People And Events In Village Of Maple

Masonic Ladies Night was held last Friday evening in the community centre. The dinner was prepared and served by the Teston U.C.W. This was followed by dancing and euchre.

Seated at the head table were Ruling Master William Wilson and his wife June; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Madill, Mr. and Mrs. George Saywell, Mr. and Mrs. Coulson Malloy, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ambrose.

Winners at the euchre were Mrs. Bruce Thurston, playing as a man, Archie Cameron and Jim Darlington. For the ladies, winners were Mrs. Bessie Wilson, Mrs. Archie Cameron and Mrs. Albert Thurston who was visiting from Lindsay.

Winners at the euchre held in the Masonic Hall October 24 were Mrs. Jack Sheppard, Mrs. S. Tinkler from Richmond Hill and Mrs. Bud McKee for the ladies, and for the men: John Orr, Jack Sheppard and Bruce Thurston.

Mrs. Charles Lepper, Gram Street was an Expo visitor during October. She and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Harper of Milton, went by bus to Montreal. They enjoyed the fair thoroughly, with Mrs. Lepper's favorite building being the British Pavilion. They enjoyed viewing the cattle of J. Glasco, RR 2, Woodbridge, in the Man the Provider section of the fair.

Mel and Lorna Clendenan made a second trip to Expo for a couple of days last week. The whole family had been down in June. This trip was primarily to see some of the buildings that had been missed in the earlier trip.

Labyrinth still seemed to stand up as the best show, and a surprise building that they found good was that of the Canadian National. They also enjoyed the "Le Laternier de Magique" show.

Maple Scouts took part in a very successful fire fighting display last Saturday afternoon at the community centre. Taking part were 12 Maple Scouts and 10 Concord Scouts. The Concord and Maple Scouts are planning a joint evening this week when they will meet at Woodbridge High School for a basketball game and then go to the swimming pool at the House of Concord.

Maple Home and School Association held a very successful showing of "Follow Me Boys" at Joseph Gibson School last Friday evening. Other movies planned for the coming year are November 17 "Babes in Toyland", February 23 "The Trouble With Angels" and March 29 "Born Free".

Concord Religious Census

The Church of Christ, Concord, is planning a religious census, something new for the area.

Purpose of the census is to locate potential members for the growing Bible school and to extend an invitation to all in the community to attend services at the church.

Opinions will also be sought as to how the church may best serve the community.

Before calls are made at homes, a letter of explanation will be sent out, followed within a few days by a visit from members of the congregation.

Enquiries about the project may be directed to A. E. Atkinson at 889-3364.

Obituary

Donald Allen, 83, Maple Resident Member 1st Village Fire Brigade

The Village of Maple was deeply saddened at the passing of one of its oldest citizens, Donald Allen, October 19. In his 83rd year, Mr. Allen enjoyed the fullest use of all his faculties. He was born in Birmingham, England, September 10, 1885. As a young man he learned the butchering trade under the apprentice system and was later employed in a hospital in that city. About 1912 he emigrated to Canada and was at first employed on the Kirby farm on the Kirby Sideroad near Maple. An incident involving loss of some sheep presented him with the opportunity to do a craftsman-like job of dressing the carcasses. From that time he was employed by the late William Johnson Sr. for 35 years.

About 1929, after a number of serious fires in the Maple area, Mr. Allen became instrumental in forming a voluntary fire brigade. Joining him at that time were 11 others - Captain Milton Palmer, Chief Leslie Laver, Driver Charles Ball, Austin Robinson, Charles Cooper, Parnell White, William Johnson Sr., Arthur Lawrie,

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH FRANCIS BROWN AND BRIDAL PARTY

Teston United Setting For Murray-Brown Nuptials

A pretty autumn wedding took place at Teston United Church on September 9 at 4 pm when Connie Louise Murray, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murray of Maple became the bride of Kenneth Francis Brown, son of George Brown and the late Mrs. Brown of King City.

Rev. John R. Dickenson performed the double ring ceremony with baskets of white gladioli as a background. Mrs. Edith Williamson assisted at the organ while Mrs. Sharon Reid sang "The Wedding Prayer and I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming wearing a full-length gown of organza over taffeta trimmed with guipure lace. The puritan sleeves and neck edge were also of the same lace. The sweeping train fell from the waist and was outlined with lace accented by an organza bow at the waist.

Completing her ensemble, her flowered headpiece was of peacock and lace petals outlined with pearls and touched with crystals. The veil of nylon organza was in a bouffant style with the lace of her gown. She carried a cascade of Centennial roses with staphanotis on white satin ribbons. Her gown was styled for 1867 and fashioned for 1967.

