

BEVERLEY KATHLEEN BELLIS IS BRIDE OF FRANCIS F. LeGAULT

I Pledge My Troth To Thee My Love

The historic chapel of St. Mary's Anglican Church, Richmond Hill, was the scene of a lovely summer wedding, at 3 o'clock, July 29, when Beverley Kathleen Bellis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bellis, Paliser Crescent North, became the bride of Francis Frederick (Frank) LeGault, son of Mr. and Mrs. David LeGault, Cameron Drive, Thornhill. The Rev. James O'Neil officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the little church decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons, a great bouquet of which rested in an antique bowl on the lectern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess-line white silk toe-length gown, with the new "cage" or redingote in matching nylon net, the neck and hem heavily embroidered in silk cord, her bouffant shoulder-length wedding veil, caught to a white velvet and crystal petalled head-dress, framed her head and face, and she carried a bouquet of green foliage and fern, centred by one large white orchid.

Miss Carol Nowell, attended the bride as maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Lorna Farquharson, Hazel Dewsbury and Mrs. David LeGault, Cameron Drive, Thornhill. The Rev. James O'Neil officiated at the double-ring ceremony in the little church decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons, a great bouquet of which rested in an antique bowl on the lectern.

A novel and romantic note during the wedding march from the chapel after the ceremony was the piping of the bride and groom, Miss Lorna Farquharson playing the bagpipes. To the delight of the wedding party, Miss Farquharson played the bagpipes again later, at the reception, which was held at Honey Pot Ski Lodge, Maple.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the reception in the lovely Honey Pot chalet. The bride's mother receiving in a gown of lime lace over yellow crepe, with matching chiffon net flowered hat. The groom's mother received in a gown of royal blue lace over satin, with matching hat and accessories.

The bride, who is a graduate of Bayview Secondary School, and formerly a secretary with the Richmond Hill Public School Board, and the groom, received among their wedding messages, a telegram from Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, who were holidaying in Moscow.

Following a honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains, Penn., the happy couple are now residing in Cooksville, and the bride is with the Toronto Township Board of Education as secretary to the co-ordinator of Technical Education.

Ward 4 which covers the whole westside area has been reconstituted during the past two years by Councillor John MacDiarmid. Mr. MacDiarmid again won election to council in December 1965 in a two way race after serving on previous administrations and the planning board.

The only new candidate so far is Morgan Davis who in a public statement issued this week said he will be seeking the Ward 1 seat now held by Councillor Ivan Mansbridge. A Newkirk Road printing company owner, Mr. Davis is a resident of Beverley Acres.

Hydro Chairman Sam Cook and Commissioner William Wagner have announced they both will be seeking re-election. The two hydro commissioners are elected across the town in the same way as the three senior members of council. Mr. Cook has been a member of the commission since its formation in 1957. Mr. Wagner has served on it since 1958.

Seventh Day Adventists Canvass Welfare, Hospital And School Aid

Members of the Richmond Hill Seventh Day Adventist Church begin their local annual world service appeal November 18, reports Pastor W. M. Mercer.

Participating in the appeal will be volunteers of the local congregation, who will personally visit community homes during the next two to three weeks. Solicitors will be wearing official identification, the characteristic lapel ribbon and large insignia pin.

Funds solicited will go toward extending medical, welfare, and educational services on a worldwide basis in 200 countries, including Canada. The church last year aided more than 8.2 million persons, distributed more than 9.6 million articles of clothing, donated 10.7 million hours of volunteer time, and contributed $4.6 million in food and cash to the church's welfare program.

The church operates 137 hospitals, sanitariums and clinics, which treated more than 4.3 million persons last year. The Branson Hospital in Willowdale is owned and operated by the Seventh Day Adventist. The church also supports a school system enrolling 375,000 students and publishes literature in 260 languages and dialects.

The local Adventists operate a welfare centre from their church building located on Elgin Mills Road West. In addition to participating in the joint program of distributing Christmas cheer boxes to needy families, the centre endeavors to be of service to the less fortunate at all times, on a non-sectarian basis. Under its recently appointed director, Mrs. Earl Sheets, the welfare society is laying plans to be of wider community service than it has been for some time.

Liberal public support of this annual appeal in the past has always been much appreciated, and it is hoped that it might be continued again this year.

NEWMARKET: A $2,750,000 plan for rejuvenating downtown Newmarket was presented by town planners Proctor, Redfern, Bousfield and Bacon this week. Costs of the urban renewal would be borne by federal, provincial and local governments with Newmarket's share $688,000. This was said to mean 3.7 mills, or an increase of $15 per year to the average taxpayer.

