

Kenzie Pharmacy
Richmond Hill
48 Yonge St. N.
TELEPHONE 881-4403

for ALL YOUR PHARMACEUTICALS
Prompt Delivery

(Photo by Stuart's Studio)

"Meet In Friendship's Circle Bright"

One of Canada's greatest gifts to the world has been the Associated Country Women of the World, offspring of the Women's Institute, founded at Stoney Creek by Adelaide Hoodless early in this century to teach women how to give the best possible care to their families.

This year the ACWW world-wide conference is being held in Lansing, Michigan, this week. A pre-conference tour of Ontario by delegates from many parts of the globe spent two days in the Toronto area.

Last Thursday, after a tour of Toronto and a visit to Black Creek Pioneer Village, the visitors were entertained at an outdoor barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Snider, corner of Kirby Sideroad and Jane Street, Vaughan Township.

With their Canadian hostesses, some of the group are seen above: (left to right) Mrs. W. G. M. Sutherland, Scotland; Mrs. W. Drew, Concord; Mrs. A. B. MacKay, Scotland; Mrs. A. Kempson, England; Mrs. D. Payne, Thornhill, bus co-hostess; Mrs. B. Snider, Maple; Mrs. J. Trimple, Belfountain, bus co-hostess; Mrs. Van Der Laan-Koppus, Holland; Mrs. C. Smith, King; Mrs. A. Hugo, Kroostad, Orange Free State, Africa; Mrs. A. Train, Kleinburg.

Theft From Car Parked At Richmond Inn Lot

A car parked in the Richmond Inn parking lot off Yonge Street South was broken into Friday night, August 30, and various items of clothing valued at $100 were stolen, Richmond Hill Police report.

The victim was William Baptiste, a 25-year-old iron worker from Cleveland, Ohio. He said the clothing was stolen from the back seat of his car, a 1961 Ford, between 9:30 pm and 11:15 pm. The car was locked but thieves gained entry through an insecure window.

Mr. Baptiste was in Richmond Hill visiting relatives at the time.

Thornlea Secondary School Opens Embodies New Teaching Concepts

The spanking new, ultra-modern Thornlea Secondary School, on Bayview Avenue just south of Highway 7, opened this week with about 500 students.

The new school, which was built at a cost of about $2.4 million, can accommodate up to 860 students. It is the first "continuous progress" secondary school in the York Central District High School system (second in the Metro area) so the performance of its students will be watched with interest.

There are no grades at the school, and students will be allowed to progress at their own rate. Separate work centres are provided for students wishing to pursue projects independently.

One of the features at the school is a room for the study of computer concepts and another that houses an IBM 1130 computer system, which will be available to students from other York Central high schools as well.

Classroom space is partially open, although folding doors permit the space to be partitioned off into enclosed rooms.

Richmond Hill's New Financial Policy Sets Limit On Debenturing For 5 Yrs.

A capital financial policy, designed to keep Richmond Hill's debenture debt within the 25% of the provincially equalized assessment, which is deemed to be the maximum compatible with a sound financial structure, was adopted at a brief meeting of town council held July 23.

Council's finance committee, composed of Reeve Donald Plaxton as chairman and Councilors William Lazenby and Ivan Mansbridge, with Mayor Thomas Broadhurst as ex officio member, realized that some yardstick for capital financing had to be set to ensure an equitable distribution among the various necessary capital works. They began their studies last year and have considered many formulae before coming up with the guidelines which have been adopted.

The debenturing policy to which council will adhere provides for further borrowing of up to $3,550,000 during the next five years. Allowing for annual retirements of debt, the amount of indebtedness at the end of the current five year period should not exceed 22 1/2% of the provincially equalized assessment, the policy states.

This permits the amount of $710,000 to be borrowed each year. However, if a larger amount is borrowed in one year, the amount to be debentured the following year shall be reduced by the amount exceeding $710,000 in the previous year.

The debenture policy, based on the need for current funds, recognizes the fact that education costs account for almost 55% of municipal taxation, setting aside 60% ($426,000 per year) or $2,130,000 over a five year period for educational purposes and 40% ($284,000 per year) or $1,420,000 over a five year period for all other municipal purposes.

The 60% reserved for educational purposes is split equally between secondary and elementary schools — allowing each to borrow up to $213,000 in any one year. (Elementary schools account for 28.19% of current expenditures of tax dollars and secondary schools for 27.51%.)

