Will Lay Charges On Dog-Owners Who Let Pets Run Loose At Night

An increase in the number of accidents at night involving motorists and dogs running loose has prompted a threatened crackdown on pet owners by Canine Control Officer James Ryan.

Officer Ryan told "The Liberal" that in the past two or three weeks three dogs have been killed and two severely injured as a result of being struck by cars after dark.

The accidents occurred on Yonge Street at Carrville Road, on Bayview Avenue just south of Richmond Hill, on Highway 7 at Don Mills, on Keele Street south of Maple and another on 19th Avenue just east of Yonge Street.

"I would like to point out," Officer Ryan said, "that no driver of a car can have any hope of seeing or stopping for a dog which appears suddenly before his headlights."

"It is unfair to the driver and cruel to the animal that has been allowed to run loose. A dog is often struck at night by a motorist who doesn't even realize he has hit anything and consequently the animal may be left to suffer all night."

Mr. Ryan said that in his mind any owner who would let his animal run loose at night "is the worst type of owner."

"There is also the danger," he said, "that dogs running loose at night will gather into

Gill-Middleton Wedding

Bronze and yellow mums decorated Carrville United Church, September 16, when Sebbie Margretta Middleton became the bride of William George Gill. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Middleton, Palmerston, Ontario, (formerly of Carrville) and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Gill, of Collingwood, Ontario.

Rev. A. I. Higgins performed the ceremony, the wedding music was played by Miss Gloria Bowes, and the soloist, Miss Barbara Murray, sang the "Wedding Prayer" and "Eden".

Following the ceremony a reception for 65 guests was held at the Richvale Lions Hall. The bride's mother received the guests in a pink wool suit with matching accessories and assisting her was the groom's mother in a blue street-length dress with matching accessories.

For her going-away outfit the bride chose a red wool suit with matching accessories. Following a wedding trip to Eastern Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Gill took up residence in Collingwood.

panel of chantilly lace forming a chapel train.

Attending her were her sister Nancy Middleton as maid of honor, Donna Lyn Ash and Denise Middleton, her nieces and Marlene Gill, the groom's sister, as bridesmaids. All wore floor length ivory and gold brocade gowns with empire waistline and flowing back panel.

Best man was Robert Gill, the groom's brother and ushers were John Gill and Robert Middleton.

McCarthy-Phillips

White chrysanthemums, pink gladioli and roses graced Richmond Hill Presbyterian Church when Sandra Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Phillips, Boisdale Avenue, Richmond Hill, became the bride of John Ross McCarthy, Maple, son of Mr. John McCarthy and the late Mrs. McCarthy, September 23 at 4 pm.

Rev. A. MacLean, of Willowdale, performed the ceremony and Mrs. Cameron Andrew played the organ during the service.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length taffeta A-line gown with a single overlay of chiffon which billowed slightly to form a train. Embossing trimmed the edge of the gown and bell-shaped sleeves of chiffon. Her shoulder-length bouffant veil fell from a headpiece of crystal and heads intertwined with lace petals.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white mums centred with small white roses.

A sister of the bride, Lorraine Phillips, was maid-of-honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Evelyn Jordan, sister of the groom, and Carol and Joy Phillips, also sisters of the bride.

The attendants, in flowing chiffon over fitted floor-length gowns of Capri blue, carried crescent bouquets of pale pink gladioli. Their headpieces were headed tiaras, matching the heading on the veils of the gowns, and the brief veils were also of Capri blue.

Bryan Cutler, the groom's best man, and the ushers William Jordan, the groom's brother-in-law, Tom Willis and Vince Carcone were dressed in white formal attire.

After the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at North York Veterans' Club Hall, Willowdale, which was followed by a dance to complete the evening. Master-of-ceremonies was Keith Brown, friend of the bride's family.

The bride's mother received in a two-piece gold brocade dress, black velvet hat, matching accessories and a chartreuse lily corsage.

Mrs. Mildred McCarthy wore a two-piece suit in pastel yellow with contrasting scarf of complement the neckline, matching accessories and a chartreuse lily corsage.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. E. Conroy, was attired in a predominantly green two-piece dress with black accessories and a chartreuse lily corsage.

For the honeymoon trip to Montreal, the bride wore a beige knit suit, contrasting accessories and a Centennial Rose corsage.

On their return, the couple will reside in Richmond Hill.

Out-of-town guests were from Toronto, Montreal, Burlington, Brampton, Schomberg, Gormley, Kettleby, Frenchman's Bay and Newmarket.

Campbell-Lamb

Dr. E. J. Bailey officiated at the recent wedding ceremony in Kingsway Baptist Church, Toronto, when Rhoda Mary Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamb, Thornhill, was united in marriage to Robert S. Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Campbell.

The organist, Frederick Guegan played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire styled antique ivory satin bridal gown enhanced with Al-concealed lace which was re-embroidered with seed pearls. The back of the gown was highlighted with a flowing train extending from the shoulders. An ivory tulle illusion veil was caught to a wedding ring head-dress of lace and satin. She carried a cascade bouquet of cream shade roses.

