King Couple And Daughter Perish In House Blaze

A couple and their 10-month-old daughter died early last Friday in a fire that destroyed their $40,000 home in King Township southwest of Aurora. Two other children were saved.
Dead are Gerald E. Bower, secretary and controller of Rex Chainbelt (Canada) Ltd. in North York; his wife, Elizabeth, and their daughter Jeanine, Mr. and Mrs. Bower were both in their 30s.
Two sons, Scott, 4, and Paul, 6, were found by a neighbor huddled in the family car. Firemen said Mr. Bower apparently led the boys to safety and was trapped when he returned to the house for the baby and his wife.
Aurora Fire Chief Harry Jones said his body was found on the ground floor. Mrs. Bower's body was in an upstairs bathroom and the baby's fell to the basement when a floor collapsed.
A tank truck from Holland Landing was used to help Aurora firemen fight the blaze. Water was pumped from the family's swimming pool.
Firemen said the fire started in the basement or living room, but the cause was not known.

300 Participate In Ecumenical Service At Marylake Monastery

Over 300 people took part in a multi-faith service at Marylake Monastery May 14. The Augustinian Community sponsored an ecumenical service followed by "open house" in the monastery.
Rev. Earl Stotesbury of Temperanceville United Church, Rev. Gordon K. Agar of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, King City, and Rev. Canon E. H. Costigan, All Saints Anglican Church, King City, read passages from the Bible. Rev. Canon H. L. Puxley of the Toronto Ecumenical Centre preached a short sermon and Rev. Cyril Smetana, prior of the monastery, gave the invocation and benediction.
Aurora Trinity Anglican Church Choir, under the direction of Mrs. I. Harris, organist, provided music for the service and Jim Spragg played the trumpet.
More than 400 visitors were shown through the monastery, even the traditionally forbidden cloister. On the terrace and in the dining and recreation areas the guests had tea and coffee served by ladies of the Contact '67 committee.
Some of the activities of the Augustinians were explained as the guests passed through the building. The library contained a display of photographs and clothing made by lepers in Bisidimo, Ethiopia, where the order is active in missionary work. In the guest wing visitors saw the comfortable quarters available to any person who wishes to make a private retreat.
Contact '67, of which this service was a part, is a summer-long series of lectures, dramas and concerts being held at the shrine.
Last Sunday Father Gregory Baum, O.S.A., spoke on "The Problems of Prayer for Contemporary Man."
Next Saturday at 7:30 the choir of St. Augustine's Parish, Ottawa, will give a concert of liturgical music. On Sunday, at the same hour, the Pathway Players, Toronto, will present the play "Christ in the Concrete City".

King Cancer Society Exceeds 1967 Quota

The annual cancer society trend tea held May 17 at Fraserdale Farms, home of Mrs. Jack Fraser, was most picturesque, with guests being greeted at the door by girls in Centennial dress. To add to the scene, many of the guests arriving at the century-old home came in Centennial dress also. All that was lacking was the old-time means of transportation to perfect the scene.
Although the attendance was up this year with approximately 175 guests the amount of money received was less. However the organization has had a very successful campaign. To date they have received $3,800.00, which is $800. over their quota.
The society is to be congratulated on the good work it does in the community.

74 Children Display Skill In Cycle Rodeo

The annual bicycle rodeo, sponsored by the home and school association and King Lions, was held in Doctor's Lane, May 13.
The cool weather did not deter the enthusiasm for this event and 74 children displayed their skill with bicycles. The judges, however, remarked they had never seen so many bicycles in such poor shape and hoped that the parents would impress the children with the importance of taking care of their bicycles.
In the girl's group winners were: first — Susan Hill; second Debbie Bailey and Lynn Rennington (tied), all of King City. In the boy's group winners were: first — Nicholas Desago and second Ricky Cleland, both of King City.
In charge of the event was Donald Strath of RR 3 King. Registering the contestants were Mrs. Connie Teley, Mrs. Carol Condie, Mrs. Audrey Rennington, Mrs. Dora Dawson and Mrs. Marie Arnold.
A number of Brownies tried for cyclist badges at this event. Those who passed are: from 4th King Pack Brownies — Judy Wemyss, Kelly Underhill, Lila Thurston and Debbie Runney. Dog Kennel Operators Protest New By-law

Irate kennel operators in Whitechurch Township have taken strong exception to a bylaw proposed by council. The bylaw would remove the $10 annual permit fee and charge the owners on a per animal basis. One operator estimated the change would increase his annual bill from $10 to $6,000.
Reeve Ross Farquharson said the new bylaw had been approved by the township solicitor. He said it had been introduced in an effort to control kennel operations in the municipality, particularly in subdivision areas.
Jack Northover of Stouffville RR 2, claimed the breeding of purebred dogs was, to most people, a hobby and not a profit-making operation. "I will spend every cent I'm worth to contest this bylaw before the highest courts in the land," he declared.
Reeve Farquharson promised the delegation council will review the bylaw and hand down its final decision in the near future.

Lions Roar At Music Night

King City Lions and their wives enjoyed an evening of music, fun and laughter in All Saints Anglican Church May 16. Following the regular dinner and meeting, Lion Don Tedford and his committee, with members of the club and three friends supplied an hour of refreshing entertainment.
The program began with several orchestration from the 1940 era, by a group made up of Fred Gander from Bradford, Bill Outerbridge from Aurora, John Belknap of King City and Lion Tedford.
Several Lions and wives, who had been participating in the modern western square dancing classes, put on a demonstration. This was followed by a musical group of Lions dressed as Hillbillies, who did quite an act. Four of the club stalwarts then did a pantomime of the Monkees assisted by a record. A group of would-be strip artists looked as though Vic Tanny should open a centre in King City.
Four of the more active Lion wives, Beth Tedford, Bernice Loughran, Betty Langdon and June Houlton, dressed in appropriate costume, did a terrific Can Can dance.
The program finally came to a close with a choir of Lions ladies singing the new Canada song, while men and women dressed in school children's attire danced among the tables waving Canadian Centennial flags.
