

Off-Street Plan Ready For Council

Street between Arnold and Wright Street.
Discussions will centre around parking requirements.
A letter of notice — to be sent to those concerned — will summarize the past history of negotiations, present conditions and future considerations regarding the Yonge Street reconstruction.

This will include traffic, side street access, rear lane access and the benefits from such regarding snow-plowing, garbage collection, and increased accessibility to merchants by the public.

Two factors touched off alarms from the merchants regarding parking problems.

First of all discussions about the proposed new official plan resulted in a tentative decision to ban all parking on Yonge Street after 1968.

Then came news of the Yonge Street reconstruction plans which would require restriction of parking during work on the project.

This brought out the merchants in force carrying warnings that any complete parking ban in 1969 could force several Richmond Hill businesses out of town.

Upshot was a decision to have the transportation committee work out a plan in conjunction with the merchants in an effort to find a solution satisfactory to all.

Inter-Church Area Survey Monday

Over 2,600 homeowners and tenants living on the east side of Richmond Hill will be called on by over 100 visitors from St. Matthew's United, St. Paul's Lutheran, the Anglican Church of St. Gabriel the Archangel and Our Lady Queen of the World Roman Catholic Churches September 18.

This will be a two-hour blitz visitation, purpose of which is to determine church association of residents and to invite them to attend the church of their choice.

Lions Bingos Resume Next Monday Evening

The ever-popular Richmond Hill Lions Club bingos will resume next Monday evening at 3 p.m. There will be the usual added features to make the evening an interesting one. The bingos are held each Monday evening at the Lions Hall, Centre Street East.

Rev. Higginson Going To Ajax

Richmond Hill's senior clergyman, Rev. Charles G. Higginson of Richmond Hill United Church, Yonge and Centre Streets, will be leaving the community at the end of October. He is going to St. Paul's United Church in Ajax. Mr. Higginson announced his decision at the morning church service September 10.

During his more than 16 years of service to the congregation (he came here in 1951) the modern three-storey Christian Education wing was added and the congregation has grown extensively. He succeeded Rev. C. B. Brethen.

A graduate in arts from McMaster University and in theology from Emmanuel College, Mr. Higginson came to Richmond Hill from Prospect Park United Church in Toronto.

Nursing Director To Study In U.S.

Miss G. A. Gatehouse, 45-bed hospital in Iroquois Falls where she was director of nursing. Prior to that she had worked in Montreal as a teaching supervisor and ward administrator for five years.

In the months immediately preceding the opening of York Central Hospital, Miss Gatehouse was kept very busy hiring nursing staff, budgeting, planning and setting up various sections. Since the hospital has been in operation, her work in securing the best in nursing staff and in a supervisory capacity has continued to be demanding.

Kids, Clowns At Kleinburg Carnival

ran, motors chugged and steam escaped from a dozen or so loose connections.
Also included were seven steam whistles which each blew a different note when the designer of this weird and wonderful mechanism, 79-year-old Nelson Snider pulled the cords.

Also on the trailer but not connected, were two White steam car engines, one of which had once been used to operate a buzz saw. The collection has been gathered over the past 15 or 20 years as a hobby by Mr. Snider and his sons.

As well as all these wonderful things to hear and look at, there was lots to eat for everyone. The Scouts were selling fresh boiled corn, while others sold candy floss and pop corn. Another booth served delicious french fries and generous portions of home made apple pie — over 200 were donated by the ladies of the village for the purpose.

Another colorful attraction was the genuine old-time medicine man who on Sunday mornings usually presides at Kleinburg United Church — Rev. Wm. F. Reid. His Indian friend and assistant was Brian Bostwick.

From nine o'clock until midnight, hundreds of people, young and old enjoyed dancing on the main street. At the south end, Murray Morrison of Pine Grove and his group provided music and did the calling for square dances for adults while at the north end, a Toronto rock and roll group, the Magic Cycles provided beat music for the youngsters.

None of this of course could have been arranged without a lot of hard work and enthusiastic effort. While it is impossible to mention all who played a part, Vic Ryder was chairman of the whole shebang, Mike Bevan was secretary, Norman Hall Treasurer, Warren Guscott was in charge of all food, Mrs. Arthur Irwin in charge of baking.

Food preparation equipment was generously loaned by Moffats Limited of Weston, the Consumers Gas Company and Superior Propane. The local IGA also helped, Gordon King and Vern Ireland contributed electrical work and Don Verdon carpentry.

Other committee members who worked tirelessly were Chuck Ellis, Andrew Gillespie, Gordon MacEachern, Arthur Irwin, Jack Lilly and Janet Berton.

The Shaw family, Frank who is the fifth generation of the family to run the hardware store in Kleinburg, and his brother Carl, a former member of Vaughan Township Council were also among the crew who put together the wonderful fun fest. The Shaw store, which normally sells everything from toilet bowls to trousers, had further added to its stock for the occasion a fascinating display of old family photos showing many scenes in the Kleinburg of old, an antique cradle in the window and a fine display of old doctor's instruments used by a local doctor at one time and borrowed back from Pioneer Village for the day.

Public School West Side Pupils Begin Home Economics, Ind. Art

Enrolment in Richmond Hill Public Schools is up slightly this September from a year ago, although the survey of kindergarten pupils taken in the fall of 1966 had indicated a slight reduction. There is a slight increase in kindergarten pupils, but the increase is reflected in all grades and in five of the six schools.

Beverly Acres has 1,074 children in attendance (up 19), Crosby Heights has 811 (up 42), MacKillop has 738 (up 8), Walter Scott 705 (down 15), McConaghy 434 (up 20), and Pleasant 310 (up 7). Total enrolment is 4,072 (up 81).

The number of teaching staff is 153, just one more than last year. The number of auxiliary classes has been increased to seven (there were only three last year) and two half time itinerant teachers giving special instruction have been added. Also added is a supervisor of special education.

This year grade 7 and 8 pupils on the west side of town are receiving instruction in home economics and industrial arts for the first time. These classes are being held one-half day every six days in Richmond Hill High School. This brings the educational advantages of west side children reasonably on a par with those offered the east side pupils at Crosby Heights Senior High School.

The second library in the system, at Beverley Acres Public School, is beginning operation. The one at Crosby Heights School operated last year.

Nine young people who will be entering Toronto Teachers' College next week have been in classrooms since school opening, gaining experience and an insight into effective classroom operation. Inspector Murray Dobson has been in charge of this orientation program initiated at the request of the teachers' college.

School got underway this year with fewer problems than in many previous years. Superintendent Gordon McIntyre reports, since there was no building program underway. One portable classroom, returned to the board this summer, is still not in use and will be available to relieve overcrowding whenever and wherever it occurs.
