Cut Ribbon New Service Centre

A full-scale automotive Esso service centre, which features one of the world's most comprehensive automobile and diagnostic clinics, was officially opened last week at Steeles Avenue and Yonge Street by Markham Township Reeve Stewart Rumble, right, and H. F. Denham, assistant regional manager of marketing for Imperial Oil.

At the diagnostic clinic, a motorist can have his car put through a bumper-to-bumper, 200 checkpoint analysis of its performance and an estimate of any repair costs for $8.95. Another feature is a customer service desk, where regular Imperial services related to home heating and touring are available.

Crown Says Assault "Vicious" Even For Lusty Young Boys Who Play Rough

A House of Concord youth pleaded guilty to a charge of uttering a forged cheque. Evidence showed that David North Bay, in speaking to the court on the account of a tenant at the house he was staying at in Woodbridge April 18, and cashed it at a Woodbridge bank.

The youth also had forged identity cards made out in the same name as that on the cheque.

Two Quebec women, who were convicted two weeks ago of being in possession of a woman's suit that had been stolen from a Toronto store, were fined $500 each when they appeared for sentence, also were given one day each in jail.

Defence Counsel R. Donnelly, North Bay, in speaking to the court, said both women had made "unfortunate marriages to shiftless men."

Mrs. Toupin had three children, age six to nine, and a husband who only worked "occasionally."

Mrs. Dube's husband was unemployed and they had four children, age four to 10.

Mr. Donnelly said this didn't condone the two women's methods of obtaining financial aid, but he didn't feel, either, that a jail sentence would be the proper punishment, and suggested a fine.

"Previous findings didn't have the necessary effect," said Magistrate Russell Pearce, referring to the fact that both accused had several previous convictions.

Mr. Donnelly said the "tremendous inconvenience" to which the two had been subjected in having to travel back and forth from their homes in Rouyn about half-a-dozen times to appear for trial, would be deterrent enough.

Separate Schs. 5 Mills Set $4,700 Min. Salary

Negotiations between the Richmond Hill Separate School Board and its teaching staff have been carried out amicably, it was reported at the May 2 board meeting, which ratified the final salary schedule agreement.

This schedule sets the minimum for category 1 at $4,700 and the maximum at $7,100. Minimum in category 2 will be $5,100 and maximum $7,800; minimum in category 3 will be $5,500 and maximum $8,500; and minimum in category 4 will be $6,100 and maximum $9,700. There is an annual increment of $300 to the maximum.

Board members expressed satisfaction with the schedule, which will keep the board competitive with other boards in the area and facilitates the hiring of teaching staff to provide a good standard of education in the three schools operated.

Chairman John Taylor said he was very pleased with the negotiating committees of both trustees and teachers, who this year successfully completed genuine negotiating procedures.

The board has set its mill rate at a five mill increase over last year. Final approval of the budget has not been given as yet since it was originally drawn up on the basis of a minimum salary of $4,600 and a mill rate increase of 6.2 mills was indicated. Careful paring of other items in the budget will be necessary to keep the increase to only five mills, the members pointed out.

4 Window Prizes Go To Centre Merchants

A few weeks ago Richmond Hill's Centennial Committee offered four prizes for store windows installed in time for the visit of the Centennial Caravan to town.

All four prizes have been awarded to merchants in Richmond Heights Centre.

First prize for the best replica of an 1867 store window, in the same line of business, goes to Burroughs' Furniture, and the second award in this category to Warwick House. The judges felt that special mention should also be made of Agnew - Surpass Shoe Store and Children's Fashion Shop for their authentic window displays.

For the best window with a Centennial theme, first prize was awarded to Bennett Textiles and second to Jack Fraser's Men's & Boys' Wear. Special mention in this category was made of Rice's Flowers, Shields Footwear and Bata Shoes.

In arriving at their decisions, the judges considered only the windows — store interiors or staff costumes did not enter into their deliberations, it is reported.

Aurora Residents To Shell Out Extra $40

Aurora homeowners will pay an extra $40 on their tax bills this year, as council added another 7.82 mills to its residential mill rate, and 9.43 to its commercial rate.

The latter is 86.8, while the former is 97. Total estimated expenditure is $1,865,511, with $1,492,143 of this to be raised by taxation.

Biggest item on this year's budget is the extra $50,000 for high school purposes, while police costs are up $27,000 and public school costs $12,500.

Road costs account for an additional $30,000.

Court NEWS

Robert Jarvis, Frost's roommate, who witnessed the assault, said Frost also hit his head against a night table when he was knocked down.

After the assault, Holmes told Frost to "keep his mouth shut," or he would "kill him," the witness said.

Holmes, who pleaded guilty to offence, said he had done it because he objected to being accused of something he didn't do.

Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong termed the assault "unduly violent, even for lusty young boys who play it rough."

Also remanded in custody until (today) Thursday, was another youth, Richard Davis, 20, of Coe Hill, Ontario, who

Council Accused Of 'Flippancy' Over Boy Scout Hut: Mansbridge

Councillor Ivan Mansbridge accused council of being "flippant" last week and Mayor Thomas Broadhurst didn't like it.

The short-lived clash arose as a result of a letter from the 1st Richmond Hill Cubs and Scouts.

The letter notes the hall used by the association in the town park had been torn down and "we are using the foyer of the old arena."

"This is satisfactory as a temporary stop-gap, but we realize these facilities will not be available once hockey resumes for 1967-68. We are deeply concerned regarding a meeting place for next season."

Mayor Broadhurst said that "we can't give an answer right off the cuff. We'll have to give it some thought."

Councillor Lois Hancey pointed out that other groups were using the schools and wondered if "the onus isn't on the association to find their own facilities?"

This provoked Mr. Mansbridge who accused council of adopting a flippant attitude by saying "it's not our problem. It is our problem. We give them a hut and now we suddenly take it away from them."

He said that "just isn't that simple to go to a school. They are occupied practically every night of the week. Accommodation is very difficult to find or there would be no problem."

Mr. Mansbridge observed that the association was the Hill's oldest and consisted of 60 to 70 boys "who might have to fold up if accommodation isn't found. It's too important to be flippant."

"There is absolutely no flippancy at this council table," retorted Mr. Broadhurst. "Every subject is treated with sincerity."

"That's your opinion," replied Mr. Mansbridge.

"I think it's grossly unfair for you to accuse council of being flippant in this matter," returned Mayor Broadhurst.

Reeve Donald Plaxton interjected to comment that "at the risk of being accused of flippancy I'd like to say that we can't give what we ain't got."

"Space is a problem but we should inform the association we're willing to co-operate in any way we can. I think we should refer this to the arena board for consideration."

Deputy-reeve Floyd Perkins recalled that "we gave the authority to the works committee to tear the building down two years ago. The association has known this for a long time yet it's been left to the last minute."

Councillor William Lazenby said he wasn't "saying we shouldn't assist the group but I also think it should initiate action on its own."

"The group should attempt to find some accommodation and if it finds itself in dire straits, then ask us."

NEWMARKET: Mrs. Dorothy King was returned as president of York Curling Club women's section for the 1967-68 season last week, while Mrs. Marg Bales was named first vice-president. Also named were Mary Jones, second vice-president; Doreen Carter, secretary; Shirley Armstrong, treasurer.
