "Pure Poison", Hillary Waugh; "Sark", William Lederer and Eugene Burdick; "Epitaph For a Spy", Eric Ambler; "High Commissioner", Jon Cleary; "The Mountbattens", Allen Hatch; "Under Wilderness Skies", W. Philip Keller; "Raccoons Are The Brightest People", Sterling North; "The Conquest of England", Eric Linklater.
Residents living in Markham Township may now join the library without paying fees owing to the new library tax assessment.

Gillian who is at present doing post graduate work at the University of British Columbia and son Jim who is at the University of Washington.
Mr. McTaggart-Cowan is president of Simon Fraser University and Mrs. McTaggart-Cowan spoke with enthusiasm of the new university. She said it was quite a challenge and young ideas and youthful professors make Simon Fraser an outstanding example of a university keeping abreast with the times.
Simon Fraser is situated on top of Burnaby Mountain and lies seven miles to the east of the centre of Vancouver commanding magnificent views of Vancouver Harbor, the Fraser River, mountains and Burrard Inlet.
The university has two special features in the trimester system and the lecture-tutorial method of instruction. Conducted tours take place during the summer months for the general public interested in outstanding architecture and the latest approach in university education. The McTaggart-Cowans look forward to seeing many Thornhill students at Simon Fraser in the future.

MR. AND MRS. ELVIN LORNE HINCKS

Presented With Symbols Of Good Wishes

Thornhill Presbyterian Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding September 17, when Carolyn Dianna Elizabeth Shannon became the bride of Elvin Lorne Hincks of RR 2, Gornley, Rev. Dillwyn T. Evans officiated at the marriage.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne F. Shannon, Thornhill and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Hincks, Mount Forest.

The four attendants wore matching floor-length brocade gowns, styled with empire waists and A-line skirts in golden tulle. They wore matching wedding ring headbands and carried bouquets of Talisman roses, surrounded by white carnations and ferns.
Ringbearer was Danny Baetz, London, nephew of the groom. Groomsman was Kenneth Clifford Hincks of Mount Forest, the groom's brother, and ushers were Patrick Shannon and Glen Hincks, both of Thornhill.
As the bride and groom left the church they were presented with a small wooden rolling pin and a horseshoe containing a black cat. These items, symbolizing wishes for the best of everything throughout their lives, were presented to the happy couple by the maid of honor.

Receiving at the reception in the church hall, the bride's mother wore a coat and dress of soft green lace over taffeta with matching accessories. This was accented with a corsage of pink carnations.
The groom's mother wore a jacket-dress of raspberry Italian brocade, with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.
The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and two candelabra.
For a trip to Ottawa and Montreal the bride donned a white wool suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Hincks will reside in Thornhill.
Out-of-town guests were from London, Waterdown, Guelph, Welland, Norwood, Dundalk, Atwood, Clifford, Mount Forest, Varney and Swinton Park.

United Church
Call to stewardship day is November 13. The congregation of Thornhill United is asked to please plan to be home in the afternoon to discuss pledges for 1967.
Dr. David Ouchterlony, D.Litt.S., musical director of Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, will give an organ recital November 8 at 8 pm

Neighbors
The 3rd Thornhill Rover Crew participated in the Greater Toronto Region Annual Car Rally October 15 and 16. Members of the crew were John Secord, navigator, Steve Sabiston, Assistant Rover Mate David Horton and Rover Mate Dave Cann as driver.
Forty-three entrants left Downsview DOT early Saturday and 40 cars completed the first day at Drumbo, near Woodstock. Overnight was spent at a permanent Boy Scout campsite where the various Rover crews and leaders became acquainted and enjoyed an evening of comradeship.
On Sunday the rally got away in the morning and a lunch stop was made at Acton. The rally was terminated at King Side-road and Highway 400.
The 3rd Thornhill Rovers placed 19th which was satisfactory for an initial experience and considering that the odometer was out of calibration. The group enjoyed the outing and are looking forward to the next car rally.

October 20 Mrs. Rita Monture, 424 Roosevelt Drive, was installed as vice-gran of the Willowdale Branch of the Rebekah Lodge. This lodge, the women's division of the IOOF, will hold a bazaar in North York Community Hall November 5 from 2 to 4 pm.
November 5 is also the day the In-Be-Teen Club of Emmanuel Anglican Church, MacKay Drive, will hold their annual rummage sale. Articles are still being picked up. If you have anything to contribute please call 889-5052.
The Halloween card party, sponsored by Emmanuel Church Guild, was a great success with everyone enjoying the games, prizes and refreshments. Another card party is planned for March. Members of the guild are now putting all their efforts into the poinsettia tea and bazaar November 19 from 2 to 4 pm. Mrs. Barbara Davis is in charge of the white elephant table and would gladly see that articles are picked up. Just call her at 889-4300. Baking and candy are always big sellers at the bazaar. Anyone wishing to contribute these is asked to call Mrs. Joan Fitchett at 889-4163.
Birthdays were sent this week to Paul Taylor of Pearson Avenue, who will be entertaining friends Saturday afternoon.
Mrs. A. Baird and Mrs. E. E. Spears of Roosevelt Drive were delegates to the Ontario Hospital Auxiliaries convention at the Royal York Hotel recently. They represented York Central Hospital Auxiliary.
Hospitalians from all over Ontario were represented by 602 registered delegates. After three days of round table discussions, speeches and just plain talk about auxiliary work, these people returned to their branches with renewed enthusiasm.

Ken Kowal, Richvale Imperial Oil Award
Ken Kowal of 15 Kersey Crescent, Richvale, is among more than 115 Canadian high school students to qualify for Imperial Oil higher education awards this year, the company recently announced.
A graduate of Langstaff Secondary School, Ken began the study of veterinary medicine at Guelph University in April and is now in his second semester there. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kowal, who came to this area in 1950.
Ken received all his elementary and secondary education here, attending Carville and Ross Doan Public Schools, Richmond Hill High and Langstaff Secondary, and has always been a hard-working student.
Imperial Oil, under its plan, pays tuition and other compulsory fees of all children and wards of employees and annuitants who average 70% or more in final examinations required for entrance to recognized institutions of higher learning. Ken's father is employed by Imperial Oil at its Ashbridge Bay plant. The awards provide for a maximum of four years so long as holders successfully complete each year.
