RH Council Approves Cable TV Agreements

Richmond Hill Cable TV has been granted permission by Richmond Hill Council to bury a co-axial cable and accessory equipment under certain streets of the town. The company will construct, maintain and repair the cable and return the roads and streets to their same condition, under supervision of the town engineer, with the restoration work guaranteed for one year.

If the company fails to do the work within a reasonable time, the town will and charge the expenses back to the company. If the seven days, the agreement will terminate and the company will be required to remove its installations. The company will also assume responsibility for all claims and demands, losses, costs, damages, actions, suits etc.

These are the terms of an agreement approved by council which also passed an implementing bylaw, November 25.

It was reported that Richmond Hill Cable TV has also entered into an agreement with the Bell Telephone Company and Richmond Hill Hydro to use its poles for carrying the cable throughout the town.

Happy Xmas Oliver Twist

Oliver Twist is no longer with us. So says the York County Children's Aid Society which has recently received numerous inquiries about taking a homeless child over Christmas.

"The days of the lonely child in forlorn situations such as orphanages are gone," says Ronald Naundorf, superintendent of child care.

Most children in the care of the society are placed in foster homes where they are part of the family, he said. Those in treatment centres have special Christmas celebrations planned for them with every child receiving his fair share of presents, he added.

"Totally new situations, although warm and friendly, can be extremely upsetting for a child," he pointed out and suggested that those who wished to help do so by contributing toys, gifts, food hampers and clothing at the society's office 288 Cawthra Road, Newmarket.
