Recent Storm Flooding, Erosion Worse Than In Hurricane Hazel

Flooding and erosion on high land during the recent heavy rainstorms is believed by many to be worse than during Hurricane Hazel. The most serious damage has been in corn, potato and late-seeded grain fields. Newmarket, Sharon, Queensville, Mt. Albert and Stouffville areas appear to have had the worst of it.

Hay cutting has been delayed, however, and hay quality is likely to be lower. Some wheat and rye were destroyed by hail in the Mt. Albert district and hail also damaged greenhouses and crops on the Bradford Marsh.

A number of bridges and dams were lost, normal farm work such as spraying, culti-ant moisture. Hay cutting has been delayed, however, and hay quality is likely to be lower. Some wheat and rye were destroyed by hail in the Mt. Albert district and hail also damaged greenhouses and crops on the Bradford Marsh.

Rambling Around

LaRonde and "we went into the fun house too," said Barb.

Between performances they visited the British Pavilion where they were introduced to the Dark Ages period of history, learned about the armored knights of the 18th century, and saw a historical film. They went back to LaRonde for more rides and feasted on hot dogs and chips.

May 25, Barb and Judy visited the Bell Telephone Pavilion. They were impressed with the models of earlier telephones. They saw a circular film for the first time. Barb said that it didn't matter where they looked, the film seemed to be all around them.

Every one of the troupe met at Bandshell "E" at 2.30 pm to prepare for the return trip. They took the subway to the train. On the way back to Toronto a folk singer and his guitar added a note of novelty. He played and sang and the choir members sang along with him.

Judy and Barb made many friends among their fellow choir members. They felt that a great deal had been accomplished.

It was a thoroughly enjoyable trip for so many children. There were unforgettable sights, a raft of new friendships sprang to life, a centennial dream came true. And for this great effort, we thank you, Hugh Martin, our indefatigable "Music Man" of Vaughan, Robert Richardson, Martin Van Bemel, Erna Fynbo and all those who helped to bring about the highly successful excursion.

FARM NEWS

This damage is long term, comments Agricultural Representative A. A. Wall. Harvesting problems will add to yield losses and the loss of top soil will affect crops for the next few years.

Hay and pasture fields are making good use of the abundant and haying, was disrupted so that the storms had a significant effect on all farmers.

Despite the setback, forage yields should be good, the ag. rep. forecasts. He reports the wheat looks good except for lodging and early seeded corn and grain should yield normally.

The job now is to get the hay off as quickly as possible. It will get coarse and mature fast. The sooner it is cut the better, and there will be lots of moisture to start the second crop.

Where there is silo space, taking off some hay as haylage is a good idea. It's easier to make in poor hay weather and offers the best opportunity to preserve quality. With adequate equipment it is a fast method, Mr. Wall advises.

Gadsby Wants More Efficiency

Hoover's Bid To Stop Debenture Bylaw School Addition Defeated

A routine bylaw authorizing the issuing of a $350,000 in debentures for an eight-room addition to Dickson's Hill Public School suffered a momentary setback last week at a meeting of Markham Township Council when Councillor Charles Hoover decided such expenditure had gone far enough.

Mr. Hoover said council should refuse the money for the TSA 2 School. If council didn't pass the bylaw, the board could take a vote of the rate-payers on the issue, and it was time to put that vote to a test.

There were no other protests, however, and council, after pointing out that the bylaw had already two readings gave it third and final reading.

A motion by Deputy-reeve S. J. Gadsby that department assistants remain in their offices while the head is at lunch, ran into a bit of re-phrasing before finally being agreed to by council.

Councillor Hoover said that he felt Mr. Gadsby's motion was "sound in principle", but it would be difficult to assess who was who in the various departments, which didn't always have deputies or assistants.

He said, also that the township was big enough now that separate lunch breaks should be made at 11.30 and 12.30.

Mr. Hoover suggested that department heads make satisfactory arrangements among their personnel for lunch periods.

Said Mr. Gadsby: "The point is that the person who remains in the office can answer all the questions."

