Joint Lenten Services Are Popular

The Thornhill Ministerial Association joint ecumenical Lenten evening services concluded April 7 at the United Church. The response from the Roman Catholic, Baptist, Anglican, United, Presbyterian and Lutheran Churches was most gratifying. The attendance figures averaged 250 at each of the six ser-

Choir Director E. J. Mc-Donald of St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church conducted the choir made up of choristers from all the Thornhill Churches participating in the services. Choir members wore vestments of their own church at the services. The choir was outstanding and the choir director has plans to continue the group as a local choir.

The first service was held in the Baptist Church

March 3 with Rev. Arnold Weigel, Christ the King Lutheran, conducting the service and Rev. Dillwyn Evans, Presbyterian, as preacher. Rev. W. H. Rhodes, Richvale Emmanuel, conducted the service March 10 at Holy Trinity Anglican Church and Father Thomas Chidlow, St. Luke's, preached the sermon. The service March 17 was held in St. Luke's and was conducted by Rev. H. R. Howden, Holy Trinity, with Rev. A. I. Higgins, United, as preacher.

A drama, "Christ In The Concrete City" was presented at the service March 24 at the Presbyterian Church with Rev. Evans conducting the service.

The two final Lenten services were held at the United Church March 31 and April 7. Rev. Chidlow and Rev. Garth Nelson, assistant minister of the United Church, conducted the services. Rev. Howden and Dr. Minton Johnston, Baptist Church, were guest preachers.

This was the first year the joint services were held in this area. The order of the service was ecumenical arranged by the Thornhill Ministerial Association. The attendance proved that the program was most successful and will be continued in future years.

The United Church Women entertained choir members and the ministers and their wives following the final service at a reception in the church hall. Choir Director E. J. Mc-Donald led the choir in a thrilling performance of selections from "The Sound Of Music" for the appreciative guests. A fellowship period concluded the even-
