"Potential Killer On Highway" Gets Jail, 10-Year Suspension

A man described by Magistrate S. A. Williamson as "a potential killer on the highways" was sentenced to six months in jail and his driver's licence suspended for 10 years in Richmond Hill Magistrate's Court September 24.

Wifred Emerson Colburne, 33, of 42 Dixington Crescent, Weston, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while his licence was under suspension.

According to evidence presented, Colburne had three previous convictions for driving while his licence was suspended, and three convictions for driving while impaired by alcohol.

His plea that he had seven children to support brought the remark from Magistrate Williamson "that is not going to make me change my mind."

Colburne had been observed April 25 by Constable R. Pike of Markham Township Police, making a left hand turn from Don Mills Road onto Essna Park Drive, after having signalled a right hand turn.

When stopped the man failed to produce his licence, and a check revealed that it was under suspension.

Before sentencing Colburne, the magistrate told him he had been lucky not to have been involved in a serious accident.

Constable Patience said he had been attracted by the car because it was parked with its front left wheel partly on the roadway.

When several attempts failed to arouse Hill, the constable summoned the help of Sergeant Nixon, and together the two officers sat him up on the side of the seat whereupon the man vomited, evidence disclosed.

Hill was then assisted to a police cruiser and taken to Vaughan Township Police Station.

On the way, the officers stated, the man was sick twice more, on the side of the road.

At the station Hill was sick again, Sergeant Nixon told the court. He was unsteady on his feet, staggered on occasions, was jovial and had the smell of alcohol on his breath, the officers said.

Hill told the court that he had driven from near Parry Sound, had stopped for half-an-hour near Coldwater where he had three beers at a friend's house, and then proceeded on his way. He had drunk the beer he said, in the hope it would help him feel better as he was having some stomach trouble, which he thought was stomach flu.

He testified that he had stopped on Carrville Road because he did not feel well enough to drive further, and had taken a short walk, returning to the car with the intention of sleeping and not driving. At one time he thought "maybe after an hour or so of sleep I would feel like driving," he added.

Defence Counsel John F. Hamilton of Toronto, said in summary that the case hinged on the "crucial question" of why Hill went back to his car. He contended that he did so without intention of driving.

The magistrate remarked: "There is not a bit of doubt, not one iota I can allow you... all the evidence points to you behaving like a man in a drunken stupor."

A beer drinking session in a car parked at the gravel pits on Elgin Mills Road September 7, cost a young Toronto man over $250 in fines imposed in Richmond Hill Magistrate's Court by Mr. Williamson, September 26.

Bart Dizenobia was fined $200 for supplying alcohol to minors and $50 for illegal possession of liquor.

He and four others, two minors and two girls, were found by Vaughan Police Constable William Hill in the car with a partially empty case of beer.

All had been drinking, testimony disclosed. Dizenobia admitted ownership of the beer.

The two minors, Angelo Grosso, 18, and Pasquale Chivitto, 20, both of Toronto, were earlier convicted of drinking under age and fined $25 each.

The three individuals charged all pleaded guilty.

NEWMARKET: Tenders will be called this week for the planned extension of Davis Drive from Highway 27 at Schomberg to link with Highway 400 near the Holland Marsh, according to William Hodgson MLA York North. The contract will call for grading, drainage, a granular base and hot mix structure.

Teachers Visit Bell Lab

Thornhill Secondary School Guidance Counsellor Mrs. Jane Manning of RR 2, Maple, is seen above during a visit to Bell Canada's Walnut Test Centre. Norm Mole, left, explains the intricacies of the test board, the only one of its kind in Toronto. It is used for testing PBX equipment throughout the city.

Mrs. Manning was one of a group of 15 guidance counsellors from Metro and suburban high schools who spent three days studying work conditions and opportunities at Bell Canada locations. The firm has sponsored such tours since 1960.

ARC Fall Program

Enjoy Dancing, Bridge, Badminton

Close to 50 ambitious would-be "junior" hockey players are working out every Tuesday evening at George Bailey Public School, getting in trim for the hockey season.

Vaughan Township Schools Physical Education Director Al Dorans is being assisted by men of the Vaughan Hockey Association in putting the boys through a series of specially designed exercises for those playing certain positions.

The boys are being put through their paces in two groups, juniors from 7.30 to 8.30 and senior boys from 8.30 to 9.30 pm each Tuesday evening.

