MRS. MARY TRACY SERVES DELICIOUS CORN TO HUNGRY YOUNGSTERS

Giant Corn And Wiener Roast Draws Crowd

There was lots to eat and lots of fun for every age group in the large crowd which turned out for the annual corn and wiener roast held on the beach at Wildwood Avenue, Lake Wilcox. Sponsoring organization was the Elmwood Park Cottagers' Beach Association. Refreshments included corn, hot dogs, coffee and freshie.

Lake Wilcox Recreation Committee set up two stalls to sell small keepsakes and a fish pond for the children which proved quite popular. The younger fry enjoyed many games and sports and Mrs. Gerry Cook and Mrs. D. Duck proved their sportsmanship and received a prize for participating in the most events. Mrs. Cook also received a prize for the best "bull" story.

A huge bonfire was the focal point of all events and added a bit of warmth to a cool evening. David Wood was emcee keeping the games for the little ones going and keeping the crowd amused with jokes and laughter.

In the lucky draw, Sarah Good was winner of first prize, a transistor radio donated by the association; the electric clock donated by Mary and Matt Tracy was won by Elsie Gilbert.

"Steam-Era"

On Labor Day weekend, the Dawson crew headed to the Milton Fair Grounds to attend the seventh annual "Steam-Era", and for anyone who loves the sights and sounds of vintage locomotives or traction engines, this is a must. On arrival we were greeted by the thunderous clanking of more than 30 traction engines, each with its own distinctive piercing whistle. These ponderous power plants, although immense in size were short on horsepower, ranging from a mere six to between 30 and 40.

Each engine, with the possible exception of a couple of company-owned "jobs", is privately owned, restored (as well as operated) by steam enthusiasts, and the months and sometimes years of hard work is reflected in all of them. More than 200 members belong to the Ontario Steam and Antique Preservers' Association with some members hailing from the States. I was amazed when I noted the many sections of Ontario that were represented, Orangeville, St. Catharines, Queensville, Galt, Pickering, Toronto, Orillia, Stirling, Hagersville, Beeton, Pt. Hope, Hornsby, Freelton Burford and Trenton.

In keeping with a Centennial theme, bushy beards were evident on several of the local gentry, while bustles, hoopskirts and poke bonnets adorned a number of the fairer sex. An authentic Red River cart (circa 1900) complete with plaid oxen and wooden yoke became a mode of transportation for the small fry, their small faces lit up with happy smiles. In fact no matter where you looked everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves, the exhibitors as well as the onlookers.

We watched a 1921 George White traction engine hooked up to a threshing machine, a 1927 Bucyrus-Erie steam shovel biting into the earth, and laughed out loud at the raucous sound of a steam calliope and the almost recognizable rendition of "Oh Susanna". Columns of white steam belched upwards from these mechanical old timers as if to remind us that in spite of their age, there was still plenty of life in the "old boys" yet.

In addition to the steam engines, there were more than 50 aging gasoline engines of all sizes, that had been gathered from all parts of Canada, faithfully restored and all in running condition.

Inside one of the large arenas was an enormous display of miniature traction engines, steam power plants and locomotives, each one hand crafted and authentic down to the smallest detail. One solid brass locomotive and tender had been started in 1928 and was completed this year. Can you imagine spending 39 years building anything? There was so much to see we hated to head for home.

Lions

The first meeting of the King City Lions Club in the form of a chicken barbecue, was held at the home of incoming president, Stan Rooks and wife Muriel, September 5. This is the start of another busy year for the hard-working Lions and already plans are well on their way. On September 16 Stan and Muriel will hold their annual corn roast for Lions and their families, and all will be treated to hay rides, pony rides, bonfire, and just plain fun.

The annual Lions Club auction sale will be held October 14 and when you start that fall cleaning be sure to save all those knick-knacks and what have you, you no longer want, and get in touch with any of the Lions for pick-up. This is one Lion function that I never miss and you would be wise to mark this on your calendars if you don't want to miss out on the fun.

