Sam Kaiser Now Recovering

Former Vaughan Township Councillor Sam Kaiser of Kleinburg is now recuperating at home following surgery for removal of a kidney stone at York Central Hospital.

His stay in hospital was prolonged due to an adverse reaction to a dye injection which apparently caused him to develop pneumonia. Mr. Kaiser was a member of Vaughan Township Council for two years, being defeated in the 1966 election. He was formerly chairman of Vaughan Township Public School Board on which he served for five years and was a member of the local Kleinburg school board for 30 years.

WOODBIDGE: Vandals doubled the damage in an auto accident April 28 on Kleinburg Road near the Boyd Conservation Area. Robert Geroux, 23, of Grandravine Road, Downsview, was involved in a minor property damage accident and his car was pushed to the side of the road before being towed home. When he returned with the tow truck, he found every window of his 1967 model car broken. Police said the accident had damaged only the radiator.

Township And Village Split 50/50 On Cost Maple Road Sidewalk Extension

Over strong objections of Reeve Brian Bailey, Vaughan Township Council agreed last week to pay half the costs of 1,070 feet of sidewalk on the south side of Maple Sideroad within the Village of Maple.

The trustees of the police village had agreed to pay for the removal and replacement of existing sidewalks on the north and south sides of Maple Sideroad which will be torn up when Toronto and York Roads Commission widens the road this year, although under protest as the removal is not being done at their request.

The township had agreed to pay the full cost of new sidewalks on the south side of Maple Sideroad from the west limit of the Police Village to the east side of Netherford Road, the entrance to the shopping plaza.

Maple Trustee F. W. Young attended the council meeting and pointed out that the village had assumed the $14,000 cost of sidewalks on Keele Street when it was reconstructed last year by the Toronto and York Roads Commission. While the trustees had reluctantly agreed to pay for the Maple Sideroad reconstruction, they had asked that the township assume 50% of the cost of the extension westward from the present walk to the west limit of the village.

Original recommendation put before council was that council was not prepared to share in this cost.

Councillor Dalton McArthur, after hearing

Mr. Young's presentation, moved that the township accede to the trustees' request. Cost of the 1,070 feet of sidewalk was estimated at $5,243 and this amount would be eligible for a 50% provincial subsidy. This would leave $1,310 to be paid by both the township and the village.

In spite of the small amount of money involved, Reeve Bailey objected to the subsidizing of village sidewalks by residents of the township as a whole, terming it a "sweetheart deal".

The village already received preferential treatment in its roads budget, he insisted and the trustees had "never budgeted an inch" when council had tried to come to a more equitable arrangement. (Village residents pay no share of township road costs but pay for only the roads within the confines of the village.)

Mr. Young replied that the trustees do contribute to some things outside their jurisdiction and that they "endeavor to co-operate as well as we can."

"I am going by your submission when we asked you to come up with the same levy as the rest of the township for road purposes," replied Mr. Bailey.

In a recorded vote, it was agreed that the township should pay the sum requested, with Deputy-reeve Garnet Williams and Councillors McArthur and David Fraser voting in favor and Reeve Bailey and Councillor Charles Birkett opposed.

going PLACES

meeting PEOPLE

Most of the comings and goings appear to be between Maple and York Central Hospital these days. And that is just where your correspondent Mrs. Pam Rolfe has been in residence for the past week, in room 407 to be exact.

Pam is coming along nicely however, and earlier this week was expected to get home Thursday or Friday, minus both her gallbladder and appendix.

Until Pam is operative again, anyone with Maple News to contribute is asked to call Margaret McLean at "The Liberal" office, 884-1105.

Best wishes for a quick recovery go to Mrs. Ernest Brook who is a patient at York Central where she was rushed last Friday for emergency surgery.

Mrs. Michael Weidenfelder with Thomas and Michaela of 22 Clemson Crescent returned last Friday from a three week vacation in Europe. They flew to Frankfurt and then travelled to Heilbronn, up the Rhine River through Bonn to Cologne.

At Osnabrueck they spent a few days with the parents of Mrs. H. Pflug of Maple and then went on to Hamburg where they much enjoyed a tour of the harbor and a visit with Mrs. Weidenfelder's aunt.

A week was spent visiting former neighbors at Eckernforde, a sea resort on the Baltic coast where the family lived before coming to Maple 12 years ago. After returning to Hamburg, the trio took a six hour boat trip to the island of Helgoland, a beautiful island in the North Sea between the coast of Germany and England.

Friends told Mrs. Weidenfelder that it was the loveliest April in Germany for many years and lilacs and other spring flowers were in full bloom.

The only damper on the children's happiness over their trip was that on their first day back at school, 9-year-old Thomas had a flag, his only souvenir of the island of Helgoland, stolen from his bicycle. Thomas is a grade 4 student at Joseph Gibson School and would dearly love to have his flag returned.

It is triangular in shape, green, white and red with a shield on one side and a picture of the island, in red, on the other. Perhaps any parent who sees a child with such a flag could persuade him or her to put it in the lost and found box at the school.

Recreation Survey Members of the recreation steering committee would like to remind residents that the box to receive suggestions as to Maple's recreation needs is still in place in front of the post office.

Although there has been a reasonable response to the survey of recreation needs, committee members would like to receive more of the completed forms and urge that residents indicate their recreation preferences on the forms circulated and deposit them in the box. A full report on the result of the survey will be ready shortly.

BOWL

Ladies' Bowling Sylvia Bedford rolled the high single score for the night, 291 at the final playoffs of the Maple Ladies' Bowling League last week. High triple was bowled by Elva Moore with 694. Team standings found Rothmans in the lead followed by Buckingham, Belmont, Exports, Knolls, Cameo, Matinee and Players.

