Cancer Drive Went Over Top By $1,000

The Richmond Hill Unit of the cancer society started the 1968-69 season rolling Wednesday night of last week with the installation of its new board of directors. Seen around the board table at their 18 Yonge Street North headquarters are, (from left to right) Campaign Chairman for York Central Counties Munroe Ashkanase, Past President William Kedwell, Treasurer J. D. Follows, Vice-President Paul Binkley, President Bruce Humphreys, Co-Chairman for Planning Development Mona Robertson, Nominations Chairman Mrs. William Lennox, Representative Ontario Division Jack Delaney, Education, Mrs. Follows; Publicity, Miss Louise Robertson and Secretary Mrs. S. G. Phillips.

Treasurer Jack Follows helped put the smiles on everyone's face with the good word that Richmond Hill underspent its 1968 budget for campaign, education and service to patients work. Mr. Ashkanase helped too, by informing the group that due to the terrific response from commercial, residential and industrial donors, Richmond Hill went over the top by approximately $1,000 for its quota of $27,500 this year.

Mr. Kedwell welcomed Mr. Humphreys to the chair, before Mr. Ashkanase presented the retiring president with a silver caduceus and thanked him on behalf of the unit for the capable way he had performed his duties for the past two years.

Plan Freezes Vaughan, 10 Years Late

Mr. Garriock stressed at some length the need for a coordinated and extensive secondary planning for the entire "Metro shadow" area. Lack of such planning, he said, prevents rational development of the area and instead leads to an irrational type of "spot" development.

CORDC's Executive Director Douglas Reddington agreed. "For too long we have planned our communities along pipes," he said. "This results in ribbon development. We should decide where communities are located on the basis of what is best economically and physically. We plan so people can enjoy an environment. We should make services fit the pattern of what people want."

"The only reason Vaughan got left out" (of MTARTS) charged Mr. Reddington. "Is it they think Vaughan doesn't fit the pattern of what people want."

King City Blood Clinic

October 7 is the date of the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic at King City United Church. You may give the gift of life by donating your blood between the hours of 2 to 4:30 or 6 to 9. For baby sitting and transportation, please call 833-5181.

pattern of the pipes made by the engineers. We want to start planning things for the people of the area."

"Private enterprise has already made studies, has plans ready to submit, and is gambling on the future of Vaughan regardless of what MTARTS says or what any government is thinking," replied Mr. Milani. Chairman of the meeting was Richmond Hill Councillor Mrs. Lois Hancey who welcomed those present on behalf of the Central Ontario Regional Development Association and outlined some of the group's principles of regional development. The association offers, she said, an opportunity for local municipalities to co-operate in the planned and orderly growth of the region.

Hill Kinsmen Provide Ramp For Wheelchair

Recent activities of the Richmond Hill Kinsmen include the building and installing of a ramp for a local resident. This will enable her to take her son, a victim of muscular dystrophy, confined to a wheelchair in and out of their home more easily.

Several local Kinsmen and prospective Kin attended a Zone E Kin information night, "A Symposium on Kin" at the Tam O'Shanter Golf Club, September 30. A similar program is scheduled for the local club meeting at Summit View Gardens Restaurant this Thursday. The local club extends congratulations to Harry Moll of Montreal who was recently elected national president of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs at its 48th annual convention held in Kamloops, B.C.

Police Accident Report

Man Killed On Steeles Avenue After Car Strikes Parked Truck

A man was killed in an accident early Sunday morning, September 29, on Steeves Avenue West. Vaughan Township Police report. Russell Bobbette of Willowdale died after the car in which he was travelling struck a truck parked at the side of the road.

The driver of the car, which was westbound, was injured. A motorcycle driver was injured in an accident September 27 on Steeles Avenue West. Richard Collyer of Willowdale was westbound on Steeles when in collision with an eastbound car driven by Garry O'Donnell of Willowdale. Both vehicles suffered minor damage.

A Buick car was badly damaged and its driver and a passenger were injured in an accident September 27 on 8th Avenue, Woodbridge. The car, driven by Allan Dixon of Rexdale, was forced off the roadway by a southbound Chevrolet which did not stop, Vaughan Police report.

A student at Bayview Secondary School was slightly injured September 25, when struck by a car on Bayview Avenue after leaving a school bus.