Brownies and Guides

The Brownie and Guide leaders of King City district held their first meeting of the season September 8. Comings and Goings

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garbutt have returned from a three week vacation, well rested and raring to go with their many community activities. They hitched up the family trailer and headed to Silver Lake, this side of Ottawa, and spent a couple of nights there before heading to Cumberland, Ontario next on their agenda, and the kids did the complete tour including the changing of the guard up the tower of the parliament buildings, and other places of interest in the capital city. Before reaching Montreal, they stopped at Hudson, a terrific campsite equipped with every convenience imaginable (including a swimming pool) and from there spent two days at Expo. While in Montreal they had a tour through the Avon plant and also the wax museum and St. Joseph's Shrine.

From Three Rivers they headed to the historic Plains of Abraham which afforded the children a first hand view of one of the most historic points in Canada. Quebec City and all its charm was waiting for the Garbuts, complete with its narrow streets and picturesque buildings and from there they visited Montmorency Falls and Sherbrooke. They crossed the border into Vermont, marvelled at the fantastic view in the mountains and spent two glorious days near Lake Champlain in one of the state parks.

They crossed the border again at Cornwall and visited Upper Canada Village at Morrisburg, and found themselves transported back in time to what Canada must have been like 100 years ago.

On the evening of September 5, the family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Flucker gathered at the Flucker home to help celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. They were married in Runnymede United Church, Toronto in 1942, by Rev. David Gallagher, and in attendance at the celebration last Tuesday night were several members of the Runnymede United Church choir and Mrs. Flucker's bridesmaids, Mrs. George Young of Sarnia and Mrs. Doug Murray of Toronto. To make the evening even a more memorable one was the re-union with Mrs. Flucker's father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre Hood, who flew

York County Women's Institutes Ask Sterilization Child Batterers

A sonic boom was heard throughout the King City district on September 8, some say that it was caused by a jet exceeding the speed of sound, but I rather suspect it was the resolution brought forward by the some 125 members of the York County body of the Federation of Women's Institute for Ontario. It was decided at the meeting that something should be done, and done immediately to prevent child batterers from continuing this horrible practice by sterilization. This would eliminate the birth of more innocents for this type of person to vent their wrath and frustrations upon. A brief has been prepared and approved by the York County body and they in turn are looking for support and endorsement from the FWIO. This brief will then be forwarded to Prime Minister Pearson and everyone else in federal office, including the elected representatives of North, East and West York. The recommendation that an amendment to the criminal code be made that:

"Any person convicted of causing bodily harm to an infant of tender years, shall, whether or not a jail sentence is given, be permanently sterilized." (This is a preventative rather than a punitive measure).

The women of the King City WI were discussing more than equal rights for women this day and they reached the ears of a great many people. It is hoped that other organizations and private individuals will feel that this recommendation warrants more than just a passing thought, and they are urged to sit down and write to their local representatives voicing their approval on this matter. Also submitted was a provision to be included in the proposed divorce legislation, whereby in a marriage break-down when a cessation of co-operation in maintaining normal marriage relationship, together with a sworn statement by the party initiating the action, that he or she has no desire to or intention of resuming marital relations, shall be sufficient proof of the marriage break-down and sufficient grounds for the granting of a divorce.

York County Women's Institutes Ask Sterilization Child Batterers

Objections were registered by six persons last week to King Township's proposed bylaw restricting use of land and erection of buildings in the Glenville Pond area. Of 100 citizens in the area, asked to sign a petition seeking a bylaw which would keep the area residential and agricultural, 72 had signed, it was reported.

Thirty-three residents attending the August 31 public meeting in York Pines United Church called by the township's planning board, to consider the proposed bylaw. The six objectors were William Teinkamp, W. H. Madden, Jerry DeVries, Frank Staley, Irving DeVries and James McMorrian.

Mr. Madden, who had signed the petition, requested that his name be removed as he objected to the requirement of a minimum of 1,500 square feet in the ground floor of a single family dwelling. Chairman Vern Plant advised the objector that he could have his name removed by writing to the clerk and requesting that this be done.

