

Recently returned from holiday at Deerhurst Inn, near Huntsville, are Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Redelmeier and family, Virginia, Teddy and Tom, Don Head Farms.

Hobbs Guenther, a member of the staff of R. D. Little Ford Sales Ltd., has graduated from a sales management course at the Detroit Ford Marketing Institute at the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus. The course emphasized after-purchase service and customer relations.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Ottavio and their son from Ottawa are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Berestford Anderson, Centre Street West.

On Tuesday evening they attended the wedding of Mrs. Ignatieff's sister, Robin, to John Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Victor Mason of Oakville, at Trinity College Chapel in Toronto.

Mrs. John Toth, Julie and Kimmie, 121 Yonge Street South, have returned from a week's vacation in Colchester and Windsor.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Trunk and children of Gretel Drive have returned from an enjoyable vacation spent near Clearwater, Florida.

Fiona Douglas-Crampton celebrated her 3rd birthday on Sunday with a party at her home in Maple.

After opening her gifts Fiona and her guests adjourned to the dining room where the table was laden with party fare. The singing of "Happy Birthday" accompanied the arrival of the large gaily decorated birthday cake and cheers when Fiona successfully blew out her candles.

Her guests included Vicki, Ronny and Dougie Grant, who are holidaying in Richmond Hill with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Beresford Anderson, Centre Street West.

Mrs. Mona Robertson, Centre Street West, was among the guests of Premier John Robarts at the preview of the Ontario Government Building on Thursday evening at the CNE.

Fifteen-year-old George Haney, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Hancey, Sussex Avenue, left last week for holidays in Edmonton.

Travelling by train he enjoyed a three day stopover in Banff, where he visited his grandmother, Mrs. George Trickey. During his short stay he took the Gondola lift tour of the area, visited the Columbia Icefields and, being an enthusiastic fisherman, tried his luck fishing in the Bow River, catching several trout.

He then continued to Edmonton where he is spending the remainder of his holidays with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Darling.

George, who will be entering Bayview Secondary School in September, has been working as a caddy at the Richmond Hill Golf and Country Club since the beginning of the season, determined to earn sufficient money to completely finance the trip himself. By taking advantage of every opportunity to go out on the golf course, he was able to fulfill his ambition.

He plans to return to the Hill at the beginning of September.

Miss Gilda LoRusso, daughter of Mrs. L. LoRusso, Hall Street, a pupil of Willy Blok Hanson, spent the month of July at the Windsor Equestrian Training Centre where she conducted classes in physical fitness exercises for better co-ordination in riding.

She is now working with Willy Blok Hanson and her daughter, Christalot, at the CNE, in a daily program, Health First, a scientific method of preserving youth, sponsored by the Community Program Division, Ontario Department of Education and Fitness and Amateur Sport Directorate. This is being presented from 4.30 to 5 pm at the theatre in the Queen Elizabeth Building. Also taking part are Kathy, Jane and Jennifer Curran of King City.

Gilda, a grade 10 student at Bayview Secondary School, has been a pupil at the Willy Blok Hanson Studio for the past nine years, and her ambition is to eventually open her own studio, teaching dancing and this method of exercises, based on a thorough knowledge of anatomy and physiology.

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Lloyd Bell of Coldwater, formerly of Centre Street East, who was a double prize winner at the Canadian National Exhibition this year. Mrs. Bell won first prize for her crocheted dinner cloth and second prize for a Fair Isle pullover.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Thomson, their 16-year-old daughter, Mary and their two youngest boys, Owen, 10 and Joey 7, of Talmage Avenue, have recently returned from a 5,890 mile car trip out west.

They set off on July 8, staging the first night at Joliet, Illinois, the second at Omaha, Nebraska. After spending the third night out at Cheyenne, Wyoming, they slowed down to touring speed and enjoyed the beauty of the Medicine Bow National Forest before moving on to Rock Springs, Wyoming for the night. The fifth day's drive took them through mountainous country to Idaho Falls, Idaho. They spent two nights there then turned east again across the Grand Teton Mountains into Jackson Hole, Wyoming. This was a most spectacular route into the Hole, descending as it does from a pass at 8,690 feet to the very western town of Jackson. North from Jackson, they soon arrived in Grand Teton National Park. It was the general consensus that the amenities and the beauty of this park surpass by a large margin those of Yellowstone, 40 miles to the north, and should not be missed.

After they had seen "Old Faithful" and "Mammoth" hot springs they veered northeast to Billings, Montana. From Billings to Glacier National Park via Great Falls is an interesting drive through rolling grasslands where Montana lives up to its billing of the "Big Sky Country". They were then into the Rockies one sees in the picture postcards. They stayed on the Montana side of the line until they reached Eureka then turned north into B.C.

During their stay in the Rockies they arrived at their destination of their trip having completed 2,600 miles. In Kimberley, they visited Mrs. Thomson's sister and her husband who they had not seen since they left Ayer, Scotland in 1952, three years before their own move to Canada. Kimberley, a city of 6,500, proudly calls itself the highest city in Canada as it is some 3,500 feet up in the Selkirk Range.

Following nine days exploring the vicinity, they returned home via the Trans-Canada Highway with overnight stops in Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg, Fort William and Kilt St. Marie.

Local Architect Douglas Allen, Mrs. Allen and children Sean and Kelli, Laverock Avenue, have recently returned from a week's holiday at Drag Lake Lodge, Haliburton.

During her recent visit to Banff, Miss Ruth Garson ADCM attended some sessions at the School of Fine Arts.

She was greatly impressed with the excellent program offered by the school and hopes to return for a full season at a later date.

