1970 Antique Plates For Old Trucks, Buses

If you own a 1933 La France Fire Engine or a 1929 model "A" pickup truck, the Ontario Department of Transport has good news for you.
The department has decided to sell special historical license plates to owners of commercial vehicles built before 1940.
Last spring, special plates were issued for antique or classic vehicles at least 30 years old and basically unchanged from the original product. But commercial vehicles were not included.
Now, the special plates - at $10 each - are available for qualifying trucks, truck tractors, fire apparatus, buses and ambulances. The plates can be purchased at Queen's Park.
Last year, 280 historical plates were issued.

Ski Tows, Winter Camps At Metro Area Parks

Skiers in the Metro region take note! The Metro Conservation Authority has two ski tows in operation this year - one at the Albion Hills Conservation Area five miles north of Bolton on Highway 50 and a new one at the Boyd Area, just north of Woodbridge, on the Woodbridge-Kleinburg Road.
Both of these areas have fair-sized slopes for skiing enthusiasts, and the rope tows in both areas operate on weekends and holidays from 10 am until sundown when weather conditions permit.
The authority has opened eight of its areas for winter sports activities for the public and the following is a brief rundown of the respective areas and the facilities available:
ALBION HILLS - Skiing for all classes, sledding, tobogganing, skating, snowmobile trails, group camping by permit, nature trail, picnic facilities, refreshment stand, heated shelter.
BLACK CREEK - Site of the famed Pioneer Village, located at Jane Street and Steeles Avenue - horse-drawn sleigh rides, on week-ends. Skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing on small hills, skating on Saturday and Sundays only. Heated shelter, refreshment facilities, picnic tables and barbecues.
BOYD - Skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing on medium hills, nature trails, group camping by permit, refreshment facilities, picnic tables and barbecues.

BRUCE'S MILL - Two miles east of Don Mills Road on the Gormley-Stouffville Road - skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing on small hills, shooting and rifle range, electric trap, club house by permit, picnic tables and barbecues, group camping by permit, and snowmobile trails.
GREENWOOD - Located three miles north of Highway 2 on the Greenwood Road - skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing, skating, nature trail, picnic tables and barbecues, group camping by permit and snowmobile trails.
CLAIREVILLE - On Highway 7 at Concession 8 of Toronto-Gore Township - snowmobile trails, sledding, skating, hiking, refreshment facilities, picnic tables, group camping by permit.

COLD CREEK - Between Bolton and Nobleton, two miles north of the King Side- road on Concession 10 of King Township - skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing, shooting and rifle range, electric trap, club house by permit, picnic tables and barbecues, group camping by permit, and snowmobile trails.
HEART LAKE - Five miles north of Highway 7 at east limits of Brampton - skiing for children and beginners, sledding and tobogganing on medium hills, skating, heated shelter, refreshment facilities, picnic tables and barbecues, nature trail, group camping by permit.
The authority invites the public to make use of these facilities in the conservation areas during the winter months. Winter picnicking in the areas is also catching on as a popular family pastime.
Further information on the areas and prevailing weather conditions may be obtained by telephoning the authority offices at 889-5425.

seniors, juniors and recruits. Sargeant Brian Snowdon, Corporal Leonard Allan and Corporal Alan Docherty, in that order, are the flight commanders. Flight Sergeant John Mills and Flight Sergeant Frank Jedicsek rotate each week in running the regular activities of the squadron.
The cadets are selling Tread-Spread to the public at $1. Proceeds will be used for flying time, beginning in January.

778 Squadron Air Cadets

By Flt. Sgt. Frank Jedicsek
778 Squadron Air Cadets formed up December 18 for a CO's inspection. Brass was shining, hair cut and shoes polished to his satisfaction - a good parade.
The cadets then viewed a film on war and enjoyed their Christmas Party with lots of hot dogs and pop. This was the time most enjoyed by all cadets.
At the moment, the squadron is divided into three flights - will be able to dispel the superstition that is so prevalent today.