NEWMARKET: Trailways of Canada Ltd. which took over bus operation from Stackhouse Coach Lines serving Newmarket three weeks ago, plans extensive surveys of passenger trends to decide where time and route changes will be advantageous. Larry Needler, president and founder of Trailways first began his bus service with one bus in Newmarket and now has a fleet of 52 modern buses.

NEWMARKET: Spectators outnumbered town councillors by a wide margin at this week's meeting of Newmarket Council as residents came to complain about "deplorable" road and street conditions in the Alexander Road-Queen Street area. Streets were said to be impassable last spring and have not been improved since, with little or no drainage in some areas.

To Eliminate Confusion Of Names Don Mills Rd. Now Woodbine Ave.

What's in a name? Confusion, that's what. This is particularly true if you live on Don Mills Road in Markham Township, which is also known as Concession 4 and below Steeles Avenue is called Woodbine Avenue.

Although York County Council recently turned down a request that Don Mills Road be renamed Woodbine Avenue as far north as Lake Simcoe, it has now asked that names of roads be co-ordinated to eliminate confusion.

At its November 13 meeting, Markham Township Council, after some good-natured banter, voted to change the name of Concession 4 from Don Mills Road to Woodbine Avenue through the township, North of the townline the name is under the jurisdiction of Whitechurch Township, which may decide to keep the name of Don Mills Road or may accede to the county's request.

Thus disappears one of the main confusions of names. But there still remains Markham Road in Richmond Hill, which is 17th Avenue in Markham Township, Vaughan Road on the west side of Yonge, Maple Road in Vaughan Township and Richmond Street in Maple. And do you call it the Gormley Road, the townline or the Stouffville Road?

Reeve Stewart Rumble was opposed to changing the name. "It has been Don Mills as long as anyone can remember." But Councillor Allan Sumner pointed out that if you are on Don Mills Road in Metro "you end up in a farmer's field," and confusion results.

It was also pointed out that new industry coming into the township has had trouble directing deliveries, mail, etc., "People get lost." It was reported that to solve this problem one company had been forced to rent a box at Willowdale Post Office.

Council decided to leave signs on the townline as they are — whether Gormley or Stouffville and 17th Avenue will not be renamed Maple Road as the county suggests in Markham Township but will remain 17th Avenue following the pattern of numbered sideroads in the township.

COUNCIL BRIEFS
Deputy-reeve S. J. Gadsby announced that a staff appreciation night will be held December 15 at Bayview Golf and Country Club. Staff members and their spouses will be the guests — no outsiders — and no liquor will be supplied.

Councillor Sumner asked the clerk to obtain an estimate of cost of a bus shelter at the Yonge Street stop at Royal Orchard Road for North Thornhill residents.

An OMB hearing into Bylaw No. 2284, the North Don Mills Industrial Bylaw, has been set for December 7 at 10 a.m.

Approval was given to appointments in the works department; Allan Cook, who joined staff April 28 has now completed his probationary period and has received a permanent appointment on the recommendation of the engineer, at $2.05 per hour. Herbert Travis has joined the staff as a welder and maintenance worker at $2.30 per hour.

Eight tenders were received for a box culvert on 16th Avenue between Concessions 5 and 6, the price ranging from $50,721.97 to $82,398.60. The lowest, submitted by Dagmar Construction Ltd. of Scarborough, was accepted on recommendation of the engineer.

Tenders for reconstruction of Henderson Avenue from Clark Avenue to John Street were received and referred to the engineer for study.

Council agreed to investigate the cost of establishing a watermain in the Burncrest Road area, West Markham Industrial Estates, where owners petitioned for service.

The Ontario Concrete Block Association has protested council's action in ruling out concrete as facing for buildings. They ask council to use merit, not material, as a criterion for building regulations. Council referred the matter to the building inspector and planning board for study.

Urge Municipalities Pay Up Early

York County's 14 municipalities are to be encouraged to prepay their levies to the county, if a recommendation of this year's finance committee is adopted by next year's council.

While previously the municipalities have been allowed a discount of 4 1/2% for prepaid levies, it was recommended at the last sittings of county council that the discount be increased to 5 1/4% at the beginning of 1968.

It was pointed out that the county now pays the bank at a rate of 5 1/4% when it must borrow to carry on while awaiting receipt of monies from the municipalities.

WHEN WINTER DOES ITS WORST

YOUR CARRIER DOES HIS BEST!

Whenever winter weather strikes with cold, snow, sleet and wind, your reliable carrier makes an extra effort to provide the service you wish; prompt arrival of a protected newspaper. Seldom are you disappointed, no matter how severe the weather.

Bringing "The Liberal" to your door every Thursday — storm or shine — is almost routine for your carrier. He has learned the importance of providing a valuable service just like many of our leading citizens learned on newspaper routes in their school days.

If your son has a chance to take a newspaper route—even in the winter-time — encourage him to accept it. No better opportunity exists for a boy to learn business values and earn money while being a student.