Teddy Redelmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Redelmeier, Don Head Farms, is attending a five day course this week at the Metro Conservation Authority School in the Albion Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. John MacDiarmid and their son Neil, Trayborn Drive, recently returned from a trip to Scotland and England.

During their holiday they visited Edinburgh then continued north to Inverness to stay with Mr. MacDiarmid's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacDiarmid at their home in Inverness. From there they travelled down to London where their son realized one of his ambitions — to walk along the famous Carnaby Street.

They then went north to Yorkshire, where they visited Mayor Thomas Broadhurst's mother, Mrs. Alice Broadhurst, at her home in Leeds.

Mr. MacDiarmid represents Ward 4 on town council.

A visitor to Richmond Hill early in August was Rev. Gordon Cunningham, Presbyterian minister at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta. Mr. Cunningham is the son of the late Rev. J. D. Cunningham who served the local Presbyterian congregation as minister from 1935 to 1940.

Mr. Cunningham was accompanied by his wife, two sons and a daughter, and was returning from Expo. They planned to visit the Pan-Am Games on their way home.

After touring the town, Mr. Cunningham, who attended public school here, reported that it still felt like home.

Celebrates Birthday On Stage At CNE

It wasn't the usual birthday celebration for pretty Jennifer Morton — instead of partying with friends on August 17, her 15th birthday — she was working hard at the Canadian National Exhibition, where, as the youngest Canadette, she was in rehearsal for the Grandstand Show.

Jennifer, a grade 9 student at Richmond Hill High School, is an enthusiastic member of the drama club and on the gymnastics team. She started tap dancing when she was 10 years old and began ballet dancing three years ago. Her ambition is to attend the Royal Academy of Ballet in London, England, or the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Last year she played the role of Elsie in Scrooge at the Crest Theatre, and this year made her debut with the Curtain Club in The Egg.

Jennifer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Morton of Crosby Avenue.

Reg Williams and son Mark, formerly of the Gamble Side, road, are now residing on Don Mills Road in Willowdale. Mr. Williams is the first vice-president of Richmond Hill Lions and will be continuing to serve the community actively with this service club.

Glen Pratt, circulation manager of "The Liberal" returned on Friday from visiting his children, Tana and Murray, in New Brunswick.

Tana and Murray are living with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pratt on their farm in Coldstream, where they are becoming very adept at helping with the many chores associated with farm life.

One of the most interesting social events planned for the fall season is the Carriage Colation being held by the York Central Hospital Auxiliary on September 21 at Tintern Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Graham.

Luncheon will be served from 11.45 am to 2.30 pm and items of interest include a display of old fashioned carriages, a sale of handcrafted items, made by auxiliary members, bulbs, on sale in the greenhouse just in time for fall planting and the Centennial coin dress which will be modelled during luncheon. This dress weighs 15 lbs. and can only be worn for about an hour.

Co-conveners are Mrs. Stuart Coxford and Mrs. Robert Sillcox and tickets at $1.50 may be obtained from any auxiliary member.

The Daily Vacation Bible School in Richmond Hill Baptist Church got off to a good start this Monday. There was a splendid response among the children of the neighborhood. These sessions continue until September 1 — each morning at 9 am.

Mrs. D. H. Lang and son, Nelson, Lynett Crescent, have returned from Portage la Prairie, Manitoba, where she visited her daughter and son-in-law, Sharon and Guy Campbell and their infant son.

Mrs. Campbell returned with them to Richmond Hill where she will spend some time at her parents' home, also with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Dynes, and children Verner, Robert, Martha and Laura, Harrygan Crescent, returned last week from a trip to Moosonee.

Travelling by train from Cochrane, they spent several days at a lodge, and enjoyed a canoe trip, visits to Sand Island, James Bay and the Moose Factory, where they saw the hospital, school and the old Smithy — the oldest building in Canada.

Mr. Dynes is the proprietor of Dynes Jewellers in the Richmond Heights Centre.

Entertaining on Saturday for Miss Robin Anderson prior to her marriage last Tuesday to John Mason at Trinity College Chapel, were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Victor Mason, who held a dinner party for her relatives and friends at their home in Oakville.

On Sunday the bride and groom were the guests of honor at a luncheon held at the Oakville home of the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick R. Willan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schouten and children Monica, Helen, Michael and Nicole, have recently returned to their Palmer Avenue home from a two week car trip.

Travelling with their trailer they enjoyed a leisurely trip through the New England States to New Brunswick, through the Gaspé, and along the St. Lawrence to Montreal. Here they spent two exciting days touring Expo before returning to Richmond Hill.

Mr. Schouten is the manager of Kresge's in the Richmond Heights Centre.

A wedding of local interest took place on Saturday when Miss Gill Dixon became the bride of Brian Tinker at Our Lady Queen of the World Catholic Church.

Following the ceremony, over 40 guests attended the reception held at the Honeypot Ski Lodge in Maple.

The young couple, who left for a honeymoon tour of Europe, plan to return to Canada in the new year.

Gill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, Lucas Street, and Brian, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tinker, former residents of Richmond Hill, now residing in the Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia.

Owners Are Advised To Protect Their Cats
Cats are noted for their hunting habits. They can track birds, rodents and smaller animals — silently as any jungle killer. Among their prey are also raccoons and foxes. Some victims are found in cities; almost all of them in suburban places. These victims are subject to rabies and if your cat exposes himself by coming in contact with a bird or animal having rabies it can catch rabies and transmit it to his owner. Rabies in cats may be just as dangerous as from dogs. Be safe. Protect your cat against rabies just as you do your dog. See a veterinarian.
