

The Liberal

An Independent Weekly: Established 1878

W. S. COOK, Publisher "Authorized as second class mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa"

Published by Richmond Hill Liberal Publishing Co. Ltd.

Government Waste

While members of the general public are habitually given to complaining about the quantities of "junk" mail they receive, we doubt that it reaches the proportions in an individual home that it does in a newspaper office.

Normally we don't get too much riled up over this. After a quick glance, it is tossed into the wastepaper basket and never thought of again. If private firms and individuals wish to waste their money in this way, we don't really care, one way or the other.

What does irritate us to no end, however, is getting this type of material from government departments, all sent out courtesy of the taxpayers' well worn wallets.

Worst offender along this line we estimate, is the Ontario Department of Education.

This week for instance, we received a three page summary of a speech delivered by Minister of Education William Davis to the Irish American Cultural Institute in St. Paul, Minnesota.

It all seemed mildly interesting, drawing a parallel between D'Arcy McGee, one of the Fathers of Confederation and the late President John F. Kennedy, both of whom died at the hands of an assassin.

Also of interest was the fact that Mr. Davis had flown to St. Paul directly from Scotland where he had presented the George Brown collection of Canadiana to the University of Edinburgh.

What was so completely irritating about the whole thing however, was that along with the three page summary of the speech, we received the complete text — all 28 pages of it!

Leaving aside the question of why, with the Ontario educational system going through the greatest revolution in its history, the Minister of Education should be spending his time travelling to Minnesota or even to Edinburgh, presumably at taxpayers' expense, we protest strenuously the time and money which has been expended to send this lengthy address to Ontario's 47 daily and 220 weekly newspapers.

Postage on the parcel was 20c and it must have taken hundreds of hours to write, print, collate and distribute this weighty document. Yet we would bet dollars to donuts that 90% of the copies will end up just where ours did - in the wastepaper

It's nice to know of course, that our Minister of Education is so erudite - or even that those who prepare his speeches are so learned. (Although, frankly we don't feel D'Arcy McGee's poetry has that much appeal now.)

Another example of this same flagrant wastage of the taxpayers' money arrived in the mail just a few days earlier. It was the report, 23 pages in length, prepared for the Minister of Education by Douglas T. Wright on the operation and administration of the Ontario College of

Now here was a document of wide interest which had important things to say about the administration of post secondary educational institutions, and said them well.

But was it really necessary to print it, in three colors, on the most expensive glossy paper possible? We, in our business, are well aware that the cost of paper has gone up along with everything else we buy. We have no doubt that this brochure could have been produced in different paper for half the cost.

"Oh, now," we can hear them scoffing down at Queen's Park, "This is only peanuts."

Well, we have said it before, and we will say it again.

It may be only peanuts, but it all adds up to a lot of hay and we are getting a little tired of forking it

(Photo by Sauart's Studio)

Above is one of the many Canadian scenes painted by Harold Howarth

Exhibition Of Oil Paintings

The public is warmly invited to an exhibition of oil paintings at the studio of Harold Howarth, The Garrett Gallery, Bathurst Street North, just west of Richmond Hill. Mr. Howarth has been a local resident for 25 years and took up painting as a hobby 16 years ago.

He has in the meantime developed his talent into full-time occupation. Among his many beautiful paintings are Canadian scenes. florals, still life and horses. The exhibition will continue from November 3 to 18 from 2.30 pm to 10 pm.

Don

Deacon

Reports

It is just over one year since vicing land and education costs

I was elected to represent this in dormitory areas are strongly provincial Legislature. I, there- I also spoke strongly in sup-fore, thought it appropriate to port of "Go North" commuter review the main points in pro- service both in the Legislature vincial affairs that I raised dur- and out, co-operating with ing the campaign and note what others to make the government

I had been able to do about aware of this important need the lack of water and sewage part of all of us to bring this rapid residential development lic gatherings to meet with and is needed. I suggested that the discuss problems of the area, I building lots is well in excess to 18 interested citizens of wide the Select Committee on Taxa- opinions and ideas on provincial tion, I was able to ensure that affairs and to explain mine.

several recommendations were Those who are interested in included in the report, which, participating in such an even-if adopted as legislation in the ing, should kindly write or coming session, will go a long phone me at Box 32, Richmond way to correct the situation. Hill, (884-5837) or at Queen's

Visit Io England

The Cotswolds lie so near the clouds

A gentle rain sweeps o'er the fields,

But still, in spite of rain or cloud,

Where every storied castle speaks

We turn to Chipping Campden now.

"Stow-On-The-Wold" has ancient charm,

Steps to ease the burden of ser- Park (365-5806).

That almost every day

And hides the sun away.

We tour the English scenes

Of Princes, Kings and Queens.

