Church Survey

Monday, Sept. 18
 All systems are GO — with the planned house church survey of the east side of Richmond Hill, on September 18. Some 40 volunteers from Our Lady Queen of the World Roman Catholic Church organized by Mrs. Mary Follows, South Paliser Crescent, together with those from St. Paul's Lutheran, St. Gabriel Anglican and St. Matthew's United will put about 100 visitors in the district to call on an estimated 2,000 householders and tenants.
 This survey will be the largest ever undertaken by the combined churches of Richmond Hill East and shows a positive response to the growing needs of the community.
 The purpose of the survey is to determine the church association of each householder, to pass on this information to the church concerned. These churches may then conduct their own visitation to become acquainted with new families and renew associations with others.

 land fill." Mr. Fennerty agreed. He did point out however, that sanitary land fill was more flexible, that if significant developments come out of current research on the problem, you are not committed to a large financial outlay.
 He stressed too that in operating a sanitary land fill at the Maple gravel pits (the second stage of the overall plan) "we would definitely be doing a land reclamation scheme. Although there is still a lot of gravel there," he said, "when that is out and we fill it in, it would be a good reclamation."
 "That does not apply to the North Thackeray site?" Mr. Redelmeier persisted.
 "No, the main reason is capital costs and flexibility," Mr. Fennerty replied.
 Although Mr. Fennerty had advised, in answer to a question from Chairman Dr. G. Ross Lord who was presiding at the meeting, that the trend in North America was to sanitary land fill, C. D. Milani, a Metro that Montreal has recently ordered a new $12 million dollar incinerator and will use it also to produce saleable heat; that the City of Mexico was going to incinerate its waste and that the huge cities of St. Petersburg and Moscow find composting satisfactory.
 Mr. Purcell agreed that "you can't beat the economics of a dump and putting some clay over it" but insisted that continuing investigation should be carried on to determine the effects on soil and water of dumps. "I am anxious also to see the waterfront filled with inert material. The economics would be quickly reversed then."

 Operations K. C. Higgs interjected, "There has been no suggestion that we release title to the land."
 At this point Mr. Purcell pointed out, "We have been subjected to a first class pitch but we haven't had a chance to discuss this ourselves."
 Dr. Lord told Mr. McCallum, "I don't want to listen to any legal arguments," Secretary-Treasurer Lunn interjected, "We always get a lease," McCallum attempted to speak but was interrupted by James Haggart of Richmond Hill who said, "I ask that the ruling be invoked."
 Mr. McCallum then went on to point out that the Authority's approval of the project "carries the clear implication that you want a zoning change," when the lands had originally been zoned by Vaughan as the Authority's request. "It will start a rare change if this authority starts changing zoning by indirectness," he said.
 However, before Mr. McCallum had completed this point, Dr. Lord interrupted to say he could have two more minutes, at which Mr. McCallum thanked him and abruptly left the front and resumed his seat.

In Memoriam
JULIAN—In loving memory of my dear husband David, who was taken to rest August 31st, 1961.
 I will always remember in my heart
 The happiness we both knew
 We travelled life's pathway together, it was beautiful because of you
 I cannot forget the one I loved or the voice I heard each day, or the many things you did for me
 In your kind and gentle way I miss your love and cherished smile
 With you my life was worthwhile
 In memory I see you just the same
 As long as I live Dave I'll cherish your name
 — Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, by your wife, Laura.

 Mr. McCallum then went on to point out that the Authority's approval of the project "carries the clear implication that you want a zoning change," when the lands had originally been zoned by Vaughan as the Authority's request. "It will start a rare change if this authority starts changing zoning by indirectness," he said.
 However, before Mr. McCallum had completed this point, Dr. Lord interrupted to say he could have two more minutes, at which Mr. McCallum thanked him and abruptly left the front and resumed his seat.