Janet Delworth, 19, of 332 Boisdale Avenue, Richmond Hill, had her left leg bruised and was shaken up when hit by a car driven by Carle Reed Baines, 19, of 556 Riverside Drive, Corunna, Ont.

Baines was northbound in the east lane of Bayview when he noticed a school bus pull up to stop. As he pulled into the west northbound lane to pass, a group of children walked out in front of the bus. He veered to the left to avoid the children and struck Miss Delworth, Markham Township Police report.

The speed limit on this stretch of Bayview is 35 mph. Donald Bainbridge, 38, of 37 Thornbank Road, Thornhill, suffered cuts and bruises and had his 1966 Buick "written-off" after being forced off the road and striking a pole September 28.

The accident occurred on Don Mills Road, about 3/4 mile above Steeles Avenue when a Volkswagen, which did not stop, cut sharply in front of the Buick.

A Willowdale man was badly injured in an accident in Richmond Hill on September 27. A Guiseppe Sacchetti, 63, of Finch Avenue West, was taken to York Central Hospital with a broken leg, and head, hip and leg injuries, after being hit by a car driven by Wayne Murphy, 22, of Bond Avenue, Oak Ridges.

Sacchetti was walking along Centre Street East, near Pugsley Avenue, when struck by a car which had been charged with careless driving. A Richmond Hill man was charged with failing to stop at the scene of an accident, after a parked car belonging to Bertha Bettles, Richmond Street, Richmond Hill, was hit and damaged, September 21.

Charged was Patrick O'Brien, 17, of South Taylor Mills Road. The car was parked opposite 102 Benson Avenue, Richmond Hill when hit. Total damage was $700 to both cars involved.

Hunting Licences On Sale Saturday In Whitchurch

Hunting licences for Whitchurch Township are being sold this year at the house of George Dewsbury, located immediately opposite the Vandorf General Store. Licences go on sale this Saturday, October 5, at a cost of $1 for residents and $3 for non-residents.

Non-residents of the township will have to stand in line for the 300 licences available to them (another 100 are kept in reserve in case of 'special' requests). In past years the quota has been snapped up on the first day of sale.

There is no limit on the licences available to Whitchurch residents.

At Tuesday's council meeting it was suggested that the present system of selling hunting licences be reviewed in future. The township clerk, Thomas Kerr, complained that his staff were being pestered by applicants for licences who assumed they would be available at the township office.

He asked that some licence books be kept in the office in case of emergency, and council agreed that this be done.

Licences are issued in the township through Whitchurch Conservation Club, acting in theory on behalf of council. Councillor Norman Barnard commented that if problems are being created through the sale of licences at different localities, the method of sale should be reviewed.

He noted that council's licensing committee, chaired by Councillor Bob Lewis, had the authority to issue licences.

Other councillors agreed with his suggestion.

Hall-Dennis Recommendations In Use Beverley Acres Public School

(Continued from Page 1) Other suggestions included a telephone extension in the junior wing of the school, more cupboard space, more storage space, a hinged table under the chalk board, which could be put up quickly and easily when needed, and tackboards accessible to the children.

Assistant Superintendent Murray Dobson pointed out to the board how every available nook and cranny of the school had been pressed into service for storage or to provide space for remedial work. "The principal has even been ousted from his office so that space could be used for remedial work," one of the teachers added.

The new concept of education, it was explained, encourages children to discover, to experiment and to live.

Trustees were agreeably surprised when Danny Walsh, a new teacher assigned to a portable, claimed that these classrooms had certain advantages. "They increase the responsibility of the children as we have to develop routines to get to the library to the washrooms, to the gymnasium, etc. Then we are closer to the outside, or at least the outside is more appealing from a portable," he claimed.

Librarian Mrs. Iris Pratt felt that clerical help is a great need in the library, so that the librarian-teacher can develop her time to the children. It was pointed out that the Department of Education recommends a full-time librarian and a full-time clerical help for each 300 children. Since there are 1,028 pupils in Beverley Acres School, this would mean three full-time librarians and three full-time clerical help, based on a library which contained 20 books per pupil. Assistant Superintendent Dobson noted, "At $3.50 average price per book, this could mean two extra mills to the taxpayer," he commented.

The board will carry out a similar consultation with the teaching staff of MacKillop School October 10, Pleasantville School October 24, Crosby Heights School November 14, Walter Scott School November 28 and McConaghy School December 12.