And then to Lower Slaughter;

At "Bourton-On-The-Water!"

Then up to Lower Oddington,

The sheep upon the Devon hills;

A rose in every dooryard blooms,

May there always be an England

With its lovely highway "bends",

And may memory hold its treasures

And down to Upper Swell.

And Cheltenham a spell,

The cattle standing by:

And spires touch the sky.

Until the journey ends.

How green the rolling country is riding of York Centre in the recommended.

result of the shortage of adetreatment facilities and the high education costs in areas where of demand.

MLA York Centre

of our area. We do not have in the next few weeks. It still

In addition to the many op-backgrounds, interests and poli-ported.

Rambling Around

by Elizabeth Kelson

autumn rally held October 8 in

of the collective whole.

The Wylies were allowed complete freedom of movement and so visited factories, communes, schools and homes. The Chinese, Mr. Wylie said, claim no great miracle of progress but compare the present with the past and consider it great.

New homes, bridges, agricultural development, irrigation are all projects which are carried on with a religious fervor and completed almost entirely by manpower, the country's great economic bank, he re-

Chairman Mao-Tse-Tung has brought about a miracle in uniting his millions of countrymen

The Need Is Great

Every day of the year, thousands of people die from hunger as their crops rot. Six hundred million children of the world starve as rats eat the stored harvest. An old man watches . . . heartbroken . One of my main contentions any tangible results yet and a more intensive programme to as the wind blows away his seeds with the dust.

was that the real culprit in prove the wisdom and need for housing costs today is high Half the young people in the world cannot read building lot prices. This is the such service will be launched or write. Think of it, virtually imprisoned by illiteracy. A child needs more than food, clothing, quate building lots because of requires more effort on the medical attention and security, he needs education so he can cope with fast moving societies.

The International Union for Child Welfare knows and it does something about it. CANSAVE (short for Canadian Save the Children Fund) works at it day and night. They and other likeminded organizations try hard though they know it is but a drop in a huge ocean of need.

province must take steps to enhave held nine evening meet-sure the supply of serviced ings in my home each with 12 To shrink these mighty waters the help of everyone of you, the Canadian public, is needed. Fortunately, as a member of tical views to obtain their "Penny Beggar Bank" in your home or office will provide that help. A PENNY BEGGAR IN EVERY HOME

A small group of dedicated volunteers in Thornhill and Richmond Hill belong to the local CANSAVE branch. Only seven so far, they are Mrs. Erna MacDonald, Ivy Skinner, Dorothy Shorey, Marie Audet, Joan Pellett and Ann Chisholm. Marilyn Schiller is the lone representative from the Hill.

Mrs. MacDonald, Royal Orchard Boulevard, Thornhill is an enthusiastic advocate of the penny beggar banks.

When asked how her interest began, she laughed and said, "I simply picked up a newspaper one day and read a column which mentioned that Canadian Save the Children Fund needed volunteers to pick up and distribute these little penny beggar banks. I offered to help."

"Our group distribute these throughout the community and usually work in the area in which we live," she explained. "These little banks which hold about 400 pennies are in the homes of our friends, relatives and a few business places. There is no pressure or deadline for their immediate return. Sometimes it takes as long as two months, six months or even a year.'

The volunteer's phone number is on the bank. When it is filled, the volunteer picks it up. The pennies are counted, the amount recorded and each person gets a personal receipt.

A good example of what a club can do was when Mrs. Ivy Skinner persuaded her bowling group to each take a beggar bank. That was last New Year. The banks returned to the local branch during the summer and contributions amounted to over $150,00.

Marilyn Schiller wrote all the receipts which go to the head office which sends each contributor a personal acknowledgment.

"Personally I would like to see a penny beggar on every kitchen window shelf," said Mrs. Mac-Donald. And as the spokesman for the group she hopes service clubs, sport clubs and associations, social and religious groups will let CANSAVE put in a stock of penny beggars at one of their meetings.

"We are just getting organized," said Mrs. Mac-Donald," and we will welcome all volunteers who join with us in this effort to help the world's needy

Call Mrs. MacDonald at 889-6690 or Mrs. Schiller at 884-8216.

* * * * *

WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

CANSAVE has given thousands of dollars to the Canada-Mysore project in India. Students from several countries are being trained in modern methods of growing crops, food preservation and values of nutrition.

In co-operation with other international agencies, CANSAVE answered an urgent SOS from battle-scarred Congo. Thousands of children were dying there from a protein deficiency disease. A high protein fish diet made possible by international co-operation gave the people a new lease on life.