The maid of honor was Miss Carol Sawdell and Mrs. Patricia Murray, Miss Patricia Jane Murray and Miss Patricia Brown were the bridesmaids, and Miss Kelly Burns and Miss Barbara Rowntree were the flower girls. All the bridal attendants were gowned alike in full-length gowns of gold, styled on empire lines with an A-line skirt and train. The bodice was of ribbed satin and the skirt of embossed peau de soie. Each wore a matching crown of pearls with a four tier bouffant style veil. The bridesmaids carried cascades of large rust and gold mums with pom pom mums on gold satin ribbons. The flower girls carried baskets filled with rust and gold pom pom mums with baby mums on gold satin ribbons.

After signing the register, the bride and groom were led down the aisle by the flower girls who strewn rose petals in their path. Best man was Paul Cheetham and the ushers were Ab Rowntree, James Murray and Ron Murray. Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor where Mrs. Murray received the guests in an aqua dress and coat ensemble of silk worsted. The bride wore a dress of green velvet and brown accessories. Her corsage was of gold sweetheart roses.

Special guests were Mrs. J. J. Brownlee, grandmother of the bride, and Miss H. Deisman, Mrs. G. MacDonald and Mrs. J. Humphrey assisted in a beige worsted dress with a brown velvet hat and matching gloves. Her corsage was of yellow castle, Penn.

After the reception, a dance was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray, on Jane Street. For a honeymoon trip to Western Canada, the bride wore a dress and jacket of light wood checked with blue, green and gold. Her hat was of green velvet and brown accessories. Her corsage was of gold sweetheart roses.

Melville Bell

Melville Bell passed away in Pine Grove Nursing Home October 18 in his 79th year. For four years, less one month, he had enjoyed excellent care in the nursing home. Before that time he had resided in Concession 7, Vaughan Township, just south of the Maple Sideroad. He was predeceased by his wife (nee Josephine Rutledge) on December 6, 1963, after a brief illness.

The greater part of his life had been spent in the Vellore area where he grew up as a member of a family of 11 children. To mourn his loss two, brothers, Arthur and Charles, two sisters, Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. William Seed survive. He was predeceased by sisters Mrs. Bates and Mrs. McEachern and brothers Benjamin, Herbert and William. Another brother died in childhood.

Also surviving him are five daughters: Beatrice (Mrs. Gordon Rumble), Ethel (Mrs. Hugh Gardhouse), Ruth (Mrs. Donald Peterson), Jessie (Mrs. F. Del Col) and Margaret (Mrs. Donald Wood); and two sons, Roy of Bradford and Wilfred of Clarendon.

Farming was his life and he will be greatly missed in his community by many friends and neighbors. Interment was in Woodbridge Cemetery.

The Voice Of Concord

People and Places

After listening with envy to the Expo visits of so many Concord residents, your correspondent decided to accept the kind invitation of friends Miss Barbara Heeley and Miss Jean Watson of Montreal and visit Expo '67 over the weekend of October 21 and 22.

The transit strike proved quite a handicap to commence the weekend with, but I eventually arrived at Expo with all the other thousands with as much enthusiasm to see it.

In spite of nearly freezing up riding on the minirail, the three-quarter hour trip was well worth it. The most impressive pavilion for design was the French, but the American stole the show when the sun sparkled on it, for then it seemed to stand out alone.

The weather was wet and cold which made the larger pavilions even more impossible to get into. However, we were able to get into the smaller ones, among them Ethiopia, Morocco with its most beautiful carved ceilings that hardly anyone thought to look up at and Tunisia set up on large pillars over water. Africa Place and the smaller pavilions of Kenya, The United Republic of Tanzania and Uganda were also visited and here were displayed the most intricate carved animals and also live crocodiles. Also seen nearby were the buildings of the Ivory Coast, Gabon, Chad and Nigeria. When chatting here with a representative for Nigeria, he told that he found Canada dreadfully cold but was hoping to see snow for the first time before he went home at the end of the month.

The Pavilion was very colorful and typical of its people but the Mexican Pavilion which was of impressive architectural design, was quite depressing in its contents. Mostly it contained statues, very old and in much need of restoration. The Mariachi band playing in the archway outside however, appeared to please everyone on such a dull day.

Much money had gone into the Iran Pavilion. To begin with the building itself looked more permanent than most of the others. Inside it displayed the most elaborate hand painted enamelled lanterns, hand woven rugs of many colors and beautiful mirrored ceilings set into designs. The paneled walls were a work of art as well.