This is part of the program arranged by Maple Area Recreation Committee.

The committee's second fall activity began last

Thursday when about 25 adults turned out at the Maple Community Centre for a 10-week course in modern and ballroom dancing.

Professional instructor for the course is Eddie Midmer of the Midmer Dance Academy, Richmond Hill. If there is sufficient demand the course will be repeated at the end of the 10-week period. Fee is $10 per couple.

Those interested in euchre or bridge are invited to be at St. Stephen's Anglican Church auditorium at 8 pm October 15 when a committee will be elected to run a series of games on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Those interested in rubber or duplicate bridge are also invited.

Bruce Thurston is arranging the first evening and it is planned to have prizes and refreshments throughout the season.

A badminton club, under the direction of Bill Myers, will have its first meeting on the same evening, October 15 and will meet every Tuesday evening thereafter at George Bailey Public School.

Anyone wishing further information about the bridge and euchre club may phone Mr. Thurston at 832-2575. Badminton enthusiasts may reach Mr. Myers at 832-1423.

Executive of the Maple Area Recreation Committee which is arranging these activities are - Chairman John Jarvis, Co-chairman Lois Anderson, Treasurer Rev. John Arbuckle, Secretary Marilyn Jackman and Public Relations Officer Fred Young.

Maple Midgets Practice Saturday

Try-outs for the Maple Minor OMHA Midgets will be held this Saturday and also on October 12 at Doublelink Arena.

Starting time will be 2:15 pm. The workouts will cost $1 per player for each practice.

Maple Pee-wees will work out this Saturday also at 2 pm and the following Saturday at 2 pm at the Richmond Hill Arena. Cost per workout is $1 per player for each practice.

The fall hockey dance will be held November 8 from 9 pm to 1 am at the Maple Community Centre.

There will be a bar and buffet. Cost is $5 per couple. There are only enough tickets available for 100 couples. The tickets will be sold on a first come first served basis.

Tickets may be procured by contacting any one of the following executive members: Bill Lawson at 832-1205 or Don Belamy at 889-3873.

Proceeds of the dance will go towards helping boys' hockey in the Maple and Richvale areas. When the season commences all the weekly team standings, leading scorers, and best goalies will be reported in this column. Watch "The Liberal" every week for complete results.

MEETING PEOPLE

Congratulations go this week to Frank and Marion Robson, 2 Lancer Drive, who celebrated their 26th wedding anniversary September 26. Unfortunately Frank was working up north on Thursday so celebrations were postponed to a later date.

Frank attended the Maple Lyrical Convention at Wig-a-mog Inn, Haliburton, last Thursday and Friday. Thursday evening Frank attended the banquet and saw a 16-year-old girl chosen Maple Syrup Queen. Friday he attended a woodlot demonstration and a tubing demonstration for lunch and toured the Iron Kettle Maple Products plant at Haliburton and saw demonstration of the making of Maple Sugar and maple butter. Also at the convention there were airplane rides to see the colors.

Young Brent Ivens, 31 Weller Crescent found a ladies' wrist watch on Malaren Road on or about September 12. Enquiries have been made at the homes in the vicinity and also at the schools, but so far nobody has claimed the watch. If you have lost a watch, please make enquiries at 31 Weller Crescent to identify and it will gladly be returned to the owner.

Congratulations also go this week to Mary Ellen (nee Hamilton) and Dennis Hails of Richmond Hill on the birth of their first child, a son Jason Conrad. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" Hamilton of Maple Home and School.

Court NEWS

Testimony by Constable L. Patience and Sergeant David Nixon of Vaughan Township Police, revealed that Hill had been found in a deep sleep in a car parked on the south side of Carrville Road.