Four thousand Greek school children received (Continued on Page 14)

Canada Should Recognize Red China Speaker Tells York Presbyterial UCW

Canada should recognize He has attacked simple prob-tion on earth and it is most im-China, is the belief of Ray lems - the country is free of portant that we understand the Wylie, BA, MA, who gave a disease-carrying flies and mos- aims of this nation of 750 mil-"Review fo China Today" to quitoes, a feat accomplished not lions. members of York Presbyterial by insecticides but by a uni- Included in the book display

United Church Women at the versal wielding of a fly swatter, in the narthex, presented by Mr. Wylie said the West the United Church Book Room, Mr. Wylie said the West must stop analyzing the East by western standards. He believes there is immense significance in the development of China and westerners must educate ourselves to evaluate this development and the effect it will have on the world.

Mr. Wylie said the West were "China" by Charles Lynch and "I Saw Red China", by Lisa Hobbs. For an hour bestore in the development of Strips of the new China were shown. These were all geared for this year's study of the will have on the world. ening and not always pleasant. development and the e

The Mount Albert Church, lions, they report, and the The worship service on the built in 1945, has just been people are fanatic in their ac- theme, "Toward Understanding beautifully renovated. Howceptance and devotion to the China", was conducted by Mrs. ever the congregation has a doctrine that the individual has A. F. Binnington of Mount Allong history, the first church importance only as a member bert. She said that China has being built in 1857 on a dif-

the longest continuous civiliza-ferent site.

By JOAN HAROLD

"Here let us stand, close by the cathedral. Here let us wait". These are the opening words of "Murder in the Cathedral" — the inspiring story of the martyrdom of Thomas Becket by T. S. Eliot - and very appropriate words they are, as we all wait and watch with great anticipation, the talented members of the congregation of St. Mary's, Richmond Hill and their guest artists, work towards the opening of this ambitious production on November 14.

Last night I visited St. Mary's for the first time, and producer Rosalind Anderson took me on a tour of the old original church - nostalgic, peaceful - the traditional old village church - and then through to the beautifully appointed new building, where various backstage personnel were working industriously.

Wardrobe mistress Thelma Long and her coworkers were fitting the priests (Joseph Rabinowitch, John Ar Jerson, and Honorary Assistant of St. Mary's Fred Jackson) with long flowing brown robes. The costumes, designed by Verna Aconley in collaboration with set designer Ann Featherstonhaugh and director Cicely Thomson, reflect the painstaking research that has taken place, and the choice of a range of earth colours was a stroke of brilliance.

A few of the costumes have been rented from Stratford - such awkward garments as suits of armor, and lavish, fur-trimmed cloaks for the knights. There is a great deal to be learned from inspecting these costumes closely. For example, a marvellously metallic effect is achieved on the armour with liquid latex and a coat of paint - light, manoeuvrable, and convincing. The rich looking cloaks are made to look even more opulent under the lights by the "breaking down" technique - great smears of paint that on close inspection seem to ruin the luxurious fabrics, actually are enrichening from a distance. The church itself is a quietly awe-inspiring piece of architecture, and as I sat in a pew and watched the action taking place in the chancel, I could half-close my eyes and imagine the finished production — the well-projected voices echoing to the high peaked roofs, and the costumes toning softly with the grey-beige stone, and the terra cotta

Rector of St. Mary's, Rev. James O'Neil, who is playing the demanding role of Thomas Becket, is a navy veteran and first became interested in drama while studying in Canterbury, England. The trend of the poet-dramatist towards returning drama to its place of origin, the church, intrigued him. It was with this idea in mind that he worked with the architect to create the new St. Mary's, a beautiful combination of traditional and contemporary, so adaptable to drama.

Mr. O'Neil, who has no trouble with voice projection, is enjoying "being shaped into the role." With the studying necessary for the playing of such

(Continued on Page 14)

Walk Through Woods Of Glen Haffy Area

A five-mile walk through the countryside from several vanfall-flecked woodlands of the tage points along the edge of 750-acre Glen Haffy Conserva- the escarpment tion Area is scheduled for hik- On a clear day, one can see ing enthusiasts and nature lov- the tall buildings in downtown ers by the Metro Conservation Toronto. There may be some Authority this Sunday com- fall colors still worthy of appreciation along the route, and mencing at 10:30 am. Glen Haffy area is located in it may be a good idea to bring Albion Township, one mile along the camera for color south of Mono Mills and No. 9 photography Those taking part are remind-The walk, led by Ken Stras- ed to bring along a lunch and ser of the authority staff, will beverage, wear sturdy footwear start out from the south parking for walking, and to dress lot and proceed to the Glen warmly. Haffy extension known as The Further information on the Dingle. Those taking part will walk may be obtained by conbe able to obtain a splendid tacting the authority offices at panoramic view of the entire 889-5425.

