Window On The Past

and Mrs. Arthur McNeil, Lot 14, Concession 6 Vaughan Township. Andrew, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William McFall was born on Lot 9, Concession 9, King Township in 1838 and after attending business college, kept store in Kleinburg, and then learned mill management under Henry S. Howland.
Mr. McFall recorded the weather, noted if the mill was "standing" or working, and what type of flour was being ground.
There were allusions to business and chores. Mr. Paterson commenced work at noon for $20.00 a month and board. Young Kendall has been making furniture for me this afternoon, child's cot, box and bench, $1.00 . . .
Whitehead, Hall, and Kelly, are unloading a car of wheat . . .
branding flour barrels . . . packing flour. Kelly has been shifting the backhouse . . . cleaning up the garden . . . planting potatoes . . . having the colt shod.
Though the entries are terse and often impersonal much can be "read between the lines" of this old diary. It is clear that McFall was a man of great integrity, devoted to his family, dissatisfied with his prospects, and determined to find a mill
of his own.
The Pomona Dam had probably been washed out, or at least weakened by the torrential three days rain in September 1878 and leaks and breaks kept occurring. The machinery also needed attention so John Harris, son of the owner, and Millwrights T. Clay and W. Wiles often had to be summoned.
These work stoppages were not as serious however as those caused by the want of something to grind. Mixed farming had taken the place of grain growing in the Thornhill area farmers no longer waited in line to sell loads of wheat at the mill. In October Mr. McFall took the train to Penetang and arranged with H. H. Thompson the storekeeper there to buy wheat for him on commission.
Then he went to the railway office in Toronto to dicker for favourable freight rates, and storage space at the station.
Rather significantly a few days later he took the train to Cataract in the Credit Valley to inspect Churches Mill. From there he drove with the mail man to Alton to see McKinne's Mill. Neither were suitable so he caught the T. G. B. train to Toronto, and the Northern to Concord, and walked home from the station.

The University of Toronto's new Scarborough College typifies Ontario's progress in education

It seems like only yesterday this was a one-room school

Today, it's one of nearly 7,000 Ontario schools—and an excellent example of Ontario's dynamic growth.
The learning explosion is helping Ontario achieve prosperity as rapid developments in science and technology make industry more and more competitive. The skills and training our schools provide help produce more products and better products.
The remarkable thing is that Ontario is just getting started—the best is yet to come. In the last five years alone, hundreds of thousands of new jobs have been created and our unemployment figure is just 2.5%.
You can help Ontario's educational system to grow even greater by helping to keep Canada prosperous. One way: when shopping for price and quality, SHOP CANADIAN.

ONTARIO'S GROWTH RECORD

Ontario schools have nearly 70,000 dedicated teachers busy giving almost 2 million students a better than ever education.
This year the Ontario Student Awards Program will total $13,750,000.
Ontario's high school system is so versatile that a student can take a technical, vocational or academic course and still qualify for university entrance.

Rambling Around

the production staff and Miss Canada, Barbara Kelly. This was a truly Centennial effort, the objective being to entertain Canadian forces no matter where located, but also to entertain the Canadian High Commissioners in these countries assisting them with their own Centennial celebrations, giving many of the populace and resident Canadians the opportunity for sharing in it.

And for crossing the equator from north to south and south to north, crossing the latitude in one fell swoop, every last one of "Canada Entertains" received the Order of Neptunus Rex.

"We had two planes," said Al, "a Yukon for carrying equipment, including a portable stage, complete with props, back drops, spot and stage lights, Kleig lights and a generator. The Hercules this time was a luxury plane with all the comforts, including a doctor, extra mechanics and air crews."

Al said the Hercules was like a big bus inside and that they were able to walk from one seat to another, play cards. Sometimes they "jammed it up" and the camera and sound crews had a field day filming and recording.

The meals were excellent all the way. Health was the main concern and special pills were given to everyone to kill intestinal parasites. Even after returning home it was necessary to take these pills for fourteen days. They carried chlorine tablets at all times to purify the water used for drinking or brushing teeth.

Al said they left Downsview, March 1, flew to Ottawa and gave two shows in English and French and were given an official sendoff by Minister of National Defense Paul Hellyer.

DOING THE CENTENNIAL SCENES WITH AL HARRIS

In order to get even a bird's eye view, Al made sure to get up early enough in the morning to see something of the cities visited by "Canada Entertains." Here are his impressions, country by country.

Sweibruken, W. Germany — "It was almost like advanced spring. This place had an air of real prosperity. Stores were teeming with good things and everyone seemed well-dressed."

Cagliari, Sardinia — "People should visit Sardinia. It is full of historical ruins. I found a guide to show me around so I could take pictures of the ruins. One interesting ruin was the old Roman amphitheatre at Cagliari. This was the place where according to history, the Christians were thrown to the lions. I also had the opportunity of seeing the perfectly preserved body of one of their national saints. He was a miracle worker who was born in 1650 and died in 1707.

Accra, Ghana — "It was hot in this country. The Ghanians are a happy people and anxious to please. I brought home a few samples of excellent carvings. (I saw some of these ebony carvings and they are beautiful). A member of the cast was a magician. He performed magic tricks for the native children. He made them laugh so hard they couldn't laugh any more."

Dar-Es-Salaam, Tanzania — "Very lush. Everything growing here. This is another place where the natives do excellent carvings. We all went to an authentic African village to see the natives making sisal."

Rawalpindi, Pakistan — "It took us a little longer to fly to Pakistan as our pilot had to avoid countries who didn't like military planes flying over them. This flight I experienced my first electric storm. It was enough to make one's heart stand still. Pakistan is noted for its beautiful brass work."

New Delhi-India — "It seems as if everyone rides bicycles in India. I discovered that if you haggle with a taxi-driver and you pay the first price he asks, he thinks you are a fool. We stayed at the beautiful Ashoka hotel. There we heard an authentic Indian orchestra playing their national instruments. For example, the sitar, a guitar-like instrument with a long neck and a body rounded like a banjo and plucked mandolin fashion.

"Our new governor-general, Roland Michener was still high commissioner to India. He hosted "Canada Entertains" at the fabulous residence, in which he lived while carrying out his duties in India. Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was one of the guests."

Nicosia, Cyprus — "The oranges were out in Cyprus. The Canadian Forces Centennial Show was taken up into the mountains to a big valley. In it was a big castle with a jousting field, a reminder of past baronial splendor. History says it was built on the order of Richard the Lionhearted of England on one of his Holy Crusades. The concert was held in the jousting field."

On the way back home, "Canada Entertains" put on three more shows in Germany and another in Marville, France. The show returned home after travelling 25,000 miles in less than 25 days.

These then were the impressions of a fine goodwill ambassador in his own right, a bonafide Airborne Earthworm and a proud member of the Order of Neptunus Rex, smiling Al Harris of Thornhill.

Be sure to watch this show on CBC TV, 8.30 pm May 24. On June 30, the Canadian Forces Centennial Show will perform on Parliament Hill in Ottawa.
