Gallant Prince Rescued Beautiful Maiden

One hundred and fifty students of grades 5 and 6 of Beverley Acres Public School were involved in the presentation of a Japanese operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum", which drew packed houses on two nights earlier this month. The excellent production was under the direction of Graham Schantz who was assisted by other members of the teaching staff; and was the result of two months of concentrated rehearsals.

The story of the beautiful princess who was rescued from the Cave of Inky Night by her handsome suitor, in spite of a wizard, his cat and an evil prince, was delightfully developed by the lead characters pictured above who were assisted by fairies, sprites, attendants, courtiers, dancers and singers.

Students Walk For Homeless Men

Eleven grade 8 pupils from St. Mary Immaculate Separate School in Richmond Hill raised $213.80 in a walkathon from St. Mary Immaculate Roman Catholic Church to Toronto City Hall on April 26.

The two who raised the most money from sponsors, Mike Martin and Judy Grabarchuk, were chosen to present the money to Brother Columban, head of the Good Shepherd Refuge in downtown Toronto.

The refuge provides meals and shelter to homeless men, and Brother Columban came to Richmond Hill for the presentation of the cheque on May 13 at the school.

Social Planners Meet Tonight—Public Invited

A social planner with experience in Toronto and Montreal will be the speaker tonight (Thursday) at the annual meeting of Richmond Hill and District Social Planning Council.

Area consultant for the North York area of the Metro Social Planning Council, John Burke has had considerable experience in social development and inter-group work in his native Montreal.

The Richmond Hill and District Social Planning Council under the chairmanship of Rev. James Burn recently adopted a constitution and is hoping to enlist in its membership individuals and groups who are concerned for the people and their life in this area.

In the past year the council has been instrumental in promoting a day-care centre and helpline service in the community. Both will be operating in September.

Other committees of the council are investigating the establishment of a United Appeal and a Drop-in Youth Centre in the area.

The public is invited to the meeting at 8:15 p.m. tonight in Wrixon Hall, St. Mary's Anglican Church, Yonge Street.

Psychological Services

York County Board of Education has approved the appointment of Dr. Jason McCallum as director of psychological services for county schools.

Dr. McCallum served previously as director of psychological services for the area public and high school boards of Markham and Vaughan Townships, the Towns of Richmond Hill and Markham, and separate schools in Southern York County.

The board approved a starting salary of $16,500 for this position, with annual increases to a maximum of $19,500.

At its regular meeting May 12, the board also approved appointments of four special education consultants: Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Mary Scott, Mrs. Marjorie Boggs and Mrs. Mary Hodson.

These four women have all been working in special education in York County schools, working with children who have learning problems; slow learners, those who need speech therapy or remedial reading, psychological assistance, and even the very bright ones who need a challenge beyond that of the average student.

A native of West Gwillimbury, Miss Wilson has served for seven years with Aurora Public School Board. She took her BA extra-murally and holds a supervisors certificate from the Department of Education.

Mrs. Scott has a specialist certificate in special education, and is close to completing her BA course. She was with King TSA as special education supervisor since its inception in 1965. Prior to that she served as itinerant remedial consultant in special education for schools in King City, and the school boards of Kinghorn, Strang and Temperanceville.

A native of Ireland, Mrs. Boggs took her bachelor of commerce degree at Queen's University, Belfast. Her husband is a Presbyterian minister in Weston, and she had raised four children before she enrolled at Lakeshore Teachers' College in 1960.

She was appointed itinerant remedial reading teacher to Vaughan Township public schools in 1962. With a specialist's certificate in special education, Mrs. Boggs has been working with children with reading and speech problems.

Holder of a bachelor of arts and a master of education degree, Mrs. Hodson has been working with Dr. McCallum in the psychological services division of the York South Regional Educational Committee.

Holder of a specialist's certificate from the Department of Education, Mrs. Hodson has for the past two years been serving as a remedial diagnostic consultant, diagnosing academic problems of students and recommending special programs for the children with these problems.

Mrs. Hodson will be with the special education department of Scarboro Board of Education from 1957 to 1966. This past winter she took a course in the diagnostic and corrective teaching of reading and presented by the department and sponsored by Scarboro Board of Education.

This summer, for the third time, Mrs. Hodson will instruct a summer school course in special education.

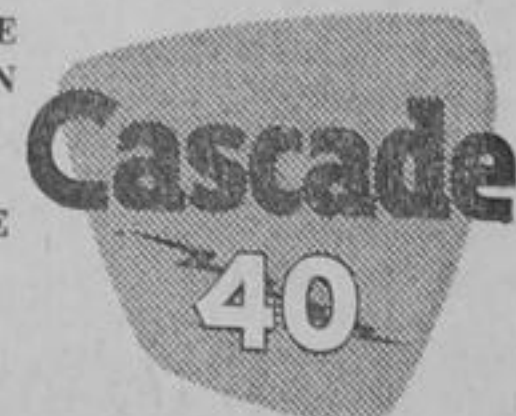

DR. JASON McCALLUM
