5 Candidates Run For 3 Seats On Maple Board

By MARGARET McLEAN

A peculiar fever appears to be epidemic in Vaughan Township, its main symptom being an uncontrollable desire to seek public office. A group of 17 afflicted persons have become candidates for township council and school board but the infection has now spread downward and last Thursday evening, nine candidates were proposed for the three places on the board of trustees of the Police Village of Maple.

Oldtimers at the business were not a little amazed, as well as pleased, and recalled previous years when it had been necessary to scour the bowling alley in the community hall looking for second-nominees.

Nominatees were last year's chairman of the board, Frank Robson and the other two sitting members, Jim Hodgson and Roland Keffer, although these last two declined. Two other veterans of village affairs, John Neufeld and Walter Field were also nominated but both declined.

Remaining in the field with Mr. Robson are Fred W. Young, George Jones-Whitney, Charles R. Wilmot and J. C. Peter Angus.

All made short election speeches. After expressing his gratification over the interest shown in village affairs by the number of candidates — and also the presence of three ladies among the audience, Mr. Robson referred to a statement of the village's budget as of November 30. Out of a total budget of $13,101, this showed $1,335 spent on street lighting, power and maintenance, $120 on public works, $1,325 for road work by the township road department, administrative expenses of $193 and a balance on hand of $10,127.

However, it was noted that purchase orders have been issued totalling $26,700 which will be charged against 1966 operations. This expense is for the village share of the reconstruction of the intersection of Keele Street and Maple Sideroad recently carried out by the Toronto and York Roads Commission and for new lighting at the intersection.

It was explained that this work is eligible for a provincial subsidy of $11,850, making Maple's share $14,850. With the $10,127 on hand, this leaves the village in the red for a total of $4,723 which will considerably curtail activity next year. Questioned about removal of snow from sidewalks where it will be thrown by plows, Mr. Robson advised that the subject had been discussed with the county engineer last spring and also referred to Vaughan Township Council but no solution had been offered as yet.

In his acceptance speech, Fred Young of Naylon Street, a professional engineer, advised that he had lived in Maple for the past eight years, during which time he had been active in work on the community park with the Lions Club and with the building of the parish hall and with young people's groups at St. Stephen's Anglican Church.

Mr. Young said that he was interested in Maple, that it was a pretty village but was changing. While he realized that the trustee did not have much control, he felt that he could serve it by making representations to both the township and county council about matters which concerned residents. It was unfortunate, he said, that the village was to be saddled with debt for the reconstruction of the intersection.

Mr. Young said that he was interested in Maple, that it was a pretty village but was changing. While he realized that the trustee did not have much control, he felt that he could serve it by making representations to both the township and county council about matters which concerned residents. It was unfortunate, he said, that the village was to be saddled with debt for the reconstruction of the intersection.

This would restrict the trustees' activities for the next year or two but he was prepared to challenge the county on this and try to get it to shoulder a larger share of the costs.

George Jones-Whitney was shown on the nomination papers as a manufacturer and was proposed by J. W. Field and seconded by John Neufeld. Admitting that this was his first venture into local politics he confined himself to noting that he had wide experience in business administration to offer and also an ardent desire to see that Maple remains a nice place to live in.

Another engineer, Charles R. Wilmot, 19 Ryder Road, advised that he had lived in Maple for five years, had been educated in York County at Sutton and was a graduate of the University of Toronto in civil engineering. Employed by the Department of Highways since 1954, in 1959 he was appointed planning engineer with the municipal roads branch; in 1961 became subsidies engineer for the same branch (at which time he became well acquainted with concerned residents. It was unfortunate, he said, that the village was to be saddled with debt for the reconstruction of the intersection.

ated the recent county road needs studies throughout the province. For the last two years he has organized the road superintendents' school for the Ontario Good Roads Association.

While he made no promises, Mr. Wilmot felt that his more than average knowledge of the rules and procedures of dealings between municipalities and the county and the province and his varied background would be of service to the village.

J. C. Peter Angus, a salesman, resident of Naylon Street, urged that Maple should let its voice be heard and develop an identity of its own, rather than be dominated by fear of Metro as it appeared that those running for township council were. He gave full credit to his wife for his only proposal, that to mark Centennial year, every child in Maple plant a tree, preferably a maple tree.

Chairman for the meeting, which was held in Maple Community Hall was Norman Rotz. The five men running for office gave the community a good choice, he stated and urged that people get out and support them. Election will take place on the same day as the township elections, December 10.

The Voice Of Concord

Scouts
The Christmas trees Concord Scouts will be selling are Scotch pine, not spruce as announced last week. The trees are selling for $2.50 with a choice of five, six or seven foot trees at this price. Scouts will be calling at your doors to take orders and trees will be delivered direct to your house.

