Police Accident Report

Trucker Killed in Mkhm Township

A 58-year-old Toronto truck driver was killed instantly Monday morning when his truck rolled over at the old Sabiston Gravel Pit at John Street and German Mills Road in Markham Township.

Killed was Nelson Barager, 204 Sherbourne Street, a driver for Rotblott and Sons, Toronto.

Police said Mr. Barager was proceeding up a hill inside the pit with a load of garbage when his truck started skidding backwards down the slope. The pit is used as a garbage dump.

The truck then rolled down a six-foot embankment. Mr. Barager was thrown from the cab, but was not pinned beneath the truck.

A freezing rain all Monday morning left roads a sheet of ice everywhere, unless salting precautions had been taken on them.

Markham Township Police are investigating.

Charges are pending against a Richmond Hill youth, following an accident November 28 in which a pedestrian was injured.

Mrs. Rose Dunn, 316 Mill Street, suffered back injuries when she was struck by a car driven by Richard B. Briscoe, 16, 357 Browdale Crescent, at the intersection of Yonge and Centre Streets.

Police said Mrs. Dunn was walking from west to east on the green light when the accident occurred.

In an accident November 30, Mrs. M. Gadsby, and her daughter, Susan, 2, suffered bruises and cuts when the car in which they were riding was in collision with another vehicle at Yonge Street and Benson Avenue.

The two were passengers in a car driven by Mrs. W. Sawyer, Orangeville, which was struck from behind by a car driven by Harry Smith, Thornhill.

Damage to the two cars, which were both going north on Yonge Street at the time, amounted to $300.

Willard J. Smith, 198 Markham Road, suffered back injuries when his car was struck by another vehicle at Yonge and Wright Streets November 28.

Driver of the other car was Genevieve Grellette, Toronto. Damage to the two vehicles amounted to $125.

A rear-end collision on Yonge Street North resulted in a total of $200 damage to two cars.

According to police, the accident occurred when a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Gandy, Toronto, skidded into a car driven by David G. Roche, Willowdale, as the latter was making a left turn.

More than $1,000 damage was done in a four-car accident at Jane Street and Credit Street Road, December 1 in Vaughan Township.

Involved were vehicles driven by Paul Vorkapic, Brampton; Geraldine Hubrick, Downsview; Helga Hess, Toronto and Brian Hansen, Mimico.

Police said Vorkapic was driving south on Jane, intending to make a left turn when he was struck from behind by the Hubrick car. The impact then sent the latter into the north-bound lane.

The Hess car was struck when it turned off the Credit Street Road onto Jane behind the first car. Hansen, who was going south on Jane, hit the Hess car, sending it into the Vorkapic vehicle.

Police are looking for a hit-and-run car, which struck a car driven by Thomas G. Hough, Thornhill, on Carrville Road, east of Dufferin Street.

The car is described as a 1956 Chevrolet, blue body with white top, heavily rusted, damaged on right side. The first letter of the licence plate is H.

Damage to the Hough vehicle amounted to $125.

A Willowdale youth, Marty Pirinen, 19, has been charged with careless driving, following an accident December 3 on Bathurst Street, north of Steeles Avenue.

Police said Pirinen was parked on the west shoulder of Bathurst Street, when he accelerated, spinning the car around until it hit a post.

Damage amounted to $1,000. The youth suffered cuts and a minor concussion.

Running into a fence post on Maple Road, east Kleinburg, resulted in undetermined injuries to Mrs. S. Boudreau, 67 Netherford Road, Maple, December 4, about 1:30 pm.

Police said Mrs. Boudreau was westbound on the Maple Sideroad when she went over into the east-bound lane onto the south shoulder, landing in the gully against a fence post.

She was taken to York Central Hospital for injuries.

Barn Ventilation System Pays In Better Production And Health

With colder weather here, sized units are needed in a York Agricultural Representative multiple system. Fifty mature A. A. Wall advises that, cows need three fans with a ridiculous as it may sound, now total capacity of 6,500 cubic feet is a good time to install ventilation systems in farm buildings. As the temperature drops, doors and windows are shut when needed. Fans should be

On the leeward side of the building and at least 20 feet away from doors or windows.

People working in barns like the temperature around 65 but this is too hot for the cattle. They are comfortable at 50 or even 45 degrees. At this temperature they eat better, milk better and stay healthier.

Hay chutes, open windows or open doors are not a satisfactory substitute. They result in drafts, cold spots in the barn.

Fans cost money but they last a long time and cost of electricity is low. Extra production and lower veterinarian bills can easily pay for them.

The biggest problem is humidity — a herd of 30 cows will exhale from 70 to 80 gallons of water a day. This water is absorbed into wood, keeps floors wet and slippery, freezes on windows and keeps the air unhealthy for the animals in the barn. Fresh air is not expensive and can do a lot towards preserving the health of the herd.

The right size fans in the right places will do the job, the agricultural representative states. Size depends on the number of animals and generally good

1967 Licence Plates Are Now On Sale Here

A new look has come to Ontario's highways, with the first vehicles sporting the 1967 licence plates for passenger cars and station wagons which went on sale December 1. The plates have white lettering and numbering on a blue background and carry the lettering 19 Ontario 67 on the top and 18 Confederation 67 on the bottom. The licence numbers are separated by a crown instead of a dot.

William Neal, local licence issuer, reported no great rush for the plates on the first day of sale, but stated some hardy souls had braved the slippery condition of the roads to pick up their plates. Most sales December 1 were to dealers anxious to deliver new cars to their purchasers, according to Mr. Neal.

There is no increase in price for the plates this year, but Mr. Neal pointed out that the uninsured motor vehicle fee has been raised from $20 to $25.

He also told "The Liberal" that motorcycle plates will be available by December 19. For commercial vehicles, trailers and conversion units, 1967 plates will go on sale March 1 and the expiry date of 1966 plates for these vehicles will be March 31, 1967. All other 1966 plates expire February 28.

North York Hist. Soc. Renew Home Cemetery

Excitement and enthusiasm for Canada's Centennial year is catching on as one enthusiastic group sparks yet another to get in on the celebrations. John A. Breckie told the North York Historical Society. Mr. Breckie is director of Centennial Planning for Ontario, and under his guidance plans for celebrating our country's 100th birthday are many and varied, with the most interest being shown by villages and small centres. Women's Institutes, each in its own way, are very actively engaged in projects, he said.

The historical society is enthusiastically participating in Ontario's Centennial plans with its interest in the restoration of the 1843 Gibson House and the Willowdale Cemetery. It is also publishing a book on the History of North York.

Mrs. H. Egerton Young, chairman of the churches and burying grounds committee of the society, announced that $3,500 had been collected from families whose forebears are buried in Willowdale Cemetery and this money is to be used towards development of the cemetery as a memorial park. Trustees of Willowdale United Church have agreed to turn the cemetery over to the township for park purposes, and the township will match donations up to $3,000. Further progress on this work is waiting the development of the plans between Architect Napier Simpson, Junior and D. W. Snow, commissioner of parks and recreation.

The next meeting of the society will be held January 26.

NEWMARKET: Changes in the directions of two streets in Newmarket have brought a warning to motorists to be on the lookout. From now on Timothy Street is a one-way street going west from Main Street to Lorne Avenue, while Botsford Street is now one-way going east from Lorne Avenue to the Market Square.

BRADFORD: A Newmarket area farm worker was killed November 30 when his tractor was struck by a CNR passenger train.

Police said 49-year-old George Cattell either didn't see or failed to obey a signal at a level crossing near Highway 11.