In the Swiss Pavilion there were watches of every shape and size imaginable, even to men's diamond studded ones and ladies' diamond necklaces bearing the minutest watch in the centre of each. The second day back at the site saw even more people now that the strike was over. But it was decided to attempt the larger pavilion and as a result had the longest wait of 45 minutes at the British Pavilion.

A wait of just 30 minutes and they were in the U. S. A. Pavilion where there was on show a completely young modern impression of America today and of the future.

Reaching the Russian Pavilion around supper time they were lucky to walk right in. It was disappointing that this was the only pavilion where the hostesses were not wearing uniforms, for this did prove something interesting to look for however, this pavilion was most interesting, although propaganda was written into all descriptions.

The whirlwind two days spent at Expo concluded with a visit to the Telephone Building and seeing the movie in the round. One left there feeling mighty proud of our wonderful country and all it offers.

We recently heard that a wedding took place at the House of Concord, August 26, when David Moulton, a social worker there and the former Jean Pittman of Toronto were married. Some 140 guests attended the ceremony held in the chapel and also the following reception. Officiating at the ceremony was Lieutenant Colonel Arthur Moulton, a Salvation Army officer residing in Hamilton, who is also the father of the groom.

Since the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton have taken up residence at the House of Concord and Mrs. Moulton commutes to the city daily where she teaches grade 5 students at Rawlinson Senior Public School. Belated congratulations go out from all in the community.

Little Kelly Ann Cole, King High Drive, reached her first birthday October 21 and celebrated with a lovely party attended by Debbie, Michael and Timmy Lacey, Kevin, Debbie and Sean Sweeney, Debra, Edward and David Kerr-Taylor, Michael Camp, Patricia Wright and special guest for the afternoon, Mrs. Elizabeth Walsh, her great grandmother.

It was good news to hear that six-year-old Brian Nash, Rockview Gardens, is home again after being put into an oxygen tent at Branson Hospital suffering with asthmatic bronchitis on Saturday last. His mother reports that he is doing well now but says it will still be another week before he is back at school.

Mrs. Laura Bone, mother of Warren Bone, King High Drive, met with an unfortunate accident last Friday when she fell and broke her hip. She has been living in Concord for 65 of her 86 years and is well known by many people in this community.

As this article was going to press, Mrs. Bone was about to be operated upon at York Central Hospital, so a speedy recovery is wished her by everyone.

Charles Peacock, father of Phyllis Gambell, (Brown Owl of Concord Brownies) died suddenly at his home at the Lake of Bays, October 24. Mr. Peacock had only retired to this area one and a half years ago and was previously from the Toronto area.

A party took place on October 21, at the home of John and Carol Cole, King High Drive, for Carol's father William Lacey, Lawrie Road. Mr. Lacey leaves shortly for work away from this area with the Department of Highways and as he will be away over Christmas and New Year, friends and neighbors like to get together for a party at about this time each year for him.

The long playing recordings of songs sung by the Festival Choir of Vaughan Township has completed its second printing and is now available to those wishing to purchase it. As a suggestion the record would make a lovely Christmas gift.

After the choir sang at Toronto City Hall, August 16, to an audience including representatives of 40 cities from countries the world over, the record is now in demand both far and near.

A parent of one child singing with the choir has decided the record will be given to the child when he reaches the age of 21. The record can be obtained by calling Mrs. Mary Fraser, 889-1964.

When chatting with Councilor Dave Fraser recently, he mentioned that the storm sewer was almost completed running from Rockview Gardens down to the west bank of the Don River. Next year channel improvements go along there. These should help the recurrent flooding problem in the area.

More land has been sold over on Vaughan Acres, Keele Street and new businesses are rapidly springing up there. Getting underway around the end of November will be the permanent Royal Bank of Canada structure. It will be located on the corner directly north of the present building and opposite Acme Paper. This new building will cover an area of 3,650 feet and will be of brick construction and of modern design. It will accommodate a staff of 20 and the processing will be done by the latest computer equipment. The cost of the new bank will be $200,000. Manager Larry Ashton, who is keen to see the new building completed which will be four times larger than the present one, says the big day will arrive in May 1968.

A start to the general purpose room at Concord Public School got underway by builders last Friday. Interim reports go home the week of November 6. This will be followed by parent interviews with teachers, the date of which will be announced later.

