A cartoon will also be shown. Admission will be 25c for children, 50c for adults and the location is Roselawn School, Carrville Road.
The ninth annual Hobby Show of the district Scouts and Cubs, held Saturday last at Bayview Secondary School was most successful. Judges, chosen from various fields, began their difficult task at 9:30 am and were through at 12:30 pm. A great many parents and adults spent hours poring over the boy's exhibits, which were of high quality. Troops and Cub packs from Thornhill came out on top. However, all entrants deserve commendation for their fine efforts, which were certainly worth seeing.

CBA Standing for Campaign for Better Advertising. Behind this name is a group which originated in Emmanuel Anglican Church but has since spread to other churches in the area and to other interested groups. The objective of the organization is to obtain a higher standard in television commercials, and less violent movies and novels than are now being submitted to the public. One question being asked of people by the group is "How many hours of violence entertainment has your child had this week?" The next meeting of the CBA will be held Thursday (tonight) at 8 pm, in the education wing of Thornhill Presbyterian Church. As previously mentioned, the group's first attack will be on television commercials, in order to have some voice in the content of these. You are asked to discuss this matter with your particular group, club, etc. and to have a representative present at the meeting, if at all possible.