All week the tune "Hi-Ho come to the fair" has been going through my mind. So don't forget ladies, enter your favorite apple pie or butter tarts, quilts, crewel work, etc., at the Richmond Hill Spring Fair for Thursday night, and on judging day you will be glad you did.

On Mother's Day, May 11, a special ceremony is planned for you mother, so be sure and accompany your child to Sunday school.

I would be glad to hear from anyone any time with news of the community.

The Voice Of Concord

Neighborhood Notes

A farewell luncheon that turned into a birthday party was held for Mrs. Donna Greavette by her neighbors on Hillside Avenue. It was during the luncheon at the home of Mrs. Beryl Templeton that the guests discovered it was also Mrs. Greavette's birthday. The Greavettes, who are moving to Cooksville will be missed by their many friends in Concord.

Attending the luncheon were Mrs. Ada Martin, Mrs. Wm. Wright, Mrs. Marg Madill, Mrs. Rita Conroy, Mrs. Ada Stickle, Mrs. Marion Webb, Mrs. Mary Yates, Mrs. Carol Gaetis, Mrs. Betsy Halliday, Mrs. Isabel Burlington and a former resident of Hillside Avenue, Mrs. Rene Gottfried.

Very best wishes go to the Greavettes for health and happiness in their new home. Do come back and see us now and then!

Five-year old Johnny Haley who celebrated his birthday with a party April 27 received a real surprise on Sunday — chicken pox! Such are the trials and tribulations of a five-year old! Hope you are better soon Johnny.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Hewitt turned the clock back a few years by attending their old school reunion April 27. It was the 75th anniversary of Humberside Collegiate in West Toronto. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt are former Humberside students and enjoyed an evening of renewing old acquaintances and viewing the many displays and activities arranged for the event. Mrs. Hewitt said she was surprised to find that some of the teachers who had taught her were still around.

Happy birthday wishes to Barbara Robinson who is 12 years old today, May 9. Best wishes too are extended to David Day who celebrates his 22nd birthday today.

Other birthday celebrants this week are Earl Witty who was 13 May 6 and his mother Anne who will celebrate tomorrow, May 10. Best wishes to both!

There's no telling how far or how fast Concord will go now. With the exciting news that our taxes have been lowered by a half mill because the industrial assessment is up, the sky's the limit! Such progress is unequalled anywhere in Ontario according to Councillor David Fraser.

In addition we now have assurance that a park, complete with a park bench and mowed grass situated at the picturesque creek that crosses King High Drive will be a reality this summer.

As if this isn't enough good news for one day, Councillor Fraser reports that our roads will be mended within the next two weeks.

Also, talks are currently underway to plan a schedule for putting up street lights. We are assured that every street in the area will have lights by 1970. I'm overwhelmed! Perhaps this is a fitting time to thank Councillor Fraser for his dedicated service to our community. Also to wish him belated congratulations on his birthday April 30.

Scouts and Cubs The 1st Concord Scout Troop needs one more leader. Formally, the volunteer job requires giving one night a week to Scout leadership. Since it's better to build boys than mend men, surely there must be a man in the Concord area who would be willing to volunteer. Call Larry Price or Pat McAuley at 889-5159.

The 1st Concord Cub Pack is planning its first out-trip of the season May 31 to June 2 at Camp Samac, near Oshawa. Leader Jim Bonner expects all 24 members will attend the Camping trip.

Guides and Brownies A very humble and earnest apology is extended to all who supported the Guides and Brownies by ordering cookies. Unfortunately, due to the great response from the community and some trouble at the cookie company, only half the order put in for Concord was received; 550 packages were ordered and only 275 were shipped. Brown Owl Phyllis Gambell explains it is particularly distressing to her as this year, cookie sales received unprecedented support and she says "It's so difficult to explain why this happened to the children, especially after they worked so hard."

So, if you don't get your yummy Guide Cookies this year, we hope you'll understand why and be sympathetic. Your interest and support of the Guides and Brownies is sincerely appreciated.

The Girl Guides of Canada, Ontario Convention was attended by Guide Captain Elsie Levzac, President Mrs. Beth Nash and Vice-President Mrs. Bonnie McAuley.

The convention was held at the Inn On The Park and one of the agenda items discussed was a new age group for Guides since it is felt there is quite a bit of difference between the interests of 14 and 18-year-olds.

House of Concord Thanks to the North York Kinsmen's Club, 100 boys at the House of Concord enjoyed an outing to the Garden Brothers Circus at the CNE coliseum. Transportation to and from as well as the 100 passes were donated by this service-minded organization.

Edgeley WI Mrs. R. J. Darlington, secretary, reports that the Edgeley WI meeting held May 2 at Mrs.

Bruce Snider's residence was attended by 11 members and 14 visitors. The program consisted of exhibits by the 4-H Home-making Club. Miss Sharon Baker of 4-H demonstrated working with wool by showing woolen jumpers and skirts. Mrs. R. Gooch, a 4-H leader, displayed some of the sheep-wool seen by the girls.

The Womens' Institute of West York District will hold a county rally at Sharon Temple June 27.

THE Challenge OF Cancer

CANCER DANGER SIGNS The Canadian Cancer Society lists these seven danger signals as possible signs of early cancer: (1) Unusual bleeding or discharge. (2) A lump or thickening of the breast or elsewhere. (3) A sore that does not heal. (4) Persistent changes in bowel or bladder habits. (5) Persistent hoarseness or cough. (6) Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. (7) Change in a wart or mole. These signs do not always mean cancer but if you notice any of them, tell your doctor. If they are caused by cancer, early treatment is essential.