Here are results of the Spotlight Coffee Club as bowled on October 24: Getting to be a habit at gaining that high average score was again Joan Webster with 212; high single flat was scored by Joan Webster with 293 and high single with handicap by Doris Higginson with 302; high triple flat went to Joan Webster with 829 and high triple with handicap was bowled by Doris Higginson with 711.

Team 4 took all seven points when playing Team 5. Team 2 took five points playing Team 3 which got 2 points. Team 1 took five points playing Team 6 which got two points.

Total points to date are: Team 2 with 22, Team 6 with 19, Team 5 with 17, Team 4 with 17, Team 1 with 16 and Team 3 with 14.

Guides
Seven Concord Guides, with leader Elsie Leyzac, gathered with two other companies for the camp-out under canvas at Camp Ma Ke Wa, near Orangeville on the weekend of October 21 and 22. Former Concord Captain Audrey Boron and now attached to a Willowdale group, brought along four Guides and Norma Houle, of another Willowdale group brought 11 Guides.

They all enjoyed an interesting weekend and among the events was a hike where they gathered moss for their terrarium. Many girls passed various tests throughout the weekend. They had access to a barn that was equipped for roller skating and was located beside an artificial lake. Mrs. Leyzac said that an over-abundance of food was taken to help fight the cool temperatures expected but it wasn't as chilly after all.

Although almost into winter now and most of the leaves having fallen everyone agreed that the view around the Hockley Valley area, was just as breathtaking as during the summer months.

The Hallowe'en fair was really evident at the Guides' party held at the Church of Christ, October 26. There was a good turnout that evening and a marvelous hair raising time was enjoyed by all.

The court of honor, being patrol leaders and their seconds, made a spook house with all the appropriate decorations, such as skeletons, bones and masks.

Guiders Elsie Leyzac and Sharon Russell performed a mock seance and members of the spirit world reached (in make believe) were Mrs. Joan MacDonald and Mrs. Norma MacVitt. In the dimmed room where they played games, the sounds of bones rattling, guns and eerie whistles almost convinced Elsie Leyzac herself that the witches were at work.

The evening wound up with everyone enjoying delicious refreshments.

Brownies
All the Concord Brownies arrived at their Hallowe'en Party in costume and the leaders turned up wearing mini costume and colored hair do's, when the party was held at the Church of Christ, October 25.

The Hallowe'en atmosphere was really in the air with the hall decorated with orange and black streamers and pumpkins. Lots of Hallowe'en games were played such as, shadows on the wall and to the surprise of everyone, Elsie Leyzac burst in on them disguised as a witch.

The delicious sandwiches, Hallowe'en cakes and soft drinks supplied by the mothers were much enjoyed to round the evening off well.

A reminder goes out to everyone to collect together all those loose bottles and the Scouts and Cubs will come to your house to take them off your hands. They will be holding their fall bottle drive this coming Saturday, and will be canvassing the houses and collecting from 9:30 am onward. If you do not expect to be home that day, the bottles will be collected if left out by the door.

Twenty-two boys of the 1st Concord Scout Troop attended and enjoyed the campout under canvas at Camp Obasateka, west side of Cookstown, on the weekend of October 21 and 22. The lads were pleased to have the pleasure of the company of former Skipper Dr. Peter Grainger, now district commissioner, along for the weekend, with Skipper Lorne Reesor and Skipper Larry Price. They were blessed with very good weather and quite nippy, everyone managed to keep warm.

Sunday morning the "Scouts Own" service was held in an outdoor chapel surrounded by beautiful birch trees. Obasateka is one of the greater Toronto region Scout Camps. Scouts would like to remind folk to come out and support the Hobby Show to be held at Maple Community Hall, November 18. All boys are entering some type of hobby he does and it will prove a varied interesting show. Just 25 cents a ticket.

There will also be a bake sale at the same time by various auxiliaries.

This Thursday, Concord Scouts are playing host to the Maple troop of approximately 25 boys. They will be invited to join in on playing lacrosse or volleyball ball at Woodbridge High School, followed by a swim and refreshments at the House of Concord.

Frank Ward, chairman of the 1st Concord Group Committee, continues to make excellent progress at York Central Hospital and for a get well card with a difference, was given a piece of birch bark signed by all the Scouts under their particular patrol name. We were also pleased to hear that Mr. Ward will be leaving the hospital soon.

Edgeley WI
The ladies of Edgeley WI have been invited to be guests of the Maple WI on November 8, at Maple United Church Hall. Mrs. R. J. Darlington would like to take this opportunity to remind Edgeley WI members that their own meeting is November 9, at the home of Mrs. C. Boake.