The policy is extremely flexible in that it provides that if a single essential project, either educational or municipal, requires more than the amount allocated to be approved in one year, it shall be permitted as long as the total amount allocated for a three year period to either group is not exceeded within the balance of that three year period.

The $710,000 maximum per year may be increased in two ways. For example: the increase may be by the amount by which total debentures raised the previous year were less than the maximum — if only $510,000 was debentured.

New Taxi Drivers

Seven applicants for taxi drivers' licenses were approved by council at a brief meeting July 29. They are: Nick Tomarelli, Thomas McDermott, John Callaghan, Mario Russo, David Procunier, Gabriel Brodie and Lionel Drew.

Under no circumstances shall the total borrowing exceed $1,420,000 for all purposes in any given year — and then only if the excess over $710,000 is accompanied by an equivalent reduction in total borrowing in either or both the preceding or succeeding years.

It was pointed out that the forecast for educational debentures during the next five years stands at $3,444,000. This would consume almost the entire amount of $3,550,000 for all purposes that is deemed prudent to debenture during that period and continue to have a sound financial structure.

However, Reeve Plaxton told "The Liberal" that it is still not known what impact the new county board of education, which will come into being January 1, will have on future educational needs.

Reeve Plaxton described the policy as an attempt on the part of the municipality to indicate financial responsibility. "We cannot continually go out to borrow money for every project which is suggested. Each project will have to be assessed as to priority before it is accepted for debenturing under the capital financing policy we have adopted."

"The town is limited in the amount of money it can borrow," he explained. "It may appear we can't afford to borrow money, but it is also true that in many cases we can't afford not to borrow the money which will make needed works possible. It must be noted also, that no one service can be developed in isolation from the rest of the community's needs."

Three of the other four alternatives were looked on in a more favorable light although Mr. Bacon noted that "in each plan the status of Richmond Hill appears to be virtually the same."

They suggest basically a heavy urbanized concentration on the lakeshore and parallel to it.

Mr. Bacon said it appeared that urbanization would continue northward but not with any likely density beyond the area which includes part but not all of Markham and Vaughan Townships.

Hampering the urbanized advance would be the limitations placed on development by the provision of water supply and disposal of sewage.

"The study," he said, "does not entertain any innovations for these services so that any sweeping developments northerly are discounted because of the problems and expenses of servicing them."

Referring to the creation of a regional plan of any nature for the area, Mr. Bacon said adequate administration could only be achieved through a regional agency with sufficient political power.

"This will mean a reduction or even more likely an elimination of the local government units that are known at present. As a regional sub-centre some form of government administration is likely to be present but this cannot be taken to imply any autonomous political power. The present town as a political entity will almost certainly disappear or evolve into something radically different."

Mr. Bacon said that in the interest of preserving the name Richmond Hill as a future regional centre the "Trends Plan" centre be dissolved.

Members of the planning board approved Mr. Bacon's recommendation that the town give its strong support to the three basic recommendations of developing a regional plan, integrating a transportation plan with this and organizing the necessary administration.

"Only after this has been carried out can a truly regional plan be formulated and endorsed of any other plans such as those hypothesized here would be premature."

Mr. Bacon emphasized that a provincial plan must come first into which the regional plans must fit.

"To do it the other way round, which is the present approach, is to ensure a continuing conflict from the lower echelons of plans."

Councillor Mansbridge strongly advocated that Richmond Hill, Vaughan and Markham Townships should work together to come up with a plan.

"If we let ourselves be ignored," he said, "we'll never get anywhere."

Th board was also lukewarm to the fifth suggestion of MTARTS regarding the setting up of satellite cities such as Barrie to the north of Metro.

Mr. Mansbridge felt Richmond Hill might end up in a "vacuum" between Metro and Barrie and be "left out in the cold" regarding any major transportation or improvements in water and sewage services.

The board adopted Mr. Bacon's report and also asked him to enlarge on it in order to present more detailed feelings regarding Richmond Hill's viewpoints of MTARTS.

The report will be presented to the CORDC meeting September 26 in Richmond Hill and also to the Roberts Government.

Only 3 Teams Remaining Dynes Are Still In Battle For Title

By FRED SIMPSON

St. Catharines — "Awww, I was only throwing at half-speed," was the comment last week of 21-year-old Pete Landers a few minutes after he kept Richmond Hill Dynes Jewellers' hopes still alive here in the Canadian Senior Men's Softball Championship.

