Don't want you to think I'm taking anything away from the Rams. They gave it a good try, stayed close for two periods, but I doubt if the best senior team around would be able to handle the NHL'ers. Too much ability, experience, too much and too much.

DURABLE IVAN

Another Richmond Hill citizen, Ivan Walmsley, tended goal for the NHL'ers and showed his moments of expertise. He must have suffered some misgivings in the final seconds of play when the Rams, desperate I guess, threw on 15 players to try and break through when the Old-Timers walked into a penalty.

Ivan looked like one of those walking dolls with a short circuit in his wiring system. He was all arms, legs, and stick, as the Rams peppered him. Yes, they scored.

My strength is ebbing, but just a bit more on the Older-Timers.

Always get nostalgic, it just beats out of me. Seeing Mr. Lewicki spiralling down the ice sends me right back to 1947-48 (let's see I was 55 then and in the prime of life, it was a very good year) when the same fellow was a hot-deck junior for the Port Arthur Bruins who that year did battle with the Barrie Flyers.

It looked like Danny couldn't miss. All the equipment. He ended up with the Leafs but he just didn't seem to shine as bright as his early promise. They say he wasn't strong on defence, or something.

And look at Pete Conacher. Great name, talented, but didn't seem to have that extra edge to do it.

Of course, there's a lot involved. Some players find other things more important to do, go into positions, etc., maybe lose interest. Who knows? It's happened before, undoubtedly will again.

MAGAZINE MENTION

Speaking of Louis Moore, as I did earlier, his father received liberal mention in Toronto Daily Star Canadian Magazine article on Ron Ellis last week.

Dad Doug was quoted as saying Ron "sure has come a long way, both with his hockey and his on-stage performance."

Ron's a music-maker and so is Doug who is also the Gardens chief engineer. Son Louis, of course, is known as the "Singing Goaltender" and is a great performer at special country and western shows. Doug taught Ellis to play the guitar and has also written a lot of songs.

All I can say. What's wrong with us? I'd have been happy to even be a third-string goalie on an NHL team or even a team in the minor leagues. Let alone be able to sing, play guitars, and write.

Not that I'm asking for sympathy, mind you. But when you see that forlorn, scarless person standing on a wintry and barren street corner this winter, just nod your head please, as you walk by. A dime will do but 20 cents is preferable. Draught's gone up in price, you know.

SOME MISCELLANY

Now to other more pertinent things, more cheerful.

MINOR HOCKEY

Don't forget to hustle down to the arena this Saturday and Sunday nights for some exciting minor exhibition hockey between local squads and ones from Ottawa and Detroit.

This Saturday at 7 pm it will be the Lions Peewees playing Ottawa; at 8:15 the North End Cleaner Bantams against Ottawa; and at 9:30 the Legion Midgets will tangle with Detroit.

The same teams will go it again Sunday at 3:30 pm.

And a by-the-way: There will be a reception for the moms and dads and hockey players at the Legion following the Saturday games.

HUZZAH, HERE

A huzzah here to the 20-some members of the Tom Hughes Juveniles who are busy proving that you only (usually) get what you work for. They want to get to the St. Lambert Quebec Tournament on December 28 and 29.

So they're busy offering their services (free of charge although, let's face it, donations are the name of the game) performing odd jobs. To date the boys have been window cleaning, basement cleaning, and such, and have just finished painting the hockey boards at the old arena and will be starting on the new ones. Such industry is to be applauded. We applaud.

MINI ITEMS

Other mini-items: Staff Sgt. Joe Rainey of soccer doings in Richmond Hill reports that another successful year (not as successful on the field, mind you, the Ranger team lost the finals) concluded with a recent Friday night dance at the Lions Hall.

The big success this year was the creation of minor soccer teams which proved very, very popular and will continue next year ... see where Richmond Hill's Doug Acomb is still doing what comes naturally ... playing hockey and scoring three goals against Ottawa 67's the other night, albeit, in a losing cause ...

Don Mills Lose But Just 2 Points Out Of First

The Don Mills Comets had a chance to tie the Jim Liness for first place Sunday but blew it when the surprising Willowdale Rangers burst from their co-ops and downed them 6-3 at St. Michael's Arena.

It was also happy tidings for Lake AC in the second game as they dumped Toronto Shultons 5-1 for their first win in the last nine games.

Willowdale's win was under new Coach Bill Butterman and it enabled them to move into sole possession of fourth place in the York-Simcoe Senior Hockey League.

The Rangers led 1-0 in the first period on a goal by Leo Fex from Bruce Darling and Gary Benedit but dropped behind in the second by 2-1 off goals by Earl Cairns and Tom Krosney.

Bruce Darling's goal at 13:50 from Dave MacInnis made it 2-2 but the Comets came right back to take the lead again courtesy of Calvin George. But the third period belonged to the new-spirit Rangers as they rapped home four unanswered goals to win going away.

It was Ian Sclater from Ike McKnight at 6:25; Leo Fex from Dave MacInnis at 6:55; and Gary Durie from McKnight and Benedet at 11:45.

Willowdale's last goal was on an empty net with McKnight scoring from Dave McInnis.

Lake AC moved into a 3-1 lead against the Shultons on goals by Ken Astill, Phil Nicholas, and Jack Address in the first period. Ernie Dubkowski managed a goal for Toronto in that same period.

A second goal by Jack Address made it 4-1 and a final one by Raino wrapped it up.
