St. Matthew's Church Congregation
Reduced Debt By $7,000 In 1968

Congregational contributions to the budget of St. Matthew's United Church, Richmond Hill East, during 1968 reached $24,000. Treasurer Cliff Plume reported to the annual meeting held January 27. This was an increase of $1,100 over 1967. He also reported a reduction by $7,000 of the congregation's capital indebtedness.

Seventy-five persons sat down to a delicious buffet dinner served by the M.G.I.T. under the direction of Mrs. Ron Joyce, girls' work superintendent. The dinner was followed by a hilarious fashion show in which several men of the congregation modelled the latest in women's fashions, while June Crowe presented a lively commentary.

Annual reports were received and the official board for 1969 was elected at the meeting, chaired by Rev. James Burn with Les Justice as secretary.

Wants Welfare Administration Back

Ward 3 councillor Eldred King asked if anyone else had applied for their own welfare back.

"There has to be a leader in every group," replied Mr. Roman.

Reeve Rumble suggested that under the county welfare set-up, grants were supposed to increase, but Mr. Crisp said this was not the case.

Meanwhile, in Richmond Hill, costs will also increase considerably with the new administration.

According to the figures contained in the report, Richmond Hill's net expense in 1967 was $6,061, and if apportioned for that year, would jump to $25,308.32.

Vaughan Township Clerk Ted Jackman said the possibility of that community asking to have its own welfare back "has not been discussed", and he has "heard nothing on the subject".

"This business with Markham Township may spark something and it may not," he said.

Vaughan's net expense in 1967 was $13,441, and under the speculative figures would increase to $28,900.70 in that year, and drop slightly to $28,361.84 in 1968.

Other municipalities who could expect to pay more include the Township of Georgina, the Town of Markham, Stouffville and Woodbridge.

Welfare costs would be cut in Aurora, the Township of East Gwillimbury, King Township, Newmarket, North Gwillimbury Township, Sutton and the Township of Whitchurch.

For example, in Whitchurch Township, where net expenses amounted to $32,333 in 1967, the apportioned percentage of the county levy would drop the costs to $9,178.53. In 1968, it would drop again to $9,088-72.

The reports indicated an active year of worship, service and fellowship.

The following new committee chairmen were elected: Crant Marshall, administration and worship; Bryan Buchan, Christian education; George Harwood, stewardship and finance; Dave Millen, property.

Harold Ring was re-elected chairman of the mission committee. New official board members are Foster Rowntree, Bill Evans, Mrs. Eileen Powell, Jack Smith, Tom Beattie, Orval MaGee and Glen Philip.

The congregation has 452 resident members and 43 non-resident members. During 1968 there were 36 baptisms of children and two of adults, 21 marriages and 18 burials. $1,950.32 was contributed to the missionary and maintenance fund. The estimated budget for 1969 was accepted in the amount of $26,000.

Remand Two Youths On Marijuana Counts

Two Richmond Hill long haired youths appeared in Richmond Hill Provincial Court on charges of possession of marijuana, January 27, Phillip Queen 17, of 182 Romac Court, and James Olsen, 17, of 143 Centre Street West were released on bail until March 10 to set a date for trial.

The two youths were arrested at their homes early Sunday morning, January 26, by Richmond Hill Police.

Late Wallace McCutcheon
Sympathy of the community is expressed to Mrs. Malcolm Wallace McCutcheon and family in the sudden passing of her husband, Wallace McCutcheon, January 23. He had suffered a stroke Thursday morning and was rushed to Toronto General Hospital where he died later that day.

Surviving are his wife, the former Eva Bonland and five children: James, Susan (Mrs. Julian Porter), Frederic, Douglas and Barbara and nine grandchildren.

Funeral service was held Monday afternoon at 2:30 in Convocation Hall, University of Toronto.

Late Mrs. E. C. Flewelling
Sympathy of the residents is extended to Rev. E. C. Flewelling and family in the death of his wife January 23 in York County Hospital, Newmarket. She is survived by her husband and five children, Harold, Barry, Betty (Mrs. Peter Wasser), Weldon and Carl, all of Pennsylvania. One sister, Miss Bessie Milne of Pennsylvania and two brothers, Earl of Toronto and James of Buffalo also survive.

Mrs. Flewelling had been in poor health for many months and was critically ill at her home for several weeks. An ambulance rushed her to hospital the night preceding her death.

The funeral service Sunday at Heise Hill Church was conducted by Bishop Roy Sider of Sherston with Bishop E. J. Swalm of Duntroon preaching. The Bridewell Male Quartette sang.

The service was largely attended, paying silent tribute to the fine Christian life lived by the late Mrs. Flewelling.

Neighborhood Notes
Rev. H. S. Hallman and Mrs. Hallman and Mr. and Mrs. John Byer of Goodwood were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawkins and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brillinger attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Herbert Reid, the former Della Lehman, in Toronto, Tuesday. Her husband had been a well known butcher in Markham for years.