In 1964, Red Garner, then coach of the Richmond Hill Blue Liners, deplored the lack of ethics in hockey.
"We all know that hockey is no game for a sissy and certainly demands an amount of robust bodily contact but it doesn't have to be dirty. I blame the coaching staff. Boys only do what the coaches tell them to do."
Hugh Martin, the music man from Vaughan Township, actually a longtime supervisor of music in the area, declared, "Music is a tonic, music is a mental discipline, music helps to co-ordinate an untidy mind and an unsteady body. It builds physical and mental health."
James Ryan, canine control officer in 1965 said, "The fastest way to get your pet disliked is to allow it to trespass on neighborhood property and destroy gardens."
Constable James Nugent, safety officer for Vaughan Township in 1966 was urging school children to be safety conscious. "Walk on the correct side facing traffic; do not play on the roadway; do not walk from behind or between parked cars; please do not ride double on a bicycle; be sure to cross at the proper corners, and walk . . . don't run."
In 1967, Mrs. Mae Stephenson, retired school teacher and wife of Norman Stephenson of Richmond Hill, said:
"Young people who are really thinking today are turning away from teaching methods entirely based on outside impartation and alien indoctrination. They are beginning to realize that their true life is within them. What they need is proper guidance and research to develop their natural abilities. It is the proper function of the teacher to be the guide and catalyst for the inquiring mind."
In 1968, Fire Chief James Davidson of Vaughan Township urged citizens to play it safe. "The prevention of fires at home needs a commonsense approach," he said.
"The craze for do-it-yourself can create problems especially when it involves wiring. To fool around with construction when you don't know much about it is only asking for trouble. It could cost you your life."
In 1969, David Iverson, Thornhill, graduated from Emmanuel College. He is now Rev. David Iverson with a pastorate at Harris, Saskatchewan. In his first sermon as guest speaker in Thornhill United Church, he delivered this timeless message.
"Look beyond the materialism and costly trappings that threaten to engulf the modern church, which may blind you to the reality of the true mission of the church. This is, as always, to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, house the poor, comfort the sad and preach the gospel."

In The Spotlight

has nevertheless benefited by the encouragement of none other than Thoreau MacDonald, which says a great deal for the talent of this young man.
Already he has had two books of drawings published by D-M Press Ltd. of Toronto. A limited printing of each was produced this summer, and both are records of buildings of historical interest in this area. "Around Thornhill" and "Churches and Schoolhouses" contain studies in Indian ink which should bring a nostalgic pleasure to those who remember Thornhill in former and gentler times, and will be of great interest to newcomers who are witnessing the rapid annexation of our once northern outposts by Metro. Some of the schoolhouses shown include the original Thornhill School, the Richmond Hill schoolhouse, and the German Mills school.
A third book, on which the artist is still at work, features buildings, many of which have already disappeared or are in a state of decay. In order to produce these records, Michael has had to study photographs in cases where buildings no longer exist.
Pen and ink is not the only medium in which this artist works. He has two tempera paintings on show at the Framing Gallery on Bay Street. One is a view of the porch of Thoreau MacDonald's home in Thornhill, and another of an old farmhouse on Yonge Street, which, as Michael adds sadly, may not be there much longer. A third painting, in the process of completion, is an interior of Mr. MacDonald's house.
With his deep respect for the past, it is not surprising that Michael plans to major in history at the University of Toronto, where his father, Dr. French, is a lecturer on aerodynamics. While his artistic talent may have been inherited from his grandfather, J. E. French, who was for many years a commercial artist, it is possibly his contact with his father's particular field of science which is responsible for Michael's interest in flying, into which he has already put many hours of training.
Such versatility and purpose deserves both recognition and success, so good luck, Michael.

Town Council Grants $10 J. Howard Society
As Richmond Hill 1969 Council wound up its business December 29, it approved two grants.
The first in the amount of $10 went to the John Howard Society.
The second, for $75, went to the Air Force Cadet Band in recognition of its participation in the town's Remembrance Day ceremonies. It is understood the money will be used by the band to purchase a drum.