That wasn't always possible, Reeve Stewart Rumble said, but added that he felt Mr. Gadsby's idea was worthwhile.

Council finally agreed to an amalgamation of Mr. Gadsby's and Mr. Hoover's motions that department heads arrange with other competent personnel to be on hand at noon."

Council agreed to give special consideration to a request from J. Everett Harper, RR 1, Unionville, for a building permit for a house on a half-acre lot.

Mr. Harper said he had a permit for a septic tank, but was unable to get one for building. He had kept back a portion of his land when he sold his farm, with the idea of building in the near future. There had been no bylaw at that time, but a restricted area bylaw now prevented him doing so.

Reeve Rumble said he thought Mr. Harper's was a "special case," as he had sold his property in good faith.

Said Deputy-reeve Gadsby: "If we change this for one person we'll be inundated with requests."

"I think this is a case where council should use some discretion," Mr. Rumble said.

Mr. Gadsby then suggested the planning board look into the whole matter.

Council agreed to refer the matter to the planning director for "remedial action."

Council also: Agreed to authorize the engineer to conduct a survey regarding the need for sidewalks along Steeles Avenue, John and Yonge Streets and Henderson Avenue, after a request from them from Trustees Mrs. Louise Aimone and John MacKay, and business administrator E. J. Sand of TSA 1, and George Tindal, business administrator York Central High School Board.

Agreed to up the salary of the township caretaker, who now has to look after both the Buttonville offices — now being renovated — and the temporary offices at Heintzman House, $500 to $3,000, effective June 1.

It Wasn't Yorkville, But "Trip" Around Vaughan Just As Bizarre

A Vaughan Township man, took his wife for a ride — on the outside of the car — was sent to jail for a day and fined $300 when he was convicted of criminal negligence last week in Magistrate's Court.

Evidence against David Avon, 48, of 101 Keele Street North, Maple, was taken two weeks ago, but Magistrate Pearce reversed judgment at that time to give the matter more consideration.

Last week, he told Avon that he was satisfied that he was guilty.

"The conduct of the accused, rather than the belief is the dominant factor," Mr. Pearce told the accused.

He said that, although Avon had said he hadn't intended any harm to his wife, there was evidence she had been hurt.

"No man of normal intelligence, exercising care and caution (in the operation of his car) would in the circumstances, knowing his wife was hanging on . . . continue to drive it anyway," Mr. Pearce said.

Mrs. Avon leaned on the car and her husband started off, the witness said. Mrs. Avon, however, hung on, with one hand grasping the windshield wipers and the other holding on to the frame of the door.

The accused then drove approximately 700 feet, before finally dislodging his wife in a puddle at an intersection, Constable Moth said. During this time, he also would drive for a distance forward and then would reverse the car and go for a distance backward.

While this was going on, Mrs. Avon would swing at the car windshield with her purse, the witness said.

He said she suffered lacerations to her elbow and scrapes to her knee as a result of the wild ride.

Avon, who conducted his own case — at one point he told Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong he couldn't cross-examine his (Avon's) witnesses — said there was no evidence that he had caused his wife any bodily harm, nor had he driven the

Court NEWS

During the trial, Police Constable Gerald Moth, testified that Mrs. Beatrice Avon, 63, had come across her husband and another woman, Mrs. Sharon Stratton, 23, of Downsview sitting in his Volkswagen in the driveway of the Avon home March 28.

As a result, he imposed the one day sentence and fine and also ordered Avon to post a $500 bond to keep the peace for two years.

Mrs. Avon and Mrs. Stratton, who cried when the verdict was announced, exchanged words at the conclusion of the case, but were ordered to confine their remarks to the outside.

Mrs. Avon also asked Magistrate Pearce if she could say something, "which might clear my husband; something he should have said," but the magistrate said the case was closed and refused permission.

STOUFFVILLE: Council last week, awarded this year's road paving contract to K. J. Beamish Construction, Thornhill, for a total price of $40,610.