The section of the bylaw which reads "Agricultural use shall mean general farming and the raising of and harvesting of field, bush, tree and vine crops, dairying and other similar general farming operations but shall not include the raising of fur bearing animals, commercial riding stables, commercial dog kennels, commercial poultry and egg plants, commercial greenhouses, commercial nurseries or mushroom farming," drew criticism from Mr. Teinkamp. He said that sometime in the future he might want to build a greenhouse and would be prevented from doing so by the bylaw.

He also asked for a definition of general farming and commercial farming referred to in the above clause. Members of planning board told him that those in the area affected generally understood the difference.

Leslie Pengelly asked the planning board to give close scrutiny to some parts of the bylaw, particularly such vague phrases as "other usual accessory buildings". These should be rewarded to eliminate possible trouble when and if the bylaw is passed.

Great concern was expressed over the section of the bylaw which stated, "Minimum size of a building lot for a single family dwelling shall be one acre in area." They were assured by Alf LeMasurier, member of the board, that without this clause lots could be smaller than one acre which would be an open invitation to subdivisions.

Temperanceville Church Is Scene Cooper-Paxton Aug. 12 Wedding

Standards of white gladioli, small mums, deep rose carnations and candles decorated Temperanceville United Church for the August 12 wedding of Judith Elizabeth Ann Paxton and John Frederick Cooper. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wells, the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cooper of Aurora.

Rev. Earl Stotesbury officiated at the double ring ceremony with Rev. J. E. Speers assisting. The organist was Mrs. Fred Hare and Susanne Levison, Shanty Bay, the bride's cousin sang "I'll Walk With God" and "How Great Thou Art."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of pearl de soie satin and Chantilly lace. Applied lace motifs, outlined with seed pearls, adorned the wide rounded neckline, full skirt and tight full-length lace sleeves, which came to a point at the wrist. The long train flowing from the softly pleated waistline was of Chantilly lace over pearl de soie satin. Seed pearls dotted the scalloped edging. The three-tier, waist-length silk nylon veil was crowned with a pearl tiara. The bride carried a white Bible, talisman roses and Stephanotis and wore the gift of the groom, a lovely charm bracelet.

Mrs. Frank Borsi of Hamilton and Mrs. Eugene Morris of Aurora were matrons of honor, while Miss Ann Paxton, a cousin, was the bridesmaid. The attendants wore deep rose flowered satin brocade street-length gowns, rounded neck and straight skirt. The headress was of matching net in fan shape, caught in a large bow of satin brocade. Each carried white daisy chrysanthemums, deep pink sweetheart roses and green ivy. Their only jewellery was a white gold pendant.

Groomsman was Paul Finley of Aurora and the ushers were Roger Wilson of Aurora and Wayne Paxton, brother of the bride.

After a ride in a pony cart driven by Art Morning from the church to the bride's home, the happy couple transferred to the wedding car.

At the reception in the Fiesta Room, Aurora, the bride's mother received the guests wearing a blue metallic dress with pink and silver accessories. Her corsage was of pink feather carnations. The groom's mother assisted in a lime green dress with beige accessories and a yellow feather carnation corsage.

After the reception the guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Maurice Beynon, Wellington Street, Aurora, where they viewed the wedding gifts and saw the young couple depart on their honeymoon. This was a trip through the United States to the Atlantic coast. For travelling the bride wore a beige camel hair suit with black accessories and orange feather carnation corsage.

Guests were from England (the groom's grandmother and four aunts), Hamilton, Toronto, Willowdale, Shanty Bay, Oak Ridges, Aurora, and Temperanceville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper are now residing at Bonnevile Apartments, Willowdale.

AURORA: Council has approved a new subdivision of 92 new homes in Sunnybrook subdivision in the northern part of town. There are 81 lots involved and a number of the homes will be semi-detached. The subdivision agreement requires a minimum assessment of $6,000 and an average of $7,000. This will put the homes in the $22,000 selling range.
