County To Pass Parking Bylaw

It appears that a 24-hour ban on parking on Keele Street, Maple Avenue and Richmond Street in Maple will eventually be put into effect - but Vaughan Township Council has ducked the responsibility for making the decision.

A detailed report prepared by the Department of Highways recommended the 24 hour ban, but rather than adopt this, council decided in February to submit the report to York County Engineer A. J. Rettie and ask for his recommendation

At the March 19 meeting of council, it was reported that Mr. Rettie had replied that he favored the report and would like to see the complete parking ban in effect as quickly as possible. He advised too, that if it was Vaughan Township's wish to have the necessary bylaw passed by York County Council, he would have it introduced there.

After a lengthy discussion, this was, in effect, what council agreed to do, noting that the parking ban on Maple Avenue and Richmond Street would take effect as soon as reconstruction of these streets is completed.

Chief objection to the move was voiced by Deputy-reeve Garnet Williams. "It is a dog in the manger attitude to ban parking at nights," he said. "You are creating a ghost town out of Maple."

New Recreation Program To Attempt Make More Use Of Existing Facilities

A steering committee consisting of Jan Myers, Fred Young, Jim Hodgson, Rev. J. A. Arbuckle, Marilyn Jackman, John Jarvis and Graham Lamont was appointed March 21 to investigate setting up an educational and recreation program in Maple schools.

The action was taken following the showing at George Bailey School, of the film "To Reach a Child" which portrayed how residents of Flint, Michigan developed a varied program of education and recreation to interest all age groups in the community, utilizing existing school facilities.

Scott Darrach of the Community Planning Branch of the Department of Education led the discussion following the showing of the film and pointed out that it is not necessary to have professional people lead the groups. There are probably many people in Maple, he said, who would be able and willing to take on the leadership of a small group of people interested in their particular specialty, be it bridge, art, music, discus-

Mr. Darrach noted that in this country, 16% of the people are over the age of 60, 52% are under 25 and the remainder are of the working age group. Right now in Toronto, he said, some workers are negotiating for a 32 to 34 hour work week. When this becomes widespread, we will have a lot of leisure time on our hands that was unheard of years ago.

He told of a very successful bridge club which was formed in Ottawa in which 250 senior citizens took a very active part. While Maple could not be compared to Ottawa, he stressed that a club formed in Maple filling a similar need could be just as successful.

Mr Darrach recommended that Maple conduct a survey to identify the needs of the residents and determine from that what the community wants. It is not always necessary, he said, to segregate the young and old because there are some areas of education and recreation that can be enjoyed by all age groups together.

Asked about the costs of organizing such a program, Mr. Darrach stated that this usually depends on the amount of co-operation existing between school boards, principals, councils and recreation committees.

Mr. Darrach offered to provide copies of the Department of Education's regulations concerning recreation committees and suggested that a steering committee be formed. It could then approach the existing Vaughan Township Recreation Committee.

Councillor Dalton McArthur who was present at the meeting, advised that the township has some funds available for such a program.

The committee was quickly appointed and will meet April 1 to discuss preliminary steps to