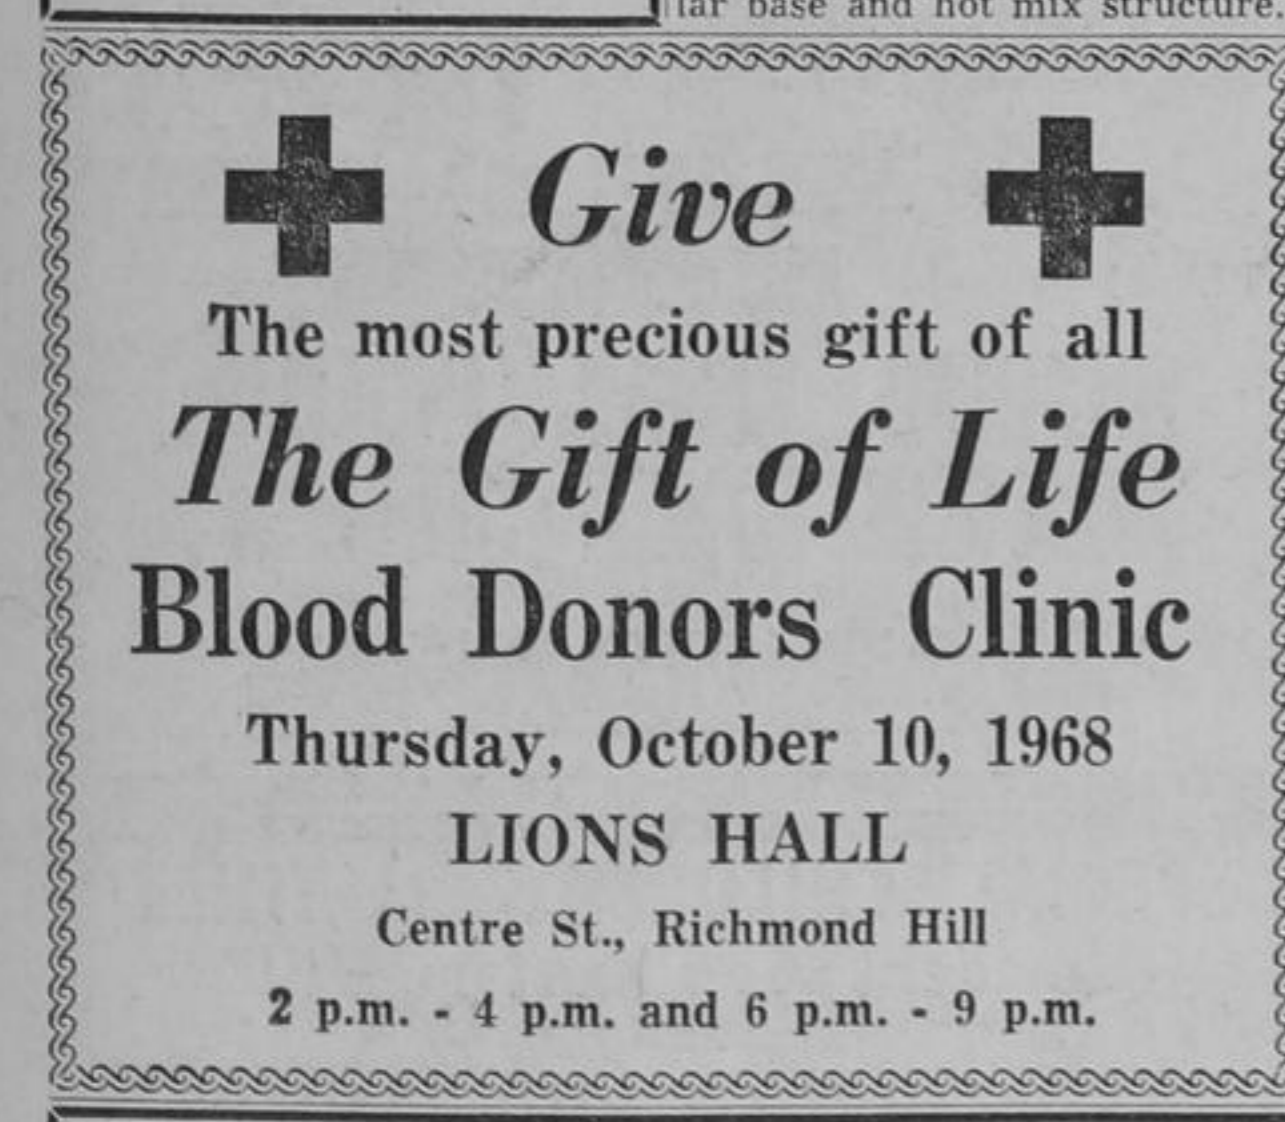

He was slumped across the front seat of the car, a 1963 Pontiac Parisienne, with his head near the passenger door and his feet on the floor behind the wheel.

The ignition keys were found on the car floor beneath the wheel.