Harry Kruse, who was a resident in the community for many years, is a patient in hospital at Parry Sound.

William Hall is making satisfactory progress in York Central Hospital, Richmond Hill. His abdominal operation has healed, but his left leg is still in a cast from his toes to his thigh and his right leg is in traction. Mr. Hall will be confined to hospital for several weeks and if friends send cards to him it would help pass the time. He is in Room 207.

Misses Freda, Blanche and Ruth Henderson were dinner guests Monday of Misses Beula and Mabel Graham in Toronto.

Little Patrick Ash of Sharon spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Ash.

A number from the community attended the funeral of John Heise, Monday afternoon at the Marshall Funeral Home with interment at Heise Hill Cemetery. Mr. Heise, who was in his 90th year, died as a result of injuries received when he was hit by a car in Toronto Wednesday evening. His father, the late Henry Heise, built the house in which John Wright now resides in New Gormley. The family at one time lived on the farm now owned by Harold Heise.

Several inquiries have been received concerning the little book, entitled "Folk Medicine", which has been left in mail boxes in the area. These books were donated to residents by the Arthur Latham Foundation of Stouffville.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Neil have moved recently to the house vacated a short time ago by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coles.

Ladies of the sewing circle of the Missionary Church entertained the people with January birthdays at Parkview Home, Stouffville, Wednesday afternoon of last week.

The junior sewing circle of Heise Hill Church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Vanderbent.

Bishop Roy Sider spoke at the morning and evening service Sunday at Heise Hill Church.

Bishop E. J. Swalm of Duntroon will be the guest speaker at Heise Hill February 2.

Pioneer girls and their leaders will be in charge of the Sunday evening service at 7:30 pm this Sunday at Heise Hill Church.

The Christ Crusaders will hold their annual banquet February 8 at Heise Hill and will be in charge of the Sunday service February 9.

The monthly missionary prayer service was held Wednesday evening at the Missionary Church in the fellowship hall.

Andrew Jones will be guest speaker Friday evening at 8 at the Missionary Church. His subject will be "Christian Conduct."

Let's All Be Winter Carnival Boosters

The 15 princesses will be going to dinner with Richmond Hill Rotary Club February 3 and the Snow Queen will be chosen February 7, with Toronto Maple Leaf rookie Defenceman Pat Quinn as one of the judges.

The secondary schools are also working on some year-out categories of skating during the evening.

Snowmobiles will do their own thing on the Polish Park Saturday afternoon, and there will be hockey and broom ball games to fill out the program.

Hot refreshments will be available at all times and shelter from the elements will be available in the park building across Mill Street from the pond.

Sounds too good to miss — and the volunteer committee, headed by Shaun Beggs, promise us that if this year's two-day carnival is successful, next year's will be bigger and better with the ultimate aim of making it a week-long event.

Their only means of raising money to offset expenses is from the sale of the booster buttons. Get yours today.

Richmond Hill Seventh Day Adventists set a new high in giving during 1968, it was reported at the church's annual meeting held recently.

They gave an average of more than $400 each, with strong emphasis on missions with a missions feature presented each week during the Sabbath school hour.

Seventh Day Adventists in North America gave an average of $340.42 per member to support the work of their church around the world. Practicing tithing, local Adventists last year gave in tithes alone $26,000, an increase of $10,000 over 1966.

Also among the new highs in what Pastor Walter Mercer has termed "progress for Christ" was the welfare services branch of the local church which gave assistance to 115 people in the area last year, including 775 items of clothing, a large number of food hampers, cheer baskets, toys, etc., working in cooperation with the local welfare officers. Members volunteered over 500 hours for this work.

Church membership increased by 23 adults and a large number of children were added to the Sabbath school rolls. Membership of the church now totals 114, with another 40 too young for baptism into church membership. The basic minimum age for baptism in the Adventist church is 12 years.

Pastor Mercer has set new heights for lay activities in 1969. Among the projects is one aimed at reaching those in the community who do not attend church. It is hoped a series of evangelistic services will be held in the area later in the year.

The pastor announced that the church building, 80 Elgin Mills Road West, will be dedicated free of debt May 24, with Pastor J. William Bothe, president of the church in Canada, officiating.

AURORA: Somewhat gingerly, council has agreed to provide the press with a copy of committee reports at the same time they go to council members. Newsmen will also be permitted to attend hitherto-closed committee discussions on a trial basis at the "discretion of the chairman".

Mrs. Delbert Baker spoke on Canadian artist Robert Clarke of Toronto. Mr. Clarke who is 88, paints pictures with stamps. Mrs. George Boynton spoke of Charles Hoover, the senator of Markham Township and read the history of Russell Heise's Century farm.

The draw for the WI Centennial quilt was won by Harold Agg of 12 Hillside Drive, Richmond Hill.