Ratepayers Meeting
Al Hewitt of Southview Drive capably chaired the meeting at Concord Public School last Thursday evening when residents of the area — about 40 strong — were enabled to meet the candidates in the Vaughan Township elections.

Don't forget — election day is this Saturday so remember to get out and vote. Both East and West Concord vote at the school as usual.

Socially Speaking
Anne Burlington, Hillside Drive, celebrated her fifth birthday December 3 with a party for several little friends. Marian and Harry Webb, 36 Hillside Drive had a business combined with pleasure trip when they flew down to Montreal last weekend, sans children, and had a wonderful time. Marg and Mac McLean, King High Drive attended a cocktail party with other members of "The Liberal" staff last Saturday evening, a housewarming for Pat and Tommy Ward, Royal Orchard Blvd., Thornhill Green.

Ethel and Joe Turner and family, formerly of 19 King High Drive are now comfortably settled at 7533 Bathurst Street at Arnold Avenue, still close to their friends in Concord. Son Brian has been suffering from a ruptured back muscle for the past three weeks and on Monday was put in a cast for an undetermined spell to help it in healing.

New residents at 19 King High are Mr. and Mrs. J. Baanders.

The Sunday school children of Concord Church of Christ have adopted two Korean orphans, both eight years old. They are a boy, Kim Yun Shik and a little girl, Park Pan Soon. The children of the school have contributed a total of $264 to the support of the two orphans, only 75¢ and have been pleased to receive in return letters and pictures of their far-away friends.

There were some disappointed thieves in Vaughan Township last weekend. They broke into Concord Public School some time during the day on Sunday but their only loot was 50¢ taken from the staff room.

As you may have noticed if you read the classified ad section, "The Liberal" needs a new Concord correspondent as Norma Hewitt finds herself too busy to continue.

This is an interesting job for anyone who is at home and can all be done by telephoning. It's also a good way to keep in touch with your neighbors and help others in the community to do so. Please give Editor Sam Cook a call at 889-3316 if you would like to give it a try.

In the meantime, it would be appreciated if Concord residents would phone their news in direct to "The Liberal". Ask for Margaret McLean, Cub Scout, Guide and Brownie leaders please take note!

THE Challenge OF Cancer

Cancer is not one disease but a group of diseases characterized by the disorganized and unregulated growth of abnormal body cells. In many cases there is a favourable response to modern methods of treatment if diagnosis is made before signs of spread are evident. All tumors are not cancer — some "benign" growth may begin in different organs of the body and reach a considerable size. These do not spread but, as with Cancer, the earlier treatment is begun the better.

Illness struck John Brown, the regular goalie for Fred's Shell in Bantam House League and the York Fire and Casualty team in OMHA, and he was taken to YCDH last Friday afternoon for an appendectomy. All his teammates and fellow bantams as well as the coaches and executive join in wishing John a quick recovery and a speedy return to the hockey wars. It is reliably reported that John's first words after coming out of anaesthetic were, "When will I be able to play hockey?" 4-H Homemakers Place Accent On Accessories At Maple, Dec. 3

Winter hats and striking coordinated tie-dyed scarves were modelled by 150 members of York County's 13 4-H Homemakers Clubs at the achievement day, "Accent on Accessories", held December 3 at Maple Community Centre. The jockey caps, berets, cloches and pill-boxes and the co-ordinated scarves had been made by each girl, who modelled her own accessories with a basic dress or coat.

In the morning the girls participated in judging sets of accessories, giving oral reasons for their choice, completing a quiz on general knowledge of being well dressed and choosing co-ordinated sets of accessories for various occasions.

In the afternoon, an exhibit, demonstration or skit, illustrating important points in accenting with accessories was presented by each individual club. Joanne Cook was chosen by the Edgeley Club to speak on their exhibit and "Accent with Accessories" was the demonstration presented by Vellore. Jill Achilles was commentator for King No. 1 and Pat Miller and Jill Nicoll were selected to represent South Vaughan and Snowball No. 2 on "Accessories Around the Clock". "Details Are Important" was the theme of a skit presented by King No. 2.

Two visiting home economists gave comments, Mrs. Linda McLaughlin of Nestleton on demonstrations and skits and Mrs. Sandra Schneller on exhibits. Certificates of achievement for completion of two units, and sterling silver spoons were presented to each girl who successfully completed this project. County honor awards were given to 12 club members for the completion of six 4-H homemaking projects: Marion Gibson of Bogartown; Dale Tapscott of Agincourt; Muriel Scott and Anne Van Nostrand of Vandroff; Wendy Bennett, Diane Berwick and Judy McKendry of King No. 1; Melodie Alexander and Debbie Gordon of King No. 2; Cindy Pitkin and Lynda Snider of Snowball No. 1 and Melanie Wilson of Snowball No. 2.
