Auxiliary To Aid In Town Festival Expands New Executive Committee

The Unionville Festival in June is gaining new supporters — the latest is the Union Villa Auxiliary which will co-operate with the Unionville Conservation and Development Association in its aim to preserve the character and dignity of Old Main Street.

At a meeting of the auxiliary this month, Mrs. Mary Neal of the association spoke of festival plans, and Mrs. Trudy Creamer agreed to represent the auxiliary on the festival planning committee.

With Union Villa Home for the Aged now under construction, the auxiliary has revamped plans for executive operations and expanded its numbers.

The flu bug had hit the executive, and Mrs. Margaret Simmons was in the chair, with Mrs. Lois Jacobs acting as secretary.

The slate presented by Mrs. Simmons will hold office until June 1971, then will work with the new executive through the summer, handing over the reins in September, 1971.

Officers are: Past President Mrs. Bernie Bradley, President Mrs. Beryl Lunney, Vice-Presidents Mrs. Margaret Simmons, Mrs. Doris Lapp, Mrs. Eileen Hill and Mrs. Dorothy Dyer, Secretary Mrs. Mary Scott, Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Lois Jacobs, Social Secretary Mrs. Trudy Creamer and Treasurer Mrs. Jean Harper.

Directors are: Social Convener Mrs. Eileen Hill, Publicity Mrs. Doris Lapp, Membership Mrs. Dorothy Dyer, Telephone Committee Mrs. Carol Ziegler, Stenographic Pool Mrs. Connie Taylor, Gift and Tuck Shop Mrs. Marion Dahl-Jensen, Rummage and Action Mrs. June Archibald, Nursing Representative Mrs. Mary Stiver and Volunteer Service Mrs. Dorothy Dowse.

Mrs. Jean Harper reported $3,360.75 in the treasury.

Mrs. Creamer announced tickets for the spring dance of Beta Sigma Phi, Chapter Epsilon XI, are on sale. The dance will be in Crosby Arena, Unionville on March 14, and proceeds from the dance will go to Union Villa. The sorority is also selling cookbooks to aid the Villa. The books and dance tickets are available from Mrs. Creamer, 297-2218.

Metro Police Band has offered to give a concert to aid the Villa, but it has to find a place to perform. Mrs. Creamer is looking after arrangements for this event. She lives at 7 Rycroft Drive, Unionville.

The auxiliary members were asked to co-operate in the publicity area. Mrs. Lapp has started a scrapbook of press clippings, and has asked for contribution of poems, mottoes, snapshots and news of special efforts made on behalf of the Villa which might add interest to press releases. These should be passed on to Mrs. Lapp, 294-2326.

Membership in the auxiliary is to be yearly from the date membership fees are paid, and the cost is $2 a person, whether members are active participants or not. Mrs. Dyer is in charge of this department.

More volunteers are needed, particularly for the hairdressing salon and library which will be staffed exclusively by volunteers. People with talents or experience in these areas are asked to contact Mrs. Dowse at 297-1362.

The telephone committee is also in need of more volunteers, and convener, Mrs. Ziegler, 297-2370, suggested this is an area in which housebound members or volunteers may be of real assistance.

The stenographic pool is also looking for people to help out the temporary office at Kennedy Clinic, Unionville. Mrs. Connie Taylor, 297-2125, is in charge.

Those who aid in the early stages of getting the Villa in operation will have their names preserved for posterity. Mrs. Lunney and Mrs. Simmons are helping the board of directors in compiling an honor roll of names of those who have contributed in any way, however modest.

The meeting was told that two directorships in the auxiliary are yet unfilled: arts and crafts and teen-age volunteer services. Mrs. Lunney and Mrs. Simmons are looking for people who will be responsible for organizing these committees.

Mrs. Dahl-Jensen recently visited the gift and tuck shop at Baycrest Home for the Aged in North York, and reported their gift shop is a rich source of ideas, and that the Baycrest auxiliary has offered its help in setting up the Union Villa Counterpart. She thanked Mrs. Carol Johnson for donation of a greeting card display case and asked for more volunteers for this committee. Call Mrs. Dahl-Jensen at 887-5465.

The bride was beautiful in traditional white with long veil and train, and her attendants wore long red velvet gowns with white fur circlets in their hair and carried flower decked fur muffs. And there was music by the junior and senior choirs.

It was an especially significant occasion for the groom's parents, Joe and Helen Robinson, who were celebrating their own wedding anniversary.

DEATH OF POST OFFICE EFFICIENCY FEB. 17-69 — — FEB 17-70

The Letter Carriers of Canada wish to convey to the Public, our deepest sympathy while they wait in frustration for mail they know should have arrived.

On February 17, 1969, a system called Single Mail Processing was instituted in the Canada Post Office. This system was imposed full-blown by the Minister to cut costs. In spite of this, figures recently published representing Government estimates show that the Post Office will again operate at a deficit of close to 69 million dollars for 1970-71. This is only a 1 million dollar saving from the forecast figure, when in fact the Minister had envisaged a saving of 10 million dollars from his new system. The system was to expedite the delivery of mail and improve the working conditions, but instead has caused a marked deterioration in service, employee morale, and has proved to be generally inefficient.

Times for picking mail up at street collection boxes have been changed to comply with an inefficient system, resulting in letters laying in the red boxes for a longer period.

Special Delivery items are not receiving the service which you paid extra for in many instances.

The savings obtained by the elimination of Saturday delivery were to have been passed on to you in a better 5-day service.

The Letter Carriers' Union of Canada mourns with you, the Public, the deterioration of the postal service. Letter Carriers feel a need to supply an efficient service, and believe it is possible with proper operational methods. We will continue the fight to restore to you, the Public, an efficient and speedy service.

We also ask you, the Taxpayer, to contact your M.P. in an effort to have YOUR dissatisfaction voiced in the House. Let us collectively bring back to the people of Canada, the efficient postal service to which they are entitled.