The lanky, irrepressible Landers — who normally toils the mound for Oshawa Tony's — had just finished battling St. Catharines Teepees and hurler Wally Dick to a brilliant 16-inning scoreless tie. The game was called in the 16th inning due to a downpour of rain which had been threatening throughout the latter stages of the game.

Richmond Hill and St. Catharines will battle it out all over again this Saturday at 2 pm for the right to challenge the undefeated Gatineau team from La Belle Province.

Both the Jewellers and the Teepees have won two games and lost one. The winner of their sudden-death match will be faced with the tough task of having to knock over Gatineau in two straight back-to-back games if they want to represent Canada in the United States World Championship in Hawaii next year.

For Landers — who was picked up for the tournament by Dynes along with First Baseman Jack Sneddon from the Tony's — it was perhaps his most impressive and most important performance to date.

He made his debut in a Dynes uniform Saturday night against the Edmonton team from Alberta and sent it reeling with a three-hit 2-0 victory. He struck out 14 of the 24 men he faced over the seven-inning game and walked none.

Then he came back Monday night to hurl 16 innings against St. Catharines allowing no runs, three hits. He struck out 26 men.

Overall he has pitched 23 innings of shutout ball, allowed only five hits, and whiffed 40 batters.

Monday's sudden death encounter with St. Catharines had to be the thriller of the tournament. Richmond Hill went into it with a 7-1 victory to their record over Saskatchewan, the aforementioned 2-0 win against Edmonton, and a 2-0 loss to Gatineau. Big Bob Domik also pitched well as he set Saskatchewan down with two hits while striking out 18 of the 25 men he faced.

Al Mugford struck out but then Kennedy lined a blistering single to left field. Downing tried to score on the plate but was out by 10 feet after it had appeared that St. Kitt's Third Basemen Glen Hodgkins had interfered with him as he made the turn for home.

Left Fielder Al Neudorf's rifle-like toss cut him down easily from there on in. Dynes protested but to no avail.

Dynes threatened again in the sixth as Sneddon led off with a ringing double but got no farther as Downing, Gayman, and Mugford went down swinging.

St. Catharines never threatened after the second inning as Landers just kept mowing them down.

Then came the bottom of the 16th as the Jewellers appeared on their way to a win.

Again it was Sneddon starting them off as he cracked another double to centre field. Downing then slashed a sinking liner to centrefield which looked like it was in the hole. But Centrefielder Ron Shepard raced over and made a diving catch to save the game before some 2,000 limp St. Catharines fans.

St. Catharines made their biggest threat against Landers in the second inning as a hit pitcher, an error, and a fielder's choice which saw Dynes Second Baseman Bob Kennedy let the runner get to first in order to protect home plate, loaded the bases with only one out.

But Landers kept his cool and struck out the next two batters.

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newtonbrook. The third and youngest son, Vaughan, was born in Davisville (Toronto). Mr. Pearson preached in the old Methodist Church on the hill and the plaque will be placed in the restored cemetery next to it.

Officiating at the ceremony will be York Simcoe MP John Roberts, Vaughan Township

Reeve Brian Bailey and Deputy-Reeve Garnet Williams and long-time former York North MLA Lex Mackenzie whose mother was raised in Kleinburg. Plaque unveiling will begin at 3:30 pm. The main street of Kleinburg will be blocked off at noon for the festival and the program will feature contests for decorated doll carriages and bicycles, a pet parade, an apple pie baking contest and a horseshoe pitching contest for the Pierre Berton trophy.

Hanging baskets hung on poles on the main street will be judged by Mrs. Nina Marshall, past president of the rose society, Mrs. Ernest Redelmeier and Mrs. Roy Colville, president of the Garden Club.

Other contest judges will include Marian Adams, editor of Canadian Antiques Collector, John Bradshaw, horticulturist and broadcaster, Betty Kennedy of TV and radio fame, and TV personality Fred Davis.

There will also be an Antique Flea Market, a display of handmade Indian ware from Calcutta, spinning and weaving demonstrations and a quilt auction. The Bell Telephone Company will display old telephones along with listings from the first phone books of the district.

To all this will be added bingo, games of chance, pony rides, antique cars, a clown band, a file and drum band, ventriloquist, magician and a Punch and Judy Show.

Dancing will be to Murray Roberts, Vaughan Township

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Pearson came to Kleinburg in 1892 as bride and groom right after his ordination. Their first son, Marmaduke, was born there in 1894 and their second, L. B., at their next charge in Newton