SHUR-GAIN DAIRY SILASUPPLEMENT.

The feed that is helping to change the outlook of the countryside.

Count the number of silos in your community that were not there ten or five years ago. They symbolize the growing popularity of corn as the major source of feed in dairy operations.

Shur-Gain were leaders in this trend by developing Silasupplement, to supplement silage with the additional nutrients needed for optimum milk production and body weight maintenance.

Let us tell you more about Shur-Gain Silasupplement, the feed that has changed the outlook for dairymen and the look of your countryside.