Yangtze Pagoda

DINING LOUNGE

BUSINESSMEN'S LUNCHEONS Ranging from 90c to $2.25

Choice of Chinese or Canadian food ENTERTAINMENT ON SUNDAY

From 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Reservations phone 884-4278 Richmond Hill

A Warning To Be Heeded

Pickering Township Reeve John Williams has made it amply clear that his municipality wishes to join Metro. Pickering has been facing serious financial problems for a number of years when previous administrations allowed unbridled residential growth throughout the southern part of the township. Taxes, for example, in the Bay Ridges area, which was a development of moderately priced homes, have reached such high levels that people are caught in the unfortunate position of not being able to sell their homes in order to escape the high rate of taxation, which in many cases is as high as $600 on homes valued at $12,000 to $13,000.

Appeals for special financial assistance made several years ago to former Municipal Affairs Minister Wilfrid Spooner fell on deaf ears. Speaking in the Legislature, Mr. Spooner blamed Pickering Council for allowing such an obvious imbalance to develop between industry and housing. The northern part of Pickering is still mainly agricultural in character. What Mr. Spooner neglected to say was that it was the provincially appointed Municipal Board which sanctioned council's decision to large groups of such children.

according to Assistant Superintendent Murray Dobson, they tend to communicate in their native tongue with other children. But in Richmond Hill, 30

velop slowly as we don't want to make mistakes. It has been set up as an experimental ser-adaptation. We're trying to find All their parents.

flood the southern part of the township with housing.

Realizing Pickering's serious financial plight, the Municipal Board placed a limit of only 100 new homes to be constructed in the township this year. Reeve Williams says he would prefer to see Pickering join Metro rather than form a regional grouping with the City of Oshawa. The Goldenberg Report on the future of Metro Government of several years ago suggested that if Pickering was unable to provide its residents with essential services, then the township should be annexed by Scarboro which is one of the large Metro boroughs.

Pickering is a classic example of a municipality which, through poor management, has allowed itself to become faced with a heavy influx of housing with its attendant needs for more schools and services and a resultant imbalance with industry.

Pickering aparently feels the only way to resolve its problems is to allow itself to be swallowed up by the Metro colossus. It's plight should be a warning to other municipalities on the fringe of Metro who fail to control residential development.

English Taught As Second Language R. Hill Schools

To help pupils, whose native out why they don't." handicapped because of a lack language is not English, acquire The program is designed to of experience in English. sufficient basic skills for com- assist in the prevention of aca- It is planned to assess the munication in the classroom, demic retardation which may need and approach to be taken Richmond Hill Public School result from lack of English with each referred pupil with Board has initiated a special pupils in the understanding of the principals, teachers, psychoprogram under direction of Mrs. cultural differences and to in- logist, and remedial teachers to Elizabeth Foote, who is bilin- crease feelings of security in pool all resources and techpupils in mixed cultures, and to niques in remedying language In Toronto where there are assist teachers of pupils who are problems.

Pioneer Village Prepares Festive Season

children have been listed whose In Upper Canada's prelearning is handicapped by the Confederation era, pioneer frustration of an inability to housewives began their communicate with anyone but household preparations for the Christmas season early in November. There was Mr. Dobson told the board cooking and baking, and the that Mrs. Foote is now assessing making of decorations and where she can be the most effective. "The program will dethe staff at Metro Toronto's Black Creek Pioneer Village will recreate the pioneer previce. I know of no other school board which is undertaking this parations for Christmas each work," he said. "Many New Weekend, commencing Nov-Canadian children acquire lan- ember 2-3 by demonstrating guage skills quite easily, but all of the activities performsome others don't make this family leading up to the Christmas celebrations.

The demonstrations will take place in the various homes and buildings in the Village, located at Jane Street and Steeles Avenue.

During that era, the Pennsylvania - German influence This month (November), was strong and the decorative aspects of the Christmas season were simple and home-made. The Christmas tree, for example, did not make its debut in North America until about 1856, and it was trimmed simply ed by the settler and his with homemade decorations.

Village staff will show how food was prepared for the Christmas season such as fried apple rings, cookies baked in typical Pennsylvania German patterns, the making of plum puddings and mincemeat, and roasts and fowl cooked on the spits and in the bake ovens. The village general store, Laskay Emporium, will display a line of imported goods that would have been purchased by the pioneer family in the 1830's, at this time of year.

During November, Black

The Berwick House will days between 10 am and 5 feature special table decora- pm.

Each weekend local groups and choirs will sing Christmas Carols in the Fisherville Church and in the vil-tions of the period, along with fancy breads and sweet-

Robert D. Little

Creek Pioneer Village which is being developed by the Metro Conservation Authority will be open weekdays between 9:30 am and 4 pm and on weekends and holi-