Mr. & Mrs. R. S. Campbell

Miss Frances Lamb, sister of the bride as maid of honor wore a full length Empire styled gown of rosewood chiffon trimmed with matching velvet ribbon, and matching rose head-dress. The bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Campbell, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Pamela Blyth cousin of the bride and Miss Jodi Lamb, sister of the bride were similarly attired to the maid of honor, but in leaf green, pale beige and pale gold, respectively. Each carried a basket of ivory glamelias.

The bridegroom's sister, Annette and Carol Campbell as flower girls were dressed in apricot Empire styled gowns edged with matching velvet ribbon. Both carried baskets of ivory glamelias.

Bruce Bish of Belleville was groomsmen while the ushers were Jerry Campbell, brother of the bridegroom, Charles Mercer of Toronto and Wayne Sobie of Belleville.

For the reception in the Old Mill Restaurant, Toronto, the bride's mother greeted the guests wearing a teal blue Swiss crepe dress with coat of imported lace, matching accessories and a purse corsage of ivory roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a mauve lace dress with matching lace coat, navy blue accessories and a corsage of pale green and purple tipped glamelias.

Leaving on a wedding trip to Expo and other eastern points the bride chose a cherry red wool sheath dress with A-line coat, black accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

On their return from the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will reside at Ridgevale, RR 1.

Boyle-Ferguson

Yellow and white fall flowers formed the setting in St. Patrick's Anglican Church, Willowdale, for the October 21 wedding of Jacqueline Audrey Ferguson and Roger R. Boyle. Rev. James D. Tiller was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Ferguson, 102 Woodward Avenue, Highland Park and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Boyle, Trelawn Avenue, Oakville. Traditional wedding music was played during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza over pure silk, with a shepherd's coat fashioned with a train and shoulder bows. The dress and coat were trimmed with Chantilly lace. She wore a pearl tulle from which fell a shoulder-length veil and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow gardenias and white stephanotis with green eucalyptus leaves.

The senior attendants, her sister Joan Frances Ferguson as maid of honor and the groom's sister Laura Boyle and Caroline O'Brien, as bridesmaids, wore gowns of tangerine pure silk, also fashioned with a shepherd's coat, with matching veils. Their flowers were circular arrays of orange shastas. Flower girl Anne Marie Simon, the bride's cousin, wore orange velvet with matching bow and carried

Mr. and Mrs. Henrich Goller

A wedding of local interest took place at Mimosa, Ontario recently when Laurel Ann Warmington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Warmington of RR 1 Orton, became the bride of George Goller of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henrich Goller, Munich, Germany.

Mr. Goller is the proprietor of Allencourt Hair Stylist, Richmond Hill, and Mrs. Goller has been an operator there for some time.

The ceremony took place on the spacious lawns at the home of the bride's parents, under a large archway covered with cedar and surrounded by a garden of dahlias, petunias, cosmos and golden glow which formed a beautiful background.

Rev. B. Besley of Grand Valley, assisted by Rev. S. Rhijnsburger of Orton officiated at the mid-afternoon ceremony. The bride walked across the lawn on the arm of her father, to wedding music played on the organ by Howard Lodge of RR 2 Guelph.

The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of silk taffeta with an overlay of organza. Appliqued daisies decorated the neckline and were scattered down the front panel and around the hem. Her head-dress was a band of daisies and tulle, gathered to form a tiara. From this fell a veil of Swiss net, strewn with daisies, which formed a long train. She carried a cascade of gold roses and ivy.

Attendants were the bride's sisters, maid of honor Lynn Warmington and bridesmaids Marjorie Warmington of Brampton, Betty Warmington of Mimosa, Donna Rigby of Guelph and Dorothy Ross of Mimosa.

The maid of honor wore a pale moss green gown featuring an empire waistline and bell sleeves of white lace. The bridesmaids were gowned alike in yellow dresses of the same design. Their bouquets were gold centred daisies adorned with bronze velvet streamers. Fresh daisies were scattered through their hair as head-dresses.

Best man was Fred Klausen of Malton and ushers were Udo Rust of Guelph, Tom and Jerry Bird of Elora and Peter Overt of Toronto.

Following the ceremony, a reception and dance was held at Havsumfun. The bride's mother received wearing a two piece dress of pale green bonded lace with white and brown accessories. Her corsage was of miniature gold roses.

The bride's table was centred with a wedding cake made by her grandmother, Mrs. George H. Walker. The cake was baked in the same tins used to bake the cake for Mrs. Walker's own wedding, 57 years ago. Pale yellow flowers decorated the table.

Master of ceremonies at the reception was the bride's cousin Russel Spicer. He made special mention that seven nationalities were represented at the party, German, Ukrainian, Dutch, Hungarian, Latvian, Canadian and French-Canadian. The bride's uncle, Jack Bird of Ariss gave the toast to the bride. Another uncle, Lavelle Warmington of Elora took the opportunity to make a presentation to the bride's parents for their 25th wedding anniversary September 1.

Guests attending came from Midland, London, Toronto, Malton, Richmond Hill, Guelph, Ferguson and Elora.

For the honeymoon trip to Montreal, Expo and other eastern points, the bride donned a coral wool pant suit with dark brown accessories.
