Michael, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Shier, 90 Glen-cameron Avenue, is a victim of cerebral palsy. He is put through a continuous series of exercises, seven days a week. This treatment develops the undamaged portion of his brain.
After two months, Mr. and Mrs. Shier and volunteer helpers have the great satisfaction of watching Michael crawl. It took him half an hour to travel 20 feet on his first trip, but he has crawled every day since.
Michael is under the care of Dr. R. W. Fleming of Banff, Alberta, who flies to Toronto every three months to give further instructions in this new treatment to the parents of his many patients in the area.
On his last visit Dr. Fleming found Michael had advanced 3/4 months in the motor area, and is now ready to start the early reading program.

Mr. and Mrs. Shier are intensely grateful for the volunteer help they have been receiving. However, some of the volunteers will be away during the summer. Anyone willing to give minutes a day to help Michael through his pattering, is asked to call your correspondent or Mrs. Shier at 889-6758. Help is needed now for Saturdays and Sundays.

Wendy Heron, on behalf of all the Guides and Brownies warmly thanked the mothers' auxiliary for its assistance and for providing the dinner. Several executive members worked tirelessly all day to organize the evening and deserve special mention for their efforts.
Guides and Brownies then adjourned to another room while a short business meeting was held. Guide Commissioner Mrs. Moore appealed to the many mothers present to form a new executive for the coming year as no volunteers had offered to take over from the retiring group. She emphatically stated that it was imperative to have an auxiliary behind the leaders who so generously give their time to the Guide and Brownie groups. It was finally agreed upon to form two separate smaller auxiliaries for the Presbyterian and Holy Trinity Guides and Brownies and several mothers agreed to form an executive for each.

A campfire supervised by the leaders closed the evening proceedings when Rangers, Guides and Brownies sang songs and rounds to the enjoyment of everyone.